Off He Goes

Two Colville, Wash., high school students recently volunteered their algebra teacher for the first trip to the moon.

The Civil Aeronautics Board said it had received the following letter. It declined to mention names:

"We would like to volunteer the services of a well-known and very renowned (sic) man. We think he is qualified to perform any task. His name is — He is willing to go to the moon, preferably one way. If he cannot be used there, please send him elsewhere. He's our algebra teacher."

First Union Hikes Minimum Interest

First Union National Bank has announced that the minimum rate on loans will be raised from 5 per cent to 5 1/2 per cent effective immediately.

"Banks across the country have experienced a heavy demand for credit," stated bank President Carl G. McCraw, Jr. "An overall adjustment was due so as to bring bank rates more in line with other interest rates," McCraw said.

The Raw Facts

A group of moviemakers shooting a film on a tiny island in New York harbor off Staten Island were arrested recently for being over-exposed.

Police said they found three young women and two men doing a scene in the nude for the unnamed epic under production. A total of 11 persons was arrested by two policemen who made a stealthful landing on the island.

Too Late Now

Members of a pop singing group known as the "WHO" drove to a kennel in London recently to buy a dog to protect their van and musical equipment. While inside to make the purchase someone stole the vehicle.

The Hole Story

A firm in Leicester, England, reports that within two weeks it sold more than 36,000 stickers designed to give cars the "James Bond look." The stickers, which sell for a nickel each, give the car the appearance of being riddled with bullet holes.

Clean copper by washing with soap and water, rinsing and drying. Then remove corrosion spots by rubbing with hot vinegar and salt, hot sour milk, buttermilk or a piece of lemon dipped in salt. Rub on polish with a soft cloth. Lacquered copper should not be polished at all as the polish will remove the lacquer coat.
