McRay Rites Held Monday

Funeral rites for Alisa McRay, 91, were held Monday at 11 a.m. from First Wesleyan Methodist church, interment following in Mountain Rest cemetery.

Mr. McRay died Saturday morning in Broughton Memorial hospital at Morganton after several months' illness.

He was a native of Georgia. His wife, the former Mary Alice Tannon, died seven years ago.

Surviving are two sons, Earl McRay of Kings Mountain and James McRay of Fairfax, Alabama; one daughter, Mrs. Jean McRay Diaz of Miami, Florida, and two grandchildren.

Rev. John Harris officiated at the final rites.

C&D Issues New Facts Digest

North Carolina is the nation's leading manufacturer of textiles, tobacco and household furniture—and the fourth largest producer of commercial broilers.

The new Governor, Dan K. Moore, is a former Superior Court Judge and State Representative.

The travel-serving industry is now the third largest dollar producer and employs 83,300 persons.

These facts and many interesting statistics are contained in the 1965 edition of "Facts About

North Carolina", just published by the Dept. of Conservation and Development's Travel Information Division free on request. The facts are digested in a 4-page pamphlet as a supplement to the full-color pamphlet "The Tar Heel State", also published for free distribution.

Sorry, can't mention the mill, but you'll know soon as your fingers glory in this inviting softness, your eyes feast upon their gentle colors. Because you love clothes with feminine flair, you must discover for yourself its sew-at-home possibilities for soft, drape-y blouses, afternoon dresses, full-skirted shirt dresses. Never in our history has the price been this low! 44 to 45 inches wide.
