USEFUL SCRAPS

Members of Extension Homemakers Clubs, Martin County, are conducting a scrap drive. "It's different from the usual scrap drive, however. For they are collecting scraps of fabric," Mrs. Helen L. Hoskins, home economics Extension agent, says.

These pieces of fabric will be donated to the Women's Prison in Raleigh, where the inmates will use them to make quilts.

Proceeds from the quilt sales will go toward the purchase of more pews for "the Chapel of the Nameless Woman."

QUART OF SEEDS

Last spring an effort was made in Hoke County to get residents to plant green and yellow squash. This spring Mrs. E. H. Bowling, Aberdeen, Rt. 1, donated a quart of seeds she had saved from her last year's garden. The seeds were distributed to persons who were eager to plant squash this year.

"These seeds will plant a lot of hills and the fruit will be valuable next fall and winter for baking, broiling and in making pies," Mrs. Ellen E. Willis, home economics Extension agent, believes.

RESIDENT ARTISTS

"Who would have ever thought I could create this?" Mrs. D. A. Simmons, of Columbia, asked as she showed Mrs. Frances Voliva, associate home economics Extension agent, her latest creation in oil paints. Mrs. Simmons was one of more than 20 students who pursued an art course at Pitt Technical Institute.

The original idea for art classes came from the Tyrrell County Fine Arts committee of the Albemarle Area Development Association, who spearheaded the contact; for the program, the agent reports.

"The pictures produced are too numerous to count, the quality too exciting to believe and the enthusiasm too great to hold down," Mrs. Voliva says. "And, it all came about as a result of a three-member committee determined to afford a cultural opportunity to county residents," she adds.

WORTH TIME SPENT

Some husbands wonder why it takes their wives so long to re-finish a picture frame. Two such men were Dewey Godwin and W. T. Simmons, of Lillington, who expected that their wives could redo a picture frame in one day. After the second day, they could see why the additional time was essential.

According to Extension home economics agents, who conducted the refinishing workshop, "Mrs. Simmons had two frames. One had wood and gold leaf, the other was all gold leaf."

Her husband is now very proud of the frames and values them at $75 to $100 each.

Mrs. Godwin had inherited several frames. One was in three parts. She was delighted to get it back into one piece, ready for refinishing, the agents note.

Lovelace Finishes Aviation School

Marine Private First Class William S. Lovelace, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Lovelace of Rte. 1, Kings Mountain, was graduated from the Aviation Electricians Mate School at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Jacksonville, Fla.

He studied the fundamentals of electricity, electronics, aircraft electrical and instrument systems, troubleshooting, and repair of aircraft electric parts.

He also received refresher courses in mathematics and physics.

Dairymen Vote On May 23

North Carolina commercial Grade A milk producers vote Thursday, May 23, on an assessment that would be used in support of the promotion and research programs of the American Dairy Association of North Carolina.

The assessment to be voted on is 4 cents per hundredweight on all Grade A milk sold for the next three years. Currently the assessment is 2 cents per hundredweight.

Two-thirds of those voting must approve the assessment for it to be adopted.

The referendum is sponsored by the American Dairy Association of North Carolina, a farmer-owned organization financed and controlled by dairy farmers.

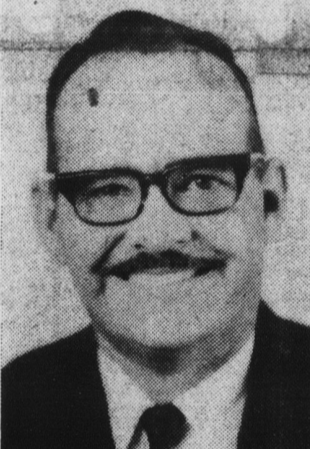

Henry Homme, extension economist in dairy marketing at North Carolina State University, said the referendum is held under terms of a legislative enabling act passed in 1947 and amended in 1967.

Participation in the assessment program would be voluntary. The buyers of Grade A milk would collect the 4 cents per hundred-weight assessment and turn it over to the North Carolina ADA. However, the seller could request a refund if he did not wish to participate.

All North Carolina farmers engaged in the production of Grade A milk on a commercial basis, including owners of farms in which Grade A milk is produced, tenants and share-croppers, are eligible to vote.

Polling places will be set up in each county and announced locally.

Noah Kiser's Rites Conducted

Funeral rites for Noah Walker Kiser, 79, of Grover, were held Monday at 11 a.m. from Shuford-Latcher Chapel in Gafney, interment following in Frederick Memorial Gardens.

Mr. Kiser died Saturday afternoon in the Cherokee Memorial hospital after three months of declining health.

A native of York County, S. C., Mr. Kiser was son of the late William and Roshia Ware Kiser. He was a veteran of World War I and a retired textile worker. He was a member of Shiloh Presbyterian church.

Rev. Stewart White, pastor of Shiloh Presbyterian church, officiated at the final rites.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Mabel Daniel Kiser; a daughter, Mrs. James C. Parris of Gaffney; two sons, W. D. Kiser of Shelby and James W. Kiser of Jaffrey; two sisters, Mrs. C. C. White of Shelby and Mrs. Kate Dixon of Kannapolis; a brother, George B. Kiser of San Diego, California; and seven grandchildren.

MY THANKS

I am grateful for each vote I received from the good people of Kings Mountain and Cleveland County. The help I received from my friends is deeply appreciated.
