

Recently I have had several inquiries as to my thoughts on a recreation center for the young people of our community. I feel that it would be an advantage to Kings Mountain to have a nice, chaperoned entertainment center for our youthful citizens. As we all know, it would take a bond issue to accomplish this goal.

If I am re-elected to the office of Mayor, I would be glad to call an election to see how the majority of the citizens feel about this matter. I would freely contribute my part of the taxes because I have grandchildren that I love very much. As a matter of fact, I feel close to all the children of our community. I take pride in the fact that our younger generation feels free to say "Hi Glee" when they see me on the street.

We must not forget, however, that the Mayor also has to take orders. There are five bosses who have the authority to tell the Mayor what to do, therefore, we must carefully select our commissioners.

Election day, May 11, is quickly approaching. Please check to be sure you are registered, then go to the polls and cast your vote. Vote for the person you think most capable of running a big business. Remember that the City is in the Million Dollar class, so this is big business and requires all of a person's time.

I have worked diligently at my job. When necessary, I have started early in the morning and worked late at night. I have fulfilled my promises to the best of my ability. When called upon, I have answered your calls and checked into your requests. Being fair to everyone has been my goal.

Please study the work that has been done during my administration, keeping in mind that it was all done with a reduction in taxes.

I am not perfect, but I have taken my job seriously. I would appreciate your support on May 11. Remember that everyone's vote is important in any election. Keep in mind that in any business, experience is very important.

Glee Bridger
MAYOR

P. S. It will be almost impossible to see all of you personally, and run my job between now and election time May 11th. I would like to emphasize the fact you must apply some background experience along the line to run a business in a business-like way. You must have a little business experience, enuf said. I will appreciate your cooperation and vote May 11th, be sure you are registered.

Heart Disease No. 1 Killer

CHAPEL HILL — The safest state to live in as far as your heart is concerned, may be New Mexico, although it might be safer yet to turn the clock back to 1900. At any rate, North Carolina's death rate from the "Red Plague" (heart and blood vessel disease), as Governor Dan Moore recently put it, isn't the kind of thing Chambers of Commerce would brag about.

A national report shows that 54 states have a lower death rate from heart disease and stroke than North Carolina, the North Carolina Heart Association announces. Among other facts disclosed:

—The United States has the highest death rate from cardiovascular diseases of any country in the world, and North Carolina's rate is well above the national average.

—Among the states of the Union, South Carolina ranks highest in cardiovascular death rate, North Carolina ranks 6th, New Mexico lowest.

—Non-whites have a higher cardiovascular death rate than whites in all age groups except the oldest (75 and above). This is true even though white males experience higher death rates from heart attacks than non-whites.

At age 50, one out of every hundred white males develops coronary disease during the course of a year.

—In 1900 cardiovascular diseases accounted for 20 percent of all deaths in the U.S. Today they account for 54.5 percent — claiming nearly a million lives annually in the U.S., including 21,000 in North Carolina.

These and other data on death and illness from heart and blood vessel diseases appear in "Cardiovascular Diseases in the U.S.: Facts and Figures," a 32-page statistical handbook just published by the American Heart Association, with which the state group is affiliated, in cooperation with the National Heart Institute and the Heart Disease Control Program of the U.S. Public Health Service.

The ranking of states according to cardiovascular disease death rates is based on data for white males, ages 45-64, averaged for 1959-61. (The use of a rate based on a single age-sex-color is necessary to allow for the great variability of populations in the different states.) On this basis, South Carolina has a rate of 933.9 deaths per 100,000 population as compared with 522.4 for New Mexico. The North Carolina rate is 873.5.
