

Mauney's 50th Anniversary

DECORATING TIPS By GENE TIMMS

ONE DEFECT WHICH MANY HOMEOWNERS OVERLOOK

We have often seen homes which are furnished attractively enough, but have one serious defect: The furniture does not fit the room or the people who use it most.

In your living room, is your cocktail table so large that it is difficult to get to use your sofa?

Are there enough passage areas in the right places in your rooms? Are the pieces the right sizes for your rooms? Are your sofas and chairs so low or deep that you have trouble getting up, or are they so high that your feet dangle from them?

The way to avoid this is to "Try it before you buy it".

Do you realize most people spend more time in bed than on any other one piece of furniture so it is obviously important to get the right size and comfort in bedding. Every bedding manufacturer makes mattresses with several degrees of firmness which are available in regular or extra length, queen or king size for extra width in innerspring or foam rubber.

It's hard to believe that some people will buy a sofa or chair or bedding without trying to see if it really fits, or if it is actually comfortable to them — but surprisingly this does happen in some places.

So, before you buy, make certain that your furniture fits you, your family and your room; and we take extra care to help you make sure it does. We, at TIMMS FURN. CO., will not try to sell home furnishings, unless we sincerely believe they are right for you. Satisfaction after the sale is most important to us. And remember, discounts every single day. Cash or time.

roses were used as clappers for the bells. At the center of the table was a five-branched silver candelabrum which held a large crescent arrangement of yellow roses, carnations and snapdragons with greenery. Tall white tapers shed a glow over the table. Large silver trays of fancy sandwiches, cheese wafers, chicken salad pastries, minis, nuts and petit fours were served. Tea was served from a silver service at the opposite end of the table. The tea service was presided over by Mrs. W. L. Mauney and Mrs. Garland Still. Mrs. George Plonk and Mrs. Jacob Mauney assisted in serving.

All the grandchildren helped serve and receive during the afternoon.

Quite a conversation piece was the bride's wedding gown and satin slippers, along with the groom's white kid gloves which had been placed on the loveseat on which Mr. Mauney proposed to the bride-to-be on April 9, 1916. An invitation to the wedding and reception was also shown, and a bridal bouquet was placed on the arm of the loveseat. A nine-branched brass tree candelabrum holding lighted white tapers and banked with greenery was placed at the side of the loveseat.

Mrs. Ernest Hoffman, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. S. A. Mauney, sister-in-law of the groom, presided at the register. This was a gold bound book, placed on a walnut table, which had belonged to Colonel Frederick Hambright, one of Mrs. Mauney's Revolutionary War ancestors. Also on the table was an arrangement of yellow roses, snapdragons and yellow carnations in a gold and crystal compote. A family portrait taken on the couple's 25th anniversary was also on the table. Another nine-branched brass tree candelabrum was standing nearby.

Reverend and Mrs. Charles Easley were at the ballroom exit.

Goodbyes were said by Mrs. Jacob Cooper and Mrs. L. L. Lohr.

More than 300 guests called during the afternoon.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Charles Hullender, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. White, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Mauney, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Mauney, Jr., Miss Fannie Farris, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hall, all of Cherryville; Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Van Dresser, Jr., Mrs.

Young Speaks To P-TA Here; Benefit Set

Carlos Young of Shelby, president of the state Mental Health Association, was guest speaker at last Tuesday's West school P-TA meeting in West School auditorium.

Mr. Young used the topic, "Mental Hygiene." Mrs. Jack White presented the speaker.

Rev. David Castor, pastor of Resurrection Lutheran church, conducted the evening devotional.

Gene Austin, P-TA president, who presided, announced that plans were complete for the big P-TA turkey dinner benefit to be held Wednesday, Nov. 2, from 5:30 until 7:30 at the school cafeteria.

"We want to encourage our citizens to eat supper with us before going to regular mid-week prayer services which start about 7:30," Austin said. He said serving of the meal will begin promptly at 5:30 to enable those who attend to be able to arrive at their respective churches on time for services.

Hospital Charter

(By Candy-Strippers of Kings Mountain Hospital)

Kings Mountain Hospital is a busy place but especially so on Sunday morning when the patients begin to get ready for the chapel services beginning at 10.

Each Sunday several members of the Kings Mountain Baptist church arrive to give a portion of their Sunday morning to getting the patients, who wish to attend chapel, ready and there on time for the service.

Mrs. J. C. Bridges, choir director for the Kings Mountain Baptist church, played the beautiful Lowry organ purchased by memorial gifts.

Clavonne Kelly, a member of the Kings Mountain Baptist church, spoke to an audience of 17 on the subject of "God, Our Security." Brought out in his message was "Faith in God solves all problems, and through Him can we find our refuge and strength."

The service was then closed with prayer, and the patients returned to their respective rooms.

When asked to comment on the services held in the chapel, many of the patients stated that it was a wonderful thing when you can't attend your own church. The services also give the patients something to think about and look forward to.

The Hospital Chapel is used not only for Sunday services but also for individual meditation, hospital meetings, family gatherings in case of emergency, or for an overflow of visitors.

The Candy Strippers, along with the entire hospital staff, invite the public to attend the services held every Sunday morning.

Miss Dianna Gamble, bookkeeper for the hospital, has been on vacation. Upon her return, she will occupy a new office, the one that formerly housed the medical records. The medical records and staff will be housed downstairs in the room formerly used as a lobby for the West Wing. Mrs. Mary Wilson, insurance clerk, will move into the office vacated by Miss Gamble. Mrs. Pat Wither- spoon will be added to the office staff this week.
