Mr. and Mrs. Gary Wayne Ross of 618 Meadowbrook announce the arrival of their first child, a daughter, Sonya Elizabeth, on Sunday, May 19th, Kings Mountain hospital.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Ramsey and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ross, all of Kings Mountain.

Mrs. Lynch

This is McCall's pattern 9116 and features a flattering suit with collared jacket, squared neckline and contoured seaming. It may be belted if desired. The skirt here is slightly flared, but the pattern offers a choice of below-elbow or long sleeves, flared or slim skirt. The cotton shown here is called Monique by Valtex.

It has a diagonal ottoman weave and features an unusual white print on Cloister Brown. Both pattern and fabric are pleasant choices for the woman of taste.

Our model, Liz, is a past president of the Kings Mountain Women's club and the newly-elected chairman of the American Division for District Four of the N. C. Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Lynch recently returned from Pinehurst where she was a delegate to the Federation's state convention and participated in the showing of "Cavalcade of Cottons, 1968."

Any organization interested in the loan wardrobe; may obtain complete information by writing the Cotton Producers Institute, Box 12253, Memphis, Tenn.

Miss Mauney Is Honored

Miss Mary Leigh Mauney, bride-elect, was honor guest recently at a luncheon at Charlotte's City Club.

Entertaining together were Mrs. George Houser and her daughter, Mrs. Shirley Houser Hudson, both of Kings Mountain.

A color note of chartreuse and yellow was combined in decorative details. Guests ate at a long table, overlaid with white linen, and highlighted by runners of chartreuse ribbon the length of the cloth and central arrangements of white and yellow roses. The bride-elect's place was marked by a corsage of white flowers and a place-setting in her china pattern.

The bride-to-be wore a navy blue and chartreuse dress with navy accessories.

Guests, in addition to the bride-elect and two hostesses, were the bride-to-be's mother, Mrs. W. K. Mauney, Jr.; the bride-to-be's grandmother, Mrs. W. K. Mauney Sr.; and Mrs. Philip Broom, Mrs. Bob Wilson, Mrs. Garland E. Still, Mrs. Carl Mauney, Mrs. Amos Dean, Mrs. Jacob Cooper, Mrs. John Edd Queen, Mrs. Howard B. Jackson, Mrs. J. B. Simpson, Mrs. W. L. Mauney, Mrs. William Berkeley, and Miss Beth Houser.

Beta Chapter Met Tuesday

Mrs. Frank Sisk entertained members of Beta Epsilon Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma teacher's sorority at a dinner meeting at her home in Bessemer City Tuesday evening.

Attending the meeting from Kings Mountain were Miss Alice Averitt, Mrs. Helen G. Neal, Mrs. Grady Howard and Mrs. Dick McGinnis. Miss Averitt, schools teaching consultant, newly-elected president of the group, presided. Plans for the year 1968-69 were discussed.

Members of the sorority are composed of teachers from Kings Mountain, Cherryville, Lincolnton and Bessemer City.

Dinner-Bridge For Miss Mauney

Mrs. Wilson Crawford entertained Friday evening at her home at dinner-bridge honoring Miss Mary Leigh Mauney, bride-elect.

Guests were present for five tables of bridge and tables were appointed for dinner at the beginning of the party.

Tables were arranged with pink candles and pink nosegays. Miss Mauney's place was marked by a corsage of mums which she pinned to the shoulder of her party dress. The bride-elect's place was also marked by a gift of silver in her selected pattern. Mrs. Crawford also took the occasion to present a gift of crystal to Mrs. Nat Roper, the former Sarah Frances Mauney, bride of last summer. Mrs. Roper is sister of the bride-to-be.

Prizes in bridge went to Mrs. Jacob Cooper who received high score and to Mrs. Howard B. Jackson who won second high.

Fite-Henry

The maid's gown was a formal design of Nile green trimmed with lace. She wore a Nile green organza mum in her hair; the headpiece dropped with tiers of yellow and white pompons.

All the bridesmaids wore formal gowns of pale yellow linen trimmed with lace and flowers. Their matching headdresses were large pale yellow organza mums topped with veiling and they carried bouquets of white and yellow pompons.

Best man for the bridegroom was the bride's brother, Gary R. Henry. Groomsmen were John Hoagland of Vahalla, Glenn Bedford, cousin of the bride, C. H. Nightingale of White Plains and J. Dan Williams of Philadelphia, Pa.

A reception was held after the ceremony at Holiday Inn in Elmsford where the 150 guests were served luncheon beginning at 1 p.m. A band provided music for dancing in the private ballroom of the inn. Wedding colors in green and yellow were predominant in the decorations. The bride's table, done in yellow and green, held the four-tier wedding cake as highlight of decoration. The cake was served following the banquet.

The bride's mother was gowned in pink linen with matching petal hat and a corsage of deeper pink roses. The bridesroom's mother chose a blue lace with matching hat and accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Miller, of White Plains, chose beige lace with a corsage of red roses.

BRIDE AND BRIDEGROOM Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Henry of White Plains, New York are parents of the bride. A 1965 graduate of White Plains high school, she attended Gardner-Webb Junior college in Bowling Springs. Prior to her marriage she was employed by Union Carbide Company and was a member of the Woman's club of White Plains.

The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Fite of Kings Mountain. A 1962 graduate of Kings Mountain school, he was graduated from the University of Wisconsin. He is a member of the South Carolina National Guard and is employed by Craftsman Yarns here. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Fite of Lattimore and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Melton of York, S. C.

The newlyweds have returned from a wedding trip to Honey-moon Hideaway in the Pocono Mountains of Pennsylvania and are residing at Fern Forest Apartments in Gastonia.

The bridegroom's mother, his sister, Miss Susan Fite, and his aunt, Mrs. Frances Adair of Spartanburg, S. C., went to White Plains for the wedding and its attendant festivities.

Members of the wedding party dined and danced at a Friday night rehearsal party at the bride's home. Table decorations were in pink and white and party refreshments were served.
