

Housekeeping Shouldn't Mar Your Vacation

RALEIGH — Don't let summertime housekeeping come between you and your family, says Mrs. Justine J. Rozier, extension home management specialist, North Carolina State University.

This is the season for fun that should include mother as well as the rest of the family. So when the family is ready for a trip to the shore or the mountains, be ready to relax with them.

You can set up a leisurely housekeeping schedule that will keep your home more than respectable and your family happy — because you'll be spending more time with them.

Short cuts are the secret to easier summer housecleaning. So get down to the essential chores and stay there, Mrs. Rozier advises.

Put away the silver that always polishing. Replace the draperies with "wash and hang" curtains. Store the vases, bowls and knickknacks you've been dusting constantly. Substitute easy-wash bedspreads for light-colored, quilted and synthetic ones.

Also, put slipcovers on furniture in the family room and living room. Turkish towels make "throw-aways." They're easy to wash and feel soft and cool to the touch, Mrs. Rozier says.

Of course, beds still have to be made every day, but it doesn't have to be drudgery. Make it a time for fun with your children. It's surprising the good times that come from doing simple jobs together.

For those cleaning "attacks," divide your house into areas. Devote one morning each to the living area, the sleeping area, and the bath and halls. Friday is a good time to put the living room in shape for weekend company.

Just vacuum the floors and walls, dust the furniture and you're all set, points out Mrs. Rozier.

Even if your house isn't perfect, your family and guests won't notice. What they will notice is what a rested and relaxed hostess you are. And they'll never

Founder of Geography
Eratosthenes, who before the Christian era calculated the distance around the earth to be about 25,000 miles, which is nearly the actual figure, was the real founder of geography.

Sphinx's Sculptor
The name of the sculptor of the Great Sphinx of Egypt remains a riddle. Though the Sphinx is referred to as "she" it is believed that it is a stone portrait of King Khafre, 26th-century B.C. builder of the second pyramid.

guess you got that way by just sticking to the essentials, Mrs. Rozier predicts.

Soil Samples Form Available

The Soil Testing Division of the North Carolina Department of Agriculture has printed new forms to make it easier to provide the necessary information with soil samples sent to the Soil Testing Laboratory, H. W. Dameron, county agricultural Extension Chairman, noted that these forms are much easier to fill out than were the old forms. Only the bare essentials of information are asked for on the new form. Other than the usual name and address, only the sample identification number and the first crop to be grown is required. However, if you want to spend a little more time and get a better test evaluation, space has been provided to give additional information.

The new soil test information sheet is a part of the revisions necessary when the Soil Testing Laboratory began using computers to print the reports mailed back to the sender. The additional information which can be given about each soil sample is more important now than ever. Each bit of information is fed into the computer. Since the computer is unable to think or reason, the resulting report is based only on the information which is entered with the soil test results.

The new soil test information sheet should be used with all routine soil samples from the farm, home, greenhouse, golf course, and parks or athletic grounds. Mr. Dameron emphasized that problem area samples should still be accompanied by the old salmon colored information sheets. Problem area samples are samples which would require the individual attention of the Agronomist. If these samples are not accompanied by the salmon colored sheet they will be considered as routine samples and be given to the computer. The bedside manner of the computer to sick soybeans and dying azaleas still leaves something to be desired.

The new forms, as well as the old problem area forms, along with cartons and mailing boxes are available at the County Extension Office or from the Soil Testing Division, North Carolina Department of Agriculture, Raleigh, N. C. 27602.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Harmon entertained at their home during the weekend. A picnic lunch was served to their guests.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wilson, their daughter, her husband, and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Landing, all of Columbia, S. C.; Annie H. McDaniel, Dora Ann McDaniel and her son, Mark of Shelby; Mrs. Bill Valentine and daughter, Sharon of Harrisburg, N. C.; Mrs. Albert Anderson and three sons, Pat, Robert and Charlie; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Harmon and daughters, Karen and Donna.

Military Salute

Origin of the military salute is obscure but it may have been traced back to the Crusades when it was accepted as a substitute for raising the hat or helmet visor.

Extensive Process

The production of attar of roses is an extensive process. About 340 roses are required to supply a pound of petals and these thousands of petals only make about two drops of the attar.
