Scoutmasters Receive Training In New Jersey

Piedmont Council Scoutmasters recently completed the practical part of the Wood Badge Course for leadership in Boy Scout training at Schiff Scout Reservation in New Jersey.

The eight-day program was designed by Lord Baden Powell, founder of the Boy Scout movement. The purpose is to train instructors and those responsible for the administration of leadership training locally, including local Wood Badge courses.

There are three parts to Wood Badge training: practical, correspondence, and application. The practical part is an eight-day training experience, consisting of living Scouting 24 hours a day. The correspondence part consists of a series of questions and projects that require written reports from the candidate. The application part is the six-month minimum time elapse between the practical experience and final certification. During this period the Scouter must serve acceptably in his present Scouting responsibility and at the same time give evidence of the use of his Wood Badge training.

All three parts of Wood Badge training must be completed within three years from the date he begins and before final recognition is given.

plete screening of eyes, ears, teeth, and other tests and has received the required vaccines to begin school in September. In addition, the children have received measles shots. Two of the young folk will wear glasses provided by the Kings Mountain Lions club. Two others were referred to Gastonia Orthopedic hospital for treatment of bone malformation. Operation Head Start funds will provide $2,000 for teeth repair of the youngsters. Mr. Bryant said an estimated $8,000 is needed.

Other members of the faculty include a social service worker and aide; a director of nutrition and two aides; a custodian, and four Neighborhood Youth Corps workers.

What are the classroom activities? Director Bryant lists working with clay, crayons, finger-paint, scissors, paste, string, wires, pipe cleaners, egg cartons, blocks, dolls, puzzles, telephones that work (compliments of Southern Bell); musical instruments; listening to records; reading and listening to stories; and out-of-door activities including playing with wagons, see-saws, jumping rope, climbing, riding tricycles and cars, tumbling mats, and jump boards. They have designated one classroom their "safety room."

An active parent group has correlated Head Start activities, meeting four times to set up a policy advisory committee and hear Dr. F. J. Sincox lead a discussion of the child's physical health; Dr. W. A. Floyd and Dr. James Snipes of Appalachian State University lead a discussion of the child's mental and emotional health; Dr. N. H. Reed lead a discussion of the child's vision; and Dr. D. F. Hord lead a discussion of the child's teeth care. An "evaluation meeting" was held by the group on Tuesday morning.

Sewage System

plant were approved by the board of commissioners. Mayor John H. Moss told the board he had been informed by the regional section of the federal pollution agency of Charlottesville, Va. the grant for expansion of the sewage disposal treatment system would be forthcoming "in a few days."

Next steps would be 1) formal resolution by the commission of acceptance of the grant and 2) beginning of construction of the $1,283,000 plant to be built west of Kings Mountain 43,000 feet adjacent to the city's three streams.

Target date for beginning of construction is 90 days from the date the grant is received, said the city's consulting engineer.

Kings Mountain citizens on March 15, 1966 approved issuing $1,300,000 in bonds for the purpose, expected to cover full cost of the program. The favorable vote, 458-19, was a key factor or point in getting in whether the city qualified for federal government grant of up to $360,000.

Plans call for doubling capacity of the McGill treatment plant to 1,000,000 gallons capacity per day, building of a new plant on Pilot Creek, apex of Buffalo and Muddy Fork, with capacity of 2,000,000 gallons per day, installation of necessary pump stations and laying of 7.92 miles of sewer lines including 27,388 feet of 24 inch pipe. The project was approved by the state stream sanitation committee in Raleigh July 1966.

"Correlating both water and sewer service in developing the Buffalo Lake area as a sanitary district, we will be able to take care of the conveniences the people need", said Col. Dickson.

Full text of the resolution as adopted follows: Long-Range water and sewer program for the Kings Mountain Urban Area (to be adopted by the Agency or Instrumentality responsible for Urban Area Comprehensive Planning).

WHEREAS, the board of city commissioners (hereafter referred to as the "Commission") is currently carrying on comprehensive planning for the future growth of the Kings Mountain urban area; and

WHEREAS, the programming and provision of adequate water and sewer facilities to meet the needs of increased population and physical expansion of the urban area is of primary importance to the implementation of such planning; and

WHEREAS, the Commission will provide guidance for action to provide adequate water and sewer facilities in the urban area;

THEREFORE, be it resolved that:

1.) The Commission shall initiate preparation, consistent with long-range, comprehensive planning including water and sewer planning for the urban area, a short-range, areawide water and sewer system program (hereafter referred to as the "Program").

2.) The Program shall provide a basis for coordinating water and sewer programming, development and operations by localities and other agencies in the urban area, and shall consist of, at a minimum, the following:

a. a water and sewer system improvement program for the urban area, identifying the needed improvements for a five to ten year development period; including a schedule of priorities, general estimates of costs, and recommended or anticipated means of financing; and describing the allocation of responsibilities for carrying out the program; and

b. a program for the unified or coordinated operation of the areawide system, including the scheduling of construction, arrangements for interconnections, and giving due consideration to proper management and operation, user fee structures, and levels of service to the public.

3.) The Program shall further include appropriate maps and supporting data indicating the general types, location and service areas of the facilities to be provided; and it shall indicate how available facilities, and those to be provided under the improvement program, will be coordinated so as to provide maximum practicable service at reasonable cost to the urban area.

5.) In the preparation of the Program, the Commission shall invite the participation of and consult with the local, regional and state agencies, public and private, having responsibilities in the planning, development, operation and regulation of water and sewer facilities in the urban area."

Susan Fite

culminate with a two night, three day hike up the Appalachian Trail in the Great Smoky Mountains.

Susan and her mother, Mrs. Henry Fite, are busy this week labeling clothes, packing hiking and camping gear, and all the paraphernalia needed for the trip.

A Ranger aid course, a Red Cross swim course, arts and crafts, archery, music, hiking and back packing are among the activities planned, according to Kay Anderson, of Gastonia, pioneer Girl Scout official who will serve as camp director. Miss Anderson will be assisted by Jane Todd. Unit leader will be Ann Haywood, assisted by Sue Bennett and Becky Reiger.

Sawyer Memorial Camperships are awarded annually to one Cadette Scout, one Junior Scout and one Senior Scout in the Pioneer Council which includes 175 Scout troops in Rutherford, Gaston, Lincoln, and half of Cleveland Counties. The competition is keen, and there are three areas of elimination.

A member of First Presbyterian Cadette Troop 4, Susan may be the first local Girl Scout to win the coveted honor.

The rising high school freshman began her Girl Scout training in the Bethlehem Junior Troop. She has advanced to First Class in Troop 4 Cadettes and Mrs. Ray Holmes, her leader, said the young scout had passed off numerous merit badges, including the four Challenges of proficiency. Each Challenge requires six months each of Scouting accomplishment.

Susan is also active in Bethlehem Baptist church and has played clarinet in the Junior High band. She is also beginning guitar lessons.

Does she play any other musical instruments? "I used to take piano lessons," she says, Mom and Dad play organ."

Ready To Move

Finally were the towns of Grover, Waco, the communities of Mid Pines, Bethlehem, Oak Grove and Bethware.

The mayor reported proffer of a tract of land on Whiteoak Creek by Virgil McIntyre, Shel-Kay Anderson, of Gastonia, pioneer Girl Scout official who will serve as camp director. Miss Anderson will be assisted by Jane Todd. Unit leader will be Ann Haywood, assisted by Sue Bennett and Becky Reiger.

An estimated 2,000 acres will be required, with slightly more than 1300 inundated by a lake to be created by an 84-foot high dam some 500 feet north of SR 2033. The shoreline will approximate 50 miles. The lake will approximate Lake Lure in size.

Mayor Moss commented, "The civic spirit exhibited by Mr. McIntyre and others is most heartening. The Buffalo Creek project not only represents the Kings Mountain area and Eastern Cleveland's answer to its growing problem of water supply, but has important overtones as a recreation center for the whole of Cleveland County and this area of Piedmont North Carolina."

Sometimes we must say "NO"

There are times when a Pharmacist must decline to fill requests for drugs and medicines he has in stock. Of course, this is to protect you from the harmful effects of certain pharmaceuticals.

When your doctor gives you a prescription, it applies to a specified condition at the time of diagnosis. Time, and a change in the state of your health, may alter your need of the drug or medicine. For this reason, your doctor must specify the number of times your pharmacist may refill the original prescription, if at all. So remember, your pharmacist protects YOU when he carries out your doctor's instructions on "prescription only" drugs.
