

Best Costumed To Receive Trophies

Who will win costumes for best dressed man, woman and child during Mountaineer Days, which begin Monday?

Three trophies will be presented, with judging of costumes to be featured at Wednesday night's country and western show at the National Guard Armory.

Barbara Allen and her group of entertainers from Richmond, Va. will be featured in the big show which gets underway at 8:30 p.m.

Winners of gold loving cups last year were Mrs. Nelle Smith, first; Mrs. Karen Goin Moss, second; and Mrs. Zoe Dellinger Hord, third. The "best dressed" child award went to young Ruth Hullender, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hullender. Honorable mention in the best dressed women's contest went to Mrs. Mearle Beatty.

This year the contest will be conducted a little differently. Prizes will be awarded only the first place winners with trophies to go to the best dressed man, the best dressed woman and the best dressed child.

Judges will judge the costumes during the Wednesday night Armory Show. All Kings Mountain area citizens are invited to come dressed in Mountaineer costume and participate. Kings Mountain womenfolk were busy this week getting out last year's Mountaineer Day dresses and making new ones for this year's 25th Battle Anniversary celebration October 7-9.

The little folk are also included, as mama's were busy with needle and thread sewing long dresses and bonnets.

Most women employees of Kings Mountain stores plan to wear costumes during the week.
