

Spring Comes Early At Fashion Benefit

It might as well have been spring Thursday night as far as the 23 models for the Heart Fund were concerned. They ignored the blasts of cold air whipping around the National Guard Armory and appeared dressed in spring finery. Some of them modeled the newest in summer bathing suits and beachwear as the large number of guests sat bundled in winter coats to play bridge and watch a parade of fashions "for the young at heart" from Belk's, Fulton's McGinnis' and Plonk Brothers.

Crowd-pleasers were the youngsters who modeled, including Shan London, Ginny Gray Mauney, Ann Arthur Thomason, Cindy Brown, and Ruth and Elaine Hullender. Pat Lee, Charlotte radio personality, was commentator. She wore a sleeveless black and white dotted sheath with a black rolled-brim straw hat. Mrs. Charles Mauney, chairman of the event, presented Miss Lee.

Proceeds from the show totaled $221 and were applied to the Kings Mountain Heart Fund Drive which is expected to top its $3,000 quota.

Home Demonstration Clubs To Sponsor Alice Bell Chalm School Next Week

Cleveland County Home Demonstration Council will sponsor Miss Alice Bell's Chalm School two days next week—Monday and Tuesday—in the new county office building.

Morning classes from 10 until 12 noon are designed for homemakers to attend. The two evening classes from 7:30 until 9:30 p.m. are open to business women and teenagers.

Tickets may be purchased at $5 for adults and $3 for teens from any Home Demonstration club member, from the Home Economics Extension Agent's office in Shelby or at the door.

Miss Bell is recognized as one of the South's foremost authorities on beauty, charm, and fashion, among the top in the country in her field. She will take her class at the Chalm School behind the scenes into the dressing rooms of stage, screen, radio and television stars to show how exercise relieves tension and improves the figure.

Other instructions will include a demonstration of the color and shape of eyeglass frames which would complement the individual coloring and how to make the most of good points of appearance and how to play down the less attractive figure problems. She will also give practical guides for gracious living.

Miss Bell says: On personal appearance: There is no such thing as an ugly woman, there are only those women who do not know how to look pretty. Your appearance and personality are the controlling factors in your life.

On poise: Clothes may make the woman, but poise makes the clothes.
