Chili Con Carne
Brown about 2 lbs. of hamburger meat on high heat. Add salt and pepper and 1 teaspoon onion powder. Stir meat as it cooks to brown and tear into small pieces. Add 4 to 5 teaspoons chili powder, mix well. Continue cooking meat until done. Turn heat to low. Add tomato sauce (2-8-oz. or 1-15-oz. cans). Mix well. Add 2-1-lb. cans of tomatoes. Mix. Add 1 1/2 teaspoons sweet basil leaves. Mix well. Add 1/2 cup sugar, 1-15-oz. can pinto beans, and 2-15-oz. cans kidney beans (or use 5 cups pinto beans to substitute for the canned beans). Egg Bread
2 packages dry yeast
1 cup lukewarm water
1/2 cup molasses
2 cups scalded milk, cooled
2 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons shortening (I like to use bacon drippings)
2 cups rye flour
(Extra flour needed for kneading dough)
Dissolve yeast in warm water. Add molasses, milk (to which shortening has been added), salt and mix well. Add flour to form a very soft dough. Place dough in a greased bowl and let rise until double then punch down and knead well adding extra flour to form a dough that is easy to work with but not hard. Shape into loaves and let rise until double. Bake in a moderate (325 degrees oven) for 1 hour. Brush tops of crust with butter. Makes three to four loaves.
