

Community Festival Ushers In Season

ART EXHIBITS POPULAR FEATURE OF FAIR — Harry E. Page, left, and Mrs. Raymond Holmes are photographed above looking at the numerous art exhibits on display by Kings Mountain citizens at Wednesday's Woman's club community festival. Drawings, paintings, sculpture, carvings, ceramics and home crafts were among the displays. Mrs. Holmes, a native of England, displayed willow basketry, a hobby she brought from England, including lampshades and hanging baskets she had made. The Holmes children, Chris and Lindsay, also contributed to the division entries with paintings and coin and animal collections. Mrs. Holmes' painting, "Collage" was also featured in this group of entries. (Photo by Paul Lemmons)

NEEDLEWORK DISPLAY FEATURE OF FAIR — A display of fine needlework, including crocheting, knitting, needlepoint and embroidery, was popular with fairgoers and exhibitors in last Wednesday's community festival and floral fair sponsored by the Woman's club. Afghans and other exhibits on a large table centered by a pumpkin of fall flowers, fruits and foliage are admired, from left, by Ann Arthur Thomasson, Mrs. George Thomasson, Mrs. George Houser, Mrs. Tom Trott, Mrs. Harry Page, Mrs. Aubrey Mauney and Mrs. W. T. Weir, far right. Mrs. Thomasson and Mrs. Mauney were co-chairmen of the show. (Photo by Paul Lemmons)

GAY TABLE FOR HALLOWEEN — The season of spooks and goblins is just around the corner and Kings Mountain garden clubs had a Halloween party in mind in decorations for this table, among those featured in a special table arrangement classification in last Wednesday's floral fair. Covered with an orange cloth, the table's central decoration is a jack-o-lantern decorated with leaves and a holder for the soft drinks to be served with hot popcorn. Serving refreshments are Mrs. Wilson Griffin, left, and Mrs. A. W. Kincaid. (Photo for the Herald by Paul Lemmons)

Mauneys Honored On 50th Anniversary At Reception Given By Their Children

By OTTIE WHITE CROSBY
On Friday afternoon, October 21, at the Kings Mountain Woman's Club, Mr. and Mrs. William Kemp Mauney were honored at a reception given by their children in celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary. Hosts included Mr. and Mrs. William Kemp Mauney, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. George Hoffman Mauney and Mr. and Mrs. David Latham Mauney of Kings Mountain; Mr. and Mrs. Miles Hoffman Mauney of Oberlin, Ohio, and Mrs. Ernest Jacob Mauney of Syosset, Long Island, New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Mauney were married October 19, 1916 in Dallas, N. C., at the First Baptist church. Mrs. Mauney is the former Sarah Jane Hoffman of Dallas. Guests were invited to call between the hours of four and six in the afternoon. Greeting callers at the entrance to the club was Mrs. Carl F. Mauney. Mrs. Aubrey Mauney introduced them to the receiving line which included Messrs. Dav- id, Miles, George and W. K. Jr., the honorees and their wedding party: Mrs. E. C. Cooper (Vera Mauney, sister of Mr. Mauney) who was matron-of-honor, Mrs. Walter (Mary Ragan) Rhyné of Gastonia and Mrs. Fred (Margaret Rudisill) Byrum of Charlotte, who were bridesmaids, Mrs. Phil (Mary Neal Wilkins) Jackson of Chapel Hill who was flower girl, along with Mrs. Hugh (Pauline Newton) Moore of Lynchburg, Virginia; Mrs. Jessie Summey, pianist, Miss Corinne Puett, violinist, and Blair Falls Houser, from Dallas, who served as ring bearer. All of the wedding attendants pinned gold cymbidium orchids to their party dresses, and the flower girls carried small white baskets similar to those they carried in the wedding. These were filled with yellow rose petals. The ring bearer held a white satin pillow, edged in wide lace, on which the original wedding ring rested. Directing guests from the lounge into the ballroom was Mrs. George Houser. Mrs. B. N. Barnes introduced them to the five daughters - in - law: Mrs. William Kemp Mauney, Jr. (Mary Simpson of Hickory, N. C.), Mrs. George Hoffman Mauney (Barbara Broward of Atlanta, Ga.), Mrs. Miles Hoffman Mauney (Dorothy Phillips of Birmingham, Ala.), Mrs. Ernest Jacob Mauney (Doris White of Kings Mountain), and Mrs. David Latham Mauney (Betty Short of Kings Mountain). The entire club had been made festive for the occasion using a color note of yellow, white and green. Numerous arrangements of yellow roses, snapdragons, carnations and greenery were placed throughout the club. In the foyer, a large fan-shaped arrangement was used just inside the entrance, and potted chrysanthemums were arranged in a pyramid effect in the corner of the room. The tables in the lounge held arrangements of yellow roses, with yellow satin ribbons. The mantel was particularly pretty with an elongated arrangement of yellow roses, carnations and snapdragons, backed with tall greenery arranged in a long brass container. Swags of boxwood roping were attached to the mantel and hung beneath the arrangement. Mrs. Mauney was gowned in a Dior blue lace over satin dress, with lace overblouse scalloped at the waist, with an accent bow of blue satin. With this she wore dyed to match slippers. She pinned a purple - throated gold orchid at her shoulder. She also wore the groom's wedding gift to her — a gold lavalliere set with diamonds. The refreshment table in the ballroom was covered with a handsome yellow antique satin cloth, overlaid with white net outlined with lace. Net and lace panels which ran the length of the table were draped and caught at the corners of the table in a fan-shaped effect, and at the four corners and in center front were cascade arrangements of stephanotis, showered with white satin ribbons tied in lover's knots. A large four - tiered wedding cake was placed at one end of the table. The cake was decorated in white with yellow roses cascading down the sides, and was topped by a cluster of wedding bells nestled in a pouf of net and valley lilies. Yellow (Continued On Page Two)
