(Bob) Scott, of Haw River, Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor of North Carolina. In his first campaign appearance since winning the nomination, Mr. Scott said he "is committed to maintaining the tradition of sound government in North Carolina." Reiterating what he stressed throughout the primary, Scott said the lieutenant governorship is a much more important post than many persons realize. He said, "I know of no reason why Democratic governor-elect Dan K. Moore and myself cannot work together. It must be done and cooperation is needed to keep our state moving."

Mr. Moore, beginning a second year in August as chairman of the Red Cross blood program in Grover and Kings Mountain areas, noted that the bloodmobile will return to Kings Mountain for one of six scheduled visits during 1964-65 on Monday, August 3. Donors will be processed, Mr. Moore noted, from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. at the National Guard Armory and quota for the six visits is 852 pints of blood. Last year's total, which was surpassed, was a goal of 888 pints in seven visits during the year.

the county and out of the state for approximately one-third of my time. Quite obviously this will interfere with my ability to attend meetings of the board of commissioners and my ability to perform my duties as a commissioner."

Appointment to the county commission is Simmons' first time in public office. A native of Cleveland County, he has taught school in Cleveland and Rutherford Counties all his life, serving 10 years as principal of Mooresboro school. He retired from teaching in 1962.

Elliott, who operates J. D. Elliott Sons Gin, Inc., was elected to the District 5 seat in November, 1962 without opposition. In announcing the appointment of Simmons, Mr. Osborne said, "I am taking into consideration Mr. Simmons' records as a student at Bowling Springs, now Gardner Webb college, his outstanding record as a student at Wake Forest college, his interest and experience in the educational affairs of our county, his record and concern with the youth of Cleveland County as evidenced by his records of many years in American Legion Junior Baseball, his interest in farming activities and his record as a Christian gentleman."

"I feel that as a member of the Board of county commissioners, he will fill this very important office in the affairs of the county ably and efficiently," Osborne's statement added.

A former professional baseball player, Simmons, 65, coached Shelby American Legion Junior Baseball teams to four state championships and one national title. In 1958, he was honored by the Hot Stove League in Raleigh as the person contributing the most that year to baseball in North Carolina. Former major league star Ted Williams presented the award. Simmons, his wife and 10-year-old son live on route two, Mooresboro. They are members of Mt. Pleasant Baptist church. Elliott, 46, lives with his wife and two children in the Sharon church-Poplar Springs community. His wife is the former Sarah Mae Falls. The family attend Poplar Springs Baptist church. Simmons' term will expire in 1966.

zens Dr. Blake McWhirter, Ray Lloyd and Clarence Morrison. Commissioner Hugh Dover said principal complaints from citizens include the ideas that commissioners are dictating who can pick up garbage, that the price of the service is too high, and that the collection of garbage should be put on a "free enterprise" system rather than a permit system.

Commissioner David Beam said that the board should make citizens aware that property owners have the privilege of using the garbage service or not using the service, and that variations from the $2-a-month minimum price are purely for the property owner to work out with the garbage collector.

Commissioner Ralph Elliott said that citizens also need not purchase new 32-gallon cans to replace the oil drums they presently are using. The oil drums may be used, he said, until they wear out. When they're replaced, he said, 32-gallon cans should be purchased as suggested by the ordinance. Catawba County has a similar ordinance.

Mansfield Firm Low Bidder

The John Mansfield Company of Atlanta, Ga., was low bidder at $3.10 a foot last Thursday for 5,500 feet of asbestos cement water pipe to be used by the city.

Bids were opened at 10 a.m. at City Hall and the Mansfield firm was declared low bidder and recipient of the contract.

This pipe will be used to install water line to the new "K" Mills firm being erected just inside the city on Floyd street.

Baptist Youth To Assemble

Thirteen young people from the Kings Mountain Baptist church are attending the North Carolina Baptist Assembly at Caswell to be held July 20-25 in Southport, N. C.

The Juniors and Intermediates were accompanied by two counselors, Rev. Marion DuBose and Thomas Boheler.

Those attending for the special study during Training Union Week were: Susan Cash, Ann Owens, Mary Joe Hord, Patsy Harward, Rebecca Hill, Dana Franklin, Jimmy Stoll, James DuBose, Scott Kelly, David Hord, Charles Reed, Mae Gaffney, and Gray Benton.

Drivers Charged Following Wreck

Two men were charged following a two-car collision on Cleveland Avenue Saturday night at 7:35 P.M.

James Robert White, 21, of 117 Linden Street, Clover, S. C., was charged with improper passing following the accident which involved Dennis Ray Floyd, 17, of 705 West Gold Street, who, according to police reports, was stopped headed north on Cleveland Avenue waiting for traffic to clear and make a left turn. The White car attempted to pass the stopped vehicle and the Floyd car turned into the path of the illegally passing White vehicle.

Damages were estimated at $200 for the Floyd car, a 1959 model Dodge, and $100 in damages was estimated for the White car.

Floyd was charged with driving without a driver's license. There were no injuries reported as a result of the collision.

Methodists Set Youth Week

Youth Week at Central Methodist church will be observed July 26-30. Howard Bryant, chairman, has announced.

The activities will be for all junior high and senior high young people of the church, Mr. Bryant said.

Mr. Bryant, principal of North school, directed Primary and Junior Day Camps at Lake Crawford and Lake Montonia during the past two weeks for youth of Central Methodist church.

sonville. The Pre-School will be taught by Mrs. Thomas Burke, of 508 Monroe Avenue. Mrs. Burke taught in the Kindergarten last year. She was trained as a teacher at Western Carolina college.

The Kindergarten will be instructed by Miss Ellen Burke daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burke is currently studying at Sacred Heart Academy and UNC at Greensboro. Miss Burke is currently studying at Belmont Abbey.

Both teachers have been instructed in the Garden system of education for Pre-School and Kindergarten children. Classes at Trinity are limited to twelve students each. Inquiries about the school should be made to either of the teachers or to the Rev. Mr. Haden.

Watermelon Feast To Benefit Scouts

Boy Scout Troop 91 of St. Matthew's Lutheran church will sponsor a watermelon feast Tuesday night from 7 until 8:30 p.m. at the church.

Tickets are on sale from any Boy Scout and all proceeds will go to the troop activity fund. Otis Falls, Jr., is Troop 91 scoutmaster.

Scouts Returning From Jamboree Trek

After spending several days at the Boy Scout National Jamboree in Valley Forge, Pa., Scoutmaster Donald Crawford and seven King Mountain Boy Scouts are expected to arrive at 6 p.m. Saturday in Gastonia, N. C.

The local group is among 75 Boy Scouts and six leaders from the Piedmont Council. The Jamboree was held July 14-24.

Those attending the Jamboree from Kings Mountain were Scoutmaster Crawford, Tommy Bridgess, William (Corky) Fulton, Michael Hoyle, Jeff Mauney, Charles Padgett, Larry Patrick, and Pat Cheshire.

Sylvia West Wins Fellowship

Miss Sylvia West, former teacher at Bethware school, was one of 13 North Carolina teachers selected for a Reynolds Fellowship at the University of North Carolina this summer.

The fellowship, which was granted by Reynolds Tobacco Company, and had a value of $750, provided six weeks of intensive instruction in economics. In addition, each teacher was given a personal library of economics materials.

Lectures and seminars were conducted both by university professors and visiting national and international economists. Altogether, 59 applicants were selected from all the Southeastern states. The fellowships are granted annually.

Daughter of Mrs. W. R. West of Kings Mountain, Miss West is a graduate of Grover high school and Western Carolina college. She taught eighth grade in the Kings Mountain schools system for two years. She resigned earlier this summer to accept a teaching position in Blacksburg, S. C.

TO CONVENTION

Johnnie Moore and Sandra Huffstetter are at Lenoir Rhyne college at Hickory attending the state Luther League convention. The convention ends Saturday. The two are representing Resurrection Lutheran church.

KIWANIS CLUB

Optimists Hosts To Ball Clubs

The Kings Mountain Optimist club will be host to the eight Little League Baseball teams at a weekend camp-out Saturday and Sunday at Lake Norman.

Little Leaguers and baseball coaches and managers are asked to meet with Optimist members at the Optimist clubhouse, 311 N. Carpenter street, at 1 p.m. Saturday. The group will return to Kings Mountain Sunday at 4 p.m.

Two members of the Kings Mountain Life Saving and Rescue Squad will accompany the group with an ambulance and light generator life-saving equipment. Youngsters must have papers signed by parents in order to make the trip. They should bring two blankets or a sleeping bag.

W. D. Byers is president of the sponsoring Optimist club.

Savings Bonds Quiz

Q-I own some Series E Bonds bought in August, 1944. Am I required to turn them in for redemption in August of this year?

A-Absolutely not. Series E bonds bought between May, 1941 and May, 1943 have been given two 10-year extension periods which, in effect, make them 30 year bonds. You can continue to hold your bonds and earn interest at a straight 3 1/2% compounded semi-annually on the basis of their present value, for at least another 10 years.

Q-I purchased two bonds for other people, only to discover that I had been victimized by a chain letter scheme. What can I do with the bonds now?

A-You are lucky you learned so quickly. The Treasury does not condone sale of Savings Bonds in connection with a chain letter scheme. Your recourse is to write a full letter of explanation, enclosing the bonds, to the Bureau of Public Debt Division of Loans and Currency, 536 South Clark Street, Chicago, Illinois 60605.

SAFETY MEETING

Regular quarterly meeting of the Blue Ridge Safety Council will be held Thursday at 6:30 p.m. at Brackett's Cedar Park. Reservations should be made with Glenn Williams, personnel director at Ora Mill in Shelby.

ON DEAN'S LIST

James Plonk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Plonk of Kings Mountain and a recent graduate of Duke University, was named to the dean's list at Duke for the spring semester on basis of high academic standing.

TEENS HEALTH Health and Safety Tips from The American Medical Association

Expecting a new baby in your family? Perhaps your first? And getting almost panicky at the thought that you will be responsible for the care, feeding and well being of a tiny new human life?

Be reassured by the fact that other people—also without special training—have brought up children who successfully grew into healthy, emotionally stable and highly productive members of society, says a new American Medical Association pamphlet, "A Child in the Family."

The first few weeks at home the baby gets to know you, and you learn a few things about him, too. Most important, you learn that he is an individual with likes and dislikes and a willingness to express them. Also, you will discover that he is rather sturdy and won't break with reasonable handling. He needs lots of sleep, but awakes often hungry.

Your doctor can help much in giving you pointers on care of the baby, but no physician can anticipate every situation and tell parents exactly what to do. There is no one right way to bring up babies. The relaxed parent can enjoy his baby and do what is right for him most of the time, though an occasional problem will require the doctor's advice.

Breast feeding or bottle feeding is a perennial argument with good opinion on both sides, talk it over with your doctor.

Sleep is essential. During the early weeks, baby sleeps practically all of the time. He awakens only when hungry. Awake in his crib, place baby so he can see what is going on around him. Covering the sides of the crib to prevent drafts also reduces his view and his chance to learn about and respond to his environment.

Crying is baby's language. It's his way to show discomfort, protest against hunger, pain, being wet and being cold, and to demand the attention he wants. Until he learns to talk, it is his only means of attracting attention to his needs and desires.

Discipline is training for living. It must start early, be constant and consistent and guide the child in what to do, as well as what not to do. Children need a discipline that sets limits for them. They must learn to accept authority, but it should be a firm, reasonable, and authority that deserves respect.

Experience shows that despite parental bewilderment through the years of growth most children grow up to be good citizens and to assume responsibility as their parents have before them.

Mrs. Harmon's Father Dies

Interment in Elizabeth Church Cemetery followed funeral services held Sunday at 4 p.m. at Pleasant Ridge Baptist Church for Grover C. McClure, 77, who died Saturday at Royster Memorial Hospital. He had been ill for several days.

McClure, a farmer and former superintendent of the Cleveland County home, was the son of the late John and Amanda Lovelace McClure. He was a deacon of Pleasant Ridge Baptist Church.

Surviving are his wife, Susie Borders McClure; one son, G. C. McClure Jr. of Jacksonville, Fla.; two daughters, Mrs. Frank Harmon of Route 1, Shelby, and Mrs. Wallace Carpenter of Rutherfordton; one brother, Paul McClure of Chattanooga, Tenn.; three sisters, Mrs. Vinie Burnett and Mrs. Minnie Camp, both of Spartanburg, S. C., and Mrs. Broughton Thompson of Chesnee, S. C.; and five grandchildren.

The family has requested that memorials be sent to the Pleasant Ridge Baptist Church building fund.

Voice Pupils To Give Recital

Local students will be presented in a recital of both sacred and secular songs Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Thar Ford Room of Central Methodist church in Shelby.

Among these will be Judy Rayfield and Teresa Jolley of Kings Mountain, Freida Bowen of Grover and Barbara Bolick of Cherryville, all students of Harvey L. Woodruff, director of music at Charlotte college.

Mr. Woodruff has been conducting summer classes in Shelby. The program will include Christmas selections and other seasonal material of interest to church choir directors.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to our many friends and neighbors for their many kindnesses and expressions of sympathy at the death of our beloved mother.

CALLING ALL HOME MAKERS

Your living room should be built around a focal point, as the decorators like to call it. In plain language this means the room should be built around some "center of interest", but there should not be more than one focal point. Your focal point may be an eye-catching mural on a wall (and the colors of this mural could be picked up and used throughout the remainder of the room).

Or, it could be an entire wall grouping of pictures or paintings but two large walls of pictures would be pointless. A focal point could be an unusual cocktail table, a sofa and chair grouping, a brightly colored large plant, (real or artificial) or a gold carved framed mirror to name just a few.

The important thing to remember is that the focal point must be sufficiently outstanding and attractive to use as the center of interest.

If you'd like some ideas for your living room, come in and talk it over with us. There is no obligation. As of today the "mystery tune is worth $140.00. So, tune in the Gene Timms Show every Monday-Wed-Fri. 7:30 - 8:00 A.M. over WKMT and get details on how you can become a lucky winner.
