Sunday Nuptials Unite Clemmers, Kellys; Two Couples Set Wedding Dates

First Baptist church was the setting Sunday for a noon wedding uniting Miss Vivian Elaine Gault and John Carroll Clemmer in marriage.

Vows of the double-ring ceremony were heard by Rev. Robert Mann, minister of the church.

Mrs. F. R. McCurdy was organist for the program of nuptial music including "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach; "Romance" by Rubenstein and "Etude" by Chopin. She played "Trumpet Voluntary In D" by Purcell for the processional and "Priests March" by Mendelssohn for the recessional marches.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white Irish linen styled along empire lines with a Chapel-length train. Heavy Irish lace adorned the high rise neckline, sleeves, hem and train. Her shoulder-length veil of silk illusion was attached to a matching lace pillbox. She carried a crescent of white carnations on a white lace-covered Bible topped with satin streamers and split carnations. For "something old" the bride wore a gold locket given to her mother by her father.

Mrs. Boyce Haywood Gault, Jr., sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a formal gown of pink crepe styled along empire lines and carried a nosegay of pink carnations.

Mr. Clemmer was his son's best man. Ushers were Tommy Clemmer, brother of the bridegroom, and Reb Wiesener.

Miss Mary Anne Houser, cousin of the bridegroom, kept the guest register in the vestibule of the church.

The bride's mother chose a dress of blue lace-trimmed linen with black patent accessories. She wore a shoulder corsage of pink carnations.

The bridegroom's mother wore a blue linen dress overlaid with lace with white accessories and a shoulder corsage of pink carnations.

For a trip to the South Carolina beaches, the bride wore a navy blue suit trimmed in cream-colored linen with a matching blouse and accessories and the carnations lifted from her bouquet.

BRIDE AND BRIDEGROOM

Summer Is Busy Time For Students

Four area collegians are getting a reprieve from books this summer at Camp Rotary, Girl Scout camp near Crowder's Mountain.

The young women are practicing their knowledge of Girl Scout activities by serving as counselors for 70 young people who have enrolled for the third of four sessions of Girl Scout Camp.

They include: Mary Lou Harper, a recent graduate of Kings Mountain high school who plans to enter the University of North Carolina at Greensboro in September, is a counselor to eight, nine and ten year olds in "Happy Hollow".

Becky Dunn, a rising junior at Appalachian State University at Boone, is counselor to girls age 12-16 who call "Bowman's Knob" their home - away-from-home camp.

Kathy Plonk, a recent graduate of Kings Mountain high school who plans to enroll for her freshman year at Appalachian State University at Boone, is serving as counselor to 10th and 11th graders, Senior Scouts, in "Bowman's Knob."

Del Goforth, rising junior at Western Carolina University at Cullowhee, is serving as counselor to girls age 12-16 who are living at Bowman's Knob during their stay at camp.

Susan Goforth, sister of Del's, a Senior Girl Scout in Mrs. Charles Blanton's troop, has also served as an assistant counselor during the first session of camp which opened on Father's Day.

Assistants took classes in counseling June 9-14 before the sessions began. Each session available to Girl Scouts from Pioneer age eight through Senior Girl Scout age is two weeks full activities from swimming, hiking, crafts, and outdoor sports plus cookouts and other scouting events.

Last session of Girl Scout camp for the summer is scheduled to open August 10th.

In addition to numbering four from Kings Mountain on the staff at Camp Rotary this summer, Mrs. Barbara Tarlton, camp director, said two members of the kitchen staff are Ocie Mitchem and Bernice Burris, both of Kings Mountain who are on the kitchen staff during the school term for Kings Mountain district schools.
