

"Super-Right" Quality Meats! "SUPER-RIGHT" HEAVY CORN-FED BEEF

ROASTS

What Quality Beef Does A&P Sell?

That's a fair question. But not an easy one to answer because we have our own quality standards, different from any other meat merchant.

These standards don't fit exactly the familiar terms you know for grades of meat. As an example, did you know that some beef, graded U.S. Choice, just doesn't meet our "Super-Right" specifications? It's true! You see... we don't buy by grade. We use our own high standards to bring you the best values.

That doesn't mean we don't approve of such grading—not at all. It just means we're very fussy about the beef we label "Super-Right." It stands to reason we have to be or A&P wouldn't be America's number one meat merchant.

Are "Super-Right" Meats a good reason for shopping A&P?

They're one of many!

Peach Outlook Is "Good", Apples Suffer

A series of periods of unfavorable weather apparently has eliminated the possibility that the 1966 North Carolina apple crop will equal last year's production.

Estimates indicate that a statewide crop of 3.5 to 4 million bushels is in prospect. This is about 75 per cent of the 1965 crop, according to Mel Kolbe, extension horticultural specialist at North Carolina State University.

The outlook is somewhat brighter for Tar Heel peaches. "The peach crop thus far has an excellent future," Kolbe said. "The winter weather plus the scattered late frosts took their toll in a few orchards, but the May 9-10 cold snap doesn't seem to have done much damage."

Kolbe added that the early peaches will be ripening in early June and the latest in mid-August. "Barring hail and disease, most North Carolina consumers should enjoy North Carolina peaches this year," he observed.

Tar Heel apples in western-area orchards didn't fair as well as the Sandhills peaches during the May 9-10 frosts and freezes. This followed a period of cool and wet weather that had already reduced fruit set because of poor pollination, Kolbe explained.

Producers in Avery and Watauga suffered greatest cold damage. They are hopeful of only a fraction of the 1965 harvest. "Most other counties report a 50 to 75 per cent crop," Kolbe related. A near normal harvest is anticipated in Lincoln, Cleveland, Gaston and Catawba counties.

New Era In Forecasting

A new era in worldwide weather forecasting is here, the result of a remarkable partnership between space technology and modern data communications.

New forecasting techniques, employing weather-watching satellites 750 miles above the earth will enable meteorologists to anticipate storms many days in advance. Precise pictures of cloud formations are already being used to pinpoint the arrival of weather fronts and report their progress as they move around the world.

With the help of data flashed across a special weather communications network, receiving stations at airports, cities and coastal locations can be aligned to pick up weather information directly from satellites as they pass overhead, said R. B. Moore, local telephone manager.

Postgraduate Course

Municipal Judge Edward Dembowski, of Marquette, Mich., has given two high school seniors an unusual graduation present. For admitting they telephoned a phony bomb threat to their school, the two were sentenced to 10 days in jail and fined $295 each, with the jail sentences to begin the day after graduation.

Sound Barrier

The next time a Royal Air Force jet screams over Cliffe, England, on a low-level training flight, the 1,000 residents plan to retaliate by telephoning the Ministry of Aviation at the same time to jam its switchboard.

Telephone Talk

By R. B. MOORE

DISTRESS CALL... So often we read about calls for help being ignored, or people looking the other way when they see someone in trouble. The heart-warming occasions when just the opposite is true don't make the headlines, but they happen just the same. For instance, recently we heard about a stranger driving through a midwestern city when his car stalled at a busy intersection. In his efforts to get the car started he overexerted himself and became ill. Two telephone company men happened along at just that moment. They got the sick man an ambulance, called his son, moved and locked his car, and brought the keys to the hospital. Good Samaritans may not make the headlines, but they do exist!

SUGGESTION BOX...

- ★ Keep a black board eraser in your glove compartment to clean off the haze that collects on the inside of the windshield.
- ★ Keep hot biscuits hot in an ice bucket till you're ready to use them.
- ★ Keep three things beside your telephone (in addition to the directory, of course)... some pencils, a jotting pad, and a personal number list.
