Mrs. Jones Party Honoree

Mrs. Billie Jones was honored by Mrs. A. J. Slater and Mrs. E. R. Gater at a miscellaneous show last Thursday evening at the Slater home on Fulton road. Mrs. Jones is the former Miss Ann Broadwater. The hostesses presented the honoree with a corsage of yellow rosebuds and stasys mums and a pair of brass candlesticks. A color note of yellow, white, and green was carried out in the decorations. Chicken salad pastries, punch, and other finger party foods were placed on a lace covered table. Gifts were placed under a lace covered umbrella.

McKee Hosts Bachelor Dinner

T. C. McKee was host Thursday night at Quality Court Restaurant at a bachelor supper honoring his son Michael McKee, whose wedding to Miss Gale Kircus took place Saturday in First Presbyterian church.

Those present included groomsmen Jerry Patterson, Billy Jones and J. D. Bridges. Clifford Kircus, Jr., of Huntsville, Alabama and Dean Spearman of Daytona Beach, Fla. were unable to attend.

The prospective bridegroom took the occasion to present bill-folds to men of the wedding party.

Pair Honored At Cook-Out

Miss Gale Kircus and Michael McKee were honor guests last Tuesday night at a cook-out given by Mr. McKee's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bridges, at their home on Linwood road.

A hamburger supper was served at small tables arranged on the back lawn of the home. The tables were made festive with bowls of pink flowers and white candles. A miniature bride and groom, white streamers and pink bows marked the places of the engaged pair.

Games and recorded music provided the evening's entertainment.

Mrs. Margaret Bridges and Mrs. T. C. McKee assisted the hosts in serving homemade ice cream and cookies to the 30 guests who were members of the two families and wedding party.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Lee and daughter Jan are here for a few days visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bridges and Mr. and Mrs. T. C. McKee. The Lees flew from Birmingham, Ala. Saturday to attend the Kircus-McKee wedding.

Mrs. Nelle Hollingsworth and Mrs. I. W. Ledford have returned from New Orleans, La., where they attended graduation exercises at Tulane University. Mrs. Ledford's son, Edward, received his master's in social work and remained in New Orleans to work at the Civic Center.

Couple Honored After Rehearsal

Mrs. Clifford Kircus, Sr. and Mrs. C. W. Jones entertained in the recreation hall of the First Presbyterian church at a cake cutting following the Kircus-McKee wedding rehearsal Friday evening.

The bride elect and prospective bridegroom cut their wedding cake as highlight of the affair attended by members of the two families and the wedding party.

A color note of yellow, green, and white provided a decorative color note throughout the recreation hall.

The table was overlaid with white linen over green with ivy, yellow streamers and white wedding bells draping the table. The three-tier cake was the focal point of decoration. A large basket of white mums was used on the mantel, and white and yellow snapdragons were used throughout the hall.

Mrs. George Stroupe presided at the punch bowl. Miss Ethel Kircus, aunt of the bride from Huntsville Ala., cut and served the cake. Others assisting in serving were Mrs. Lean Spearman of Daytona Beach, Fla. and Miss Frankie Hamrick of Kings Mountain.
