When a physician lets it be known that fashion is healthy, that's news!

Dr. Thomas Hanley, of Guy's Hospital, London, believes that dress designers are playing an important role in combating overweight in women. He says, "Fashion is a hard but effective taskmaster. Most women who consult a doctor about obesity do so because they feel unattractive or ugly or have difficulty getting into their clothes. In other words, social considerations prompt them to act."

"I say we're all better off because the designers have decided that Ruess' 'Venus' is no longer considered to be the ideal feminine form. The medical profession owes dame fashion a debt of gratitude."

Dermatologists at Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine, Baltimore, Md., reported recently that a stubborn skin disease (known technically as Fox-Pordyce disease), characterized by severe itching and eruptions, responds well when treated with the oral contraceptive pill. The disease generally affects girls and women between the ages of 13 and 35 and declines after menopause.

Drs. Herbert L. Kronthal, Jerome R. Pomeranz, and Gerald Stomer, noting that the disease seemed to subside during pregnancy, treated their non-pregnant patients with "the pill." The oral contraceptive produces a condition which in some ways resembles pregnancy. The patients thus treated were relieved of the intense itching, and the outbreaks subsided considerably.

The physicians noted that although "the pill" is not a cure for the disease, it does relieve it. It also provides clues for further research which may one day lead to a cure.

Twins not only make more work for mother after they are born, they also make pregnancy more difficult for mama. For instance, half to three-quarters of multiple births are premature, and six times as many women carrying more than one baby suffer from complications during pregnancy than do women carrying just one baby.

The good news, however, is that both prematurity and complications can be "materially reduced" by means of a relatively simple method: bed rest. This is the conclusion of Dr.

Robert H. Barter, professor and chairman of the department of obstetrics and gynecology at George Washington University School of Medicine, Washington, D. C.

The key to preventing untoward developments in women carrying more than one baby, the physician told Women's Medical News Service, is the earliest possible detection that there are twins on the way. He feels that this is possible as early as the 19th week of pregnancy.

Once the diagnosis is confirmed, Dr. Barter urges his patients to follow his bed rest regimen. He explained that patients cooperate when they understand that bed rest will result in the following:

- Reduce the incidence of prematurity.
- Cut down on mental retardation, since prematurity and retardation often go together.
- Save money for the parents since according to Dr. Barter, the care of "preemies" can run

Choral Director To Lead Classes For Children

Harvey L. Woodruff, Director of Music at Charlotte College and director of the Cleveland County Choral Society, will conduct a series of voice classes for children in Shelby during June for the third consecutive summer. Classes will be held on Tuesday afternoons between the hours of 2 and 5 on June 1, 8, 15, 22 and 29.

Purpose of these classes will be to instruct students of exceptional talent in the basic principles of free voice production, and to teach them new material suitable for use in the junior choirs of their respective churches.

Further information may be obtained thru Mrs. Blake McWhirter, director of the junior choir at First Baptist Church in Shelby.

es. The musical aptitude of children applying for these classes will be determined on the basis of auditions to be held Tuesday, May 25, in the Webb Building of Central Methodist Church at 212 E. Marion St.

Girls entering 3rd grade thru the 6th grade will be heard from 3:00 to 4:00. Boys with unchanged voices, grades 3 thru 8, from 4:00 to 4:30. And junior high girls, grades 7 thru 9, from 4:30 to 5:00. The opening class, on June 1st, will be a joint session, beginning at 3:30, with all students participating. Parents and choir directors will be welcome at all class sessions.

Until the 19th century all papers were hand-made. Paraguay is 60 per cent forest.

Colored News

Women of St. Paul Methodist church honored Mrs. Bernice Morehead at a tea Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brown.
