'Come See Me' Weekend Slated

ROCK HILL, S. C. - March winds and April showers are tra ditional sign posts of spring. They announce that the time for the fifth annual "Come-See-Me" is rapidly approaching John Gill, chainman, has stress ed at the meetings of the steer ing committee that hospitality will be the important factor in the event this year. To encourage the citizens of Rock Hill to regis ter their guests with the Chamber Office, prizes will be awarded to both the lucky guests and hosts whose names are chosen. Glencairn, Rock Hill's municipally-owned garden, was award ed one of the two awards given in the year of 1964 by the American Association of Nurserymen. This garden will be the hub o attraction for the many visitors who will stroll down the shady winding paths. Last year, on the Sunday of "Come-See-Me", th police estimated that 20,000 carre to see the azaleas in full bloom to take pictures of the belles in long bouffant skirts, and to enjoy the quiet beauy of the garden.

Private gardens will be open to the public, too. A list of these gardens will be found on the Mrs. Yates Gordon was hostess programs which list all of the which will be given on April 9 Paul Dunn, Janet Spangler, Sha-Miss Bessie Burgardner led and 10 at the Winthrop College the devotional and the program Farm Lake; an Antique Show; Lowery, Hilda Lowery, Allan a tour of Homes sponsored by the Dover, Cindy Jolly, Donna Craw.
