Moss To Speak To Church Youth

A special youth service, marking the beginning of the Church of God youth week, will feature John Henry Moss as lay speaker to the youth. The program will cover the 11 o'clock services, April 25, at the Church of God, on Parker Street. Youth and interested parents are invited to attend. Services will be under the direction of Rev. F. M. Vaughn, pastor.

Mr. Moss will speak to the youth about Christian citizenship and youth responsibilities to the church and community. Responsibilities of youth to their parents and responsibilities of parents to their youth, will be touched upon. Noted will be facts about successful leaders whose background of Christian teachings and fellowship helped in their climb to success.

Christian fellowship begins at home with the youth and should be an important part of every youth's background, said Mr. Moss.

The youth of today need religious background, training, and beliefs, even more so than ever before, further stated Mr. Moss, due to the fast movement of today's society.

Mr. Moss came from the training of a Christian home to become a success in the business world of sales and to become president of the Western Carolina baseball league, after having worked with youth of major leagues, Rev. Mr. Vaughn said. Youth and interested parents are invited to hear Mr. Moss during the youth services, Mr. Vaughn added.

Savings Bonds Quiz

Q & A YOUR SAVINGS bonds... Q—I own several Series H Savings Bonds which will be reaching maturity in the next few months and it is my understanding they have been granted a 10-year extension. What should I do to take advantage of this extension?

chain-letter schemes keeps cropping up in my area. I have been told they are illegal and would like to know.

A—Nothing. Series H Savings Bonds issued between June, 1952, and January 1957, carry an automatic extension, and you will continue receiving interest checks every six months as long as you hold the Bonds until they reach final maturity. The interest rate in the extension is a straight 3 1/2 per cent.

A—The Treasury Department has instructed Bond issuing agents not to sell Bonds where they know, or have reason to believe, that they are to be used in a chain-letter scheme. This is because such usage is considered to be in violation of the spirit of the Savings Bonds program. Likewise, the Post Office Department considers such schemes as violating postal lottery and fraud laws.

Q—The matter of buying Savings Bonds in connection with Q—What about the maturity on E Bonds I bought in the waning days of World War II? Aren't these Bonds about to come due?

There was a rally at St. Peter's Baptist church in Grover Sunday night with 10 captains reporting total of $1,066. Ten additional captains are to give reports of the fund-raising effort. Rev. E. H. Woods is pastor of the church.

A—Bonds purchased between May, 1941, and May, 1949, had an original maturity period of 10 years and have been granted two 10-year extensions, which means they can be held into the 1970's. They are now drawing interest at a straight rate of 3 1/2 per cent, compounded semi-annually, on their extended face value.
