Circus Coming To Charlotte

CHARLOTTE — When the Circus Ringmaster cracks his whip, things start cracking. But what happens when the whip-crackers start cracking?

You'll find out when the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus plays Charlotte Coliseum Wednesday, November 9 through Sunday November 13. For among the star performers are Poland's whip-cracking, knife throwing experts, the Alberts.

Though the Alberts — Father and daughter — are making their first swing through America, they were experts on cowboy and Indian warfare long before they ever set foot in this country. They learned their techniques from watching old Wild West movies between performances of the Buffalo Bill Wild West Show in Europe.

In their act, the Alberts treat their audiences to a dazzling display of whip handling and knife throwing. The high point finds daughter Patricia spread-eagled to a large wooden disc. When the disc is rolled, her Father outlines her shapely form with knives which he throws with expert and pinpoint pre-

Library Didn't Ask UF Inclusion

Jacob S. Mauney Memorial Library board of directors voted recently not to apply for inclusion as a beneficiary member of the Kings Mountain United Fund for 1967.

Grady Howard, a director of both the library and on the budget committee of the United Fund, suggested that the United Fund leadership felt it should concentrate its fund-raising effort for strictly charitable agencies rather than for agencies which are tax supported or partially tax supported, as is the library.

In past years, the budget has included $1,000 for the library book fund.

The unanimous resolution stated appreciation to the United Fund for its past memberships.

After a report by Mr. Howard and Chairman Charles Easley on two meetings with the board of Shelby Library, the directors authorized the chairman to investigate legalities to determine whether 1) Jacob S. Mauney Library could participate in a joint county library arrangement (non tax-supported), or 2) in a county library system (tax-supported).

Mr. Howard was elected assistant secretary of the board. Report of Mrs. Charles Dilling, librarian, showed membership at September 30 of 3376. Circulation of books for the quarter ending September totaled 6061, including 3797 juvenile books and 2254 adult books.

Newspapers Produce Light And Information. Their Absence Results In Darkness.

Correct information is invaluable to a free people and for keeping a free people free.

Few other nations of the world are as fortunate as the United States, which, through the wisdom of their forefathers, is legatee of a heritage of freedom of speech, of assembly, of religious worship, and of the press.

Maintaining of these freedoms has not always been easy, but they have nevertheless been maintained through the years.

A free press is the cornerstone of the others. Without the dissemination of the news — factual information gathered by trained professional newsmen — the other freedoms would soon be abrogated in practice, if not in the text of the United States Constitution.
