

It costs about a million dollars to refine an average blast furnace a job that must be done every few years.

Foreign-made steel products entered the United States at a rate of about 10 tons per minute during 1963.

The largest annual American production of steel was in 1955, when 117 million tons was poured.

Twenty-one of the 85 American companies which now make steel ingots, have begun pouring ray steel since World War II.

Floor Cleaning Hints Given

For easier floor care, you will want to make the complete wax job last as long as possible. The wax coat protects the floor beneath it so choose cleaning methods with this in mind.

Mrs. Edith McGlamery, house and house furnishing specialist for the Agricultural Extension Service at N. C. State, says that sweeping floors scatters dust and dirt into the air although some heavy pieces of lint are picked up.

Sweeping often scratches the wax. So Mrs. McGlamery suggests that the vacuum cleaner is most efficient for sweeping, since it removes the dirt completely.

"Dry mopping is effective with any type of wax and removes dust as well as doing some polishing," adds Mrs. McGlamery. "Never use a mop that has been treated with oil as oil softens the wax. The oil gives the floor a dull appearance and leaves a film that traps the dirt. It may make the floor slick and hazardous to walk on."

Damp sweeping may be used on the water base waxed floors. This is done by placing a damp cloth under a long-handled brush and pushing it over the floor in one direction. You may also damp sweep with a slightly moistened sponge mop. By this process, you can remove the fine dirt and dust that cannot be swept up dry. Never damp sweep a solvent base wax.

"Floors on which water-base wax has been used may be washed. Make a light suds with a mild soap or detergent or with a commercial floor cleaner. Use lukewarm water and wash the floor surface with a mop, rubbing only as hard as needed to remove the dirt. Use as little water as possible. Rinse with clear, cool water and wipe the surface dry. Use two pills and wash only a small area at a time so water will not be left standing on surface."

Mrs. McGlamery cautions that linoleum and other floor coverings are quickly ruined by harsh detergents too much water, and too hard scrubbing. The pitting which results makes the floor care problem more difficult.

Floors on which paste wax or solvent base liquid wax have been used may be cleaned with solvent base liquid wax have floor cleaner.

Wiping up spills as soon as they occur postpones the harder cleaning jobs. A spill on the floor is hazardous. For safety's sake, wipe it up immediately.

Heel marks on floors which will take a solvent base may be removed with a liquid wax of that type. Place a small amount of wax on a cloth and wipe the spot. No. 000 steel wool is used to remove spots on asphalt tile, rubber tile, vinyl asbestos tile. Solvent wax will damage the floors.
