Belk Heads Cancer Society

WINSTON-SALEM — Senator Irwin Belk, outstanding civic and educational leader, was elected President of the North Carolina Division of the American Cancer Society at the Society ended its two-day Annual Meeting here.

Last year Senator Belk served as Chairman, Board of Directors, and advanced to the Presidency after serving as State Crusade Chairman for the American Cancer Society as well as a member of various Division committees and State Executive Committee.

Dr. Rachel Davis, Kinston physician, was elected Chairman, Board of Directors. Dr. Davis has served as State Crusade Chairman and as a member of the Division Executive Committee and Board of Directors for several years.

H. Clifton Blue, Aberdeen newspaperman, Dr. William R. Bosien, Tryon, and Mrs. Robert W. Scott, Haw River, were elected First, Second and Third Vice Presidents. Others elected were Dr. Dewey Bridger, Bladenboro, Secretary; Mr. J. T. Lindley, Raleigh, Treasurer; and Mr. Stanley Black, Rockingham, Assistant Treasurer.

You And Social Security

According to Lex G. Barkley, district manager of social security in Gastonia, disability payments under the social security law are no longer limited to persons with permanent disabilities.

Barkley said he feared many people were not yet aware of a change in the social security law under which you may be eligible for benefits if you have a disability that is expected to last 12 months. Previously you could get benefits only if you had a disability that was expected to continue for a long and definite time, or result in death.

Barkley pointed out that formerly many disability claims were disallowed because the impairment, although severe, was not expected to be of long and continued duration. Any mental or physical impairment that is totally disabling and is expected to continue for as long as 12 months meets the requirements of the definition of disability under the new law.

According to Barkley, the work record requirement has not been changed. A worker must still have worked under social security at least 5 years out of the 10-year period just before the date he became disabled in order to qualify for disability payments.

Electric Car May Prove Best In The Future

Not many will be able to dust off their old electric cars and silently drive away. But those who placed their confidence in turn-of-the-century electric models may still be vindicated. The electric auto may well prove to be the wave of the future, at least for in-city transportation.

Much depends upon fuel cell research. Many are confident that a practical and economical fuel cell can be developed, converting chemical fuel directly into electricity. If and when this happens, watch out for the electric-powered town car!

True, Britain has about 50,000 battery-powered electric trucks and buses on the road today. But preventing more wide-spread use has been the need to recharge the battery much too frequently for convenience. New long-distance zinc-air batteries could help. But it is the fuel cell that can bring about a transportation revolution.

What makes the electric automobile so appealing, especially for in-town driving, is its low maintenance and moderate fuel cost, ease of handling, convenient size for parking, and absence of smog-producing fumes and noise.

The lack of enthusiasm for electrically driven vehicles has been due mainly to their low speeds and limited range. With the development of an economical fuel cell, the range will be comparable to that of present gasoline-operated cars. And the speed will be quite sufficient for urban driving.

Although vehicles powered by internal combustion engines are still likely to dominate the nation's highways for quite some time, they could, before long, find themselves facing stiff competition on city streets. In spite of the long eclipse of the electric car, it would be a mistake to underestimate this gentle challenger should it be able to schedule a return engagement.

Stadium get underway at 7 p.m. when there will be a massed concert by the G. W. band playing with seven outstanding high school bands, all to be under the direction of Jerry Hill. Gardner-Webb's traditional homecoming queen is to be crowned, with kick-off time for the game set at 8 p.m. Gardner-Webb staff members are expecting that the events may attract a crowd to overflow the new 5,000-seat stadium.

Official program for the red-letter day in Gardner-Webb's history begins at 12:30 p.m. with a luncheon in the new Charles I. Dover Campus Center when formal dedicatory rites will be conducted. Rep. Whitener is to be featured luncheon speaker and Lloyd Bost of Shelby, chairman of the college's board of trustees, is to preside.

Special guests will be V. F. Hamrick of Shelby and his family in whose honor the fieldhouse is named and Mrs. E. W. Spangler, her sons, Earl and R. Patrick, and their families since the Stadium is named in memory of the late E. W. Spangler and in honor of Mrs. Spangler. Dr. E. Eugene Poston, G. W. president, is to accept the new facilities on behalf of the college administration with Mrs. Rush Stroup performing a similar function on behalf of the trustees and Robert Spain accepting for the student body.

From 2 to 5 p.m. open house will be held on campus, with tours to be conducted and the fieldhouse and stadium open for public inspection.

At 5 p.m. Charlie Justice of Asheville, former football star at UNC-Chapel Hill, will be featured speaker at the annual Alumni Association barbecue to be held in the Dover Campus Center.

At the informal get-together individual members of the G. W.'s Bulldog team will be presented and alumni will renew old acquaintances. Normally about 600-700 persons attend the barbecue and this year a record crowd is expected.

Spangler Stadium, under construction since early spring this year, offers the latest features for both football and track events. Lighted for G.W.'s nighttime schedule of games, it is designed with permanent attractive ticket booths, a spacious glass-enclosed press box, concession stands and restrooms on both sides of the field. It is equipped with the latest in public address systems, a facility to be manned by Allen Setzer of the G-W staff. A major feature of the stadium is an electric scoreboard donated by James and Robert Beason of Boiling Springs.

The two-story V. F. Hamrick fieldhouse contains an official handball court which can also be used for volleyball and other sports, a classroom, a hospitality room, and varsity dressing rooms. The fine facility is located adjacent to the stadium. Highway traffic to the stadium should be channeled on N. C. 150 heading south in Boiling Springs in the direction of Gaffney. Directly in front of Boiling Springs Methodist Church a new paved road to the stadium area where special parking is available.
