

Jaycees

(Continued From Page One) ter, Smith declared the winner and as a result will compete in the spring regional Jaycee meeting. In the next competition, he will meet winners from eight Jaycee clubs in area B, the winner there advancing to regional competition and on to state and national competition.

Continued From Page One Puffy, Scampy

of the young owner, a St. Andrew's student, and returned the dogs. Mrs. Roper and husband, John, are medical students. Sarah Frances Roper is daughter of State Representative and Mrs. W. K. Mauney, Jr. of Kings Mountain.

Continued From Page One Broyhill

been underway since June to obtain the cannon and through efforts of the mayor and Congressman Broyhill. The Howitzer was donated by the government and comes to Kings Mountain from an arsenal in Aniston, Ala. Local Jaycees paid for having the cannon de-militarized and for shipping, which cost about $200, said Jaycee President Joe Smith. Funds for the project were derived from the sale of American flags last Flag Day.

Building Boom

(Continued From Page One) underway on the grounds of Kings Mountain hospital for a proposed 35-bed addition and spring construction is expected for a new 50-bed nursing home to be built adjacent to the hospital. With these additions and projected construction of additions to several churches in the city approximately 500,000 square feet of building will be accomplished by spring of next year.

Whitener

(Continued From Page One) courage to fight for his conclusions. Assuring the crowd he was "not going to filibuster tonight," he reminded them that in the "greatest textile county in the country and in a state whose prosperity depends on the textile industry."

PP&K Contest Attracts 35; Winners Listed

Thirty-five youngsters participated in the PP&K (Pledge, Pledge, Kick) competition sponsored locally by Southwell Ford Co., Saturday morning with winners announced in the eight to 13 age groups.

A nationwide event, the local competition was handled by the Kings Mountain Jaycees with Milt Singletary serving as chairman. Monty Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilson of Shelby Road, was first in his 12-year-old group and exceeded all entrants with a total score of 245.

Winners from Saturday's local preliminary will compete in zone competition Saturday in Charlotte. PP&K winners locally and their scores include: Chris Castor, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Castor of 912 Crescent Circle, age eight group, 122 1/2.

Mark Mercer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mercer, 902 Monroe Ave., age nine group, 159. Jim Carpenter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Carpenter, 510 Bridges Dr., age 10 group, 149.

Joey Wells, son of Mrs. Peggy Wells, Box 461, Kings Mountain, age 11 group, 167. Monty Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilson, age 12 group, 245.

Mike Bennett, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Bennett, 611 W. Gold St., age 13 group, 187.

Neil McCarter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar McCarter of Kings Mountain, earned a place on the 1968-69 Garnet Circle, academic honor society at Erskine college. The Garnet Circle is composed of the 25 Erskine students compiling the highest academic average for the previous year.

A senior English and French major at Erskine, Mr. McCarter is a 1963 graduate of Kings Mountain high school. At Erskine he has been a member of the S.C.A. Cabinet, Editor of the Erskine Review, and an officer in the Euphemian Literary Society. This is the second year he has earned a place in the Garnet Circle.

Artist - Scientist (Continued From Page One) children is what television is to families now. He went to an arts college but says he always knew that the "artistic" life was not for him.

He is obviously satisfied with his medical work and stimulated by the demands of his profession. "It would be a strain to paint professionally," he said.

McDaniel, who prefers bright colors and few details, likes to create a light and free mood and usually paints the things he likes and the people he cares about.

Besides the portraits, McDaniel does still-life and landscapes. He paints floral or fruit arrangements, usually in an informal composition, and his landscapes are primarily rural scenes. "These paintings are only what I like," he said, "things that are real, things that are simple and casual."

His most recent exhibit was the weekend of September 14 at the festival sponsored by the York-Chester Artists Guild. Pleased to know that people like his work, McDaniel is a scientist-artist who has followed his ambitions and still satisfied personal interests.

Woodward Edits Alcoa Paper

Diek Woodward, a former sports editor of the Kings Mountain Herald, assumed duties Sept. 9th as editor of "Tarheel Alcoa," at Aluminum Company of America's Badin Works where he succeeds John E. Wright as public relations assistant.

"Tarheel Alcoa" is published by Alcoa to present information to its employees, neighbors and friends in North Carolina. A native of Shelby, Mr. Woodward is son of Joe Lee Woodward of Kings Mountain and Mrs. Gertrude Woodward of Winston Salem. He graduated from Shelby high school and earned his degree in physical education from East Carolina college. He is a former sports editor of the Shelby Daily Star, going to the Star from the Herald, and to Badin from the sports staff of the Greensboro Daily News.

Mr. Woodward, his wife, Erika, and their daughter, Ana Jane, are residing at 55 Maple street in Badin.

Junior Police Meet Friday

24 pt - JUNIOR POLICE ... Forty-three Junior Policemen will gather at City Hall courtroom Friday at 6 p.m. for regular meeting.

Any youngsters age 10-16 interested in joining the group are invited to attend, said Ellis King, city officer in charge. Carls with the Junior Police Pledge and a badge are issued each member. The club elects its own officers and sergeants and meet to discuss individual problems with adult officers.

Heading up the local program are Officer King and Chief Tom McDevitt.

Firemen Set Benefit Supper

Bethlehem Volunteer Fire Department will sponsor a barbecue chicken supper Saturday with serving from 5 until 8 p.m. at the fire department in the Bethlehem community.

Plates are $1.50 each. Proceeds from the sale are earmarked to purchase fire-fighting equipment, said a spokesman for the department.

Mail Early For Christmas Says Alexander

Postmaster Charles Alexander said the designated periods have been designated for mailing Christmas parcels to members of the armed forces overseas:

- 1) Surface Transportation - October 14 to November 9. 2) SAM (Space Available Mail) - October 21 to November 23. 3) PAL (Parcel Air Lift) - October 28 to November 30. 4) Airmail - November 30 to December 11.

The term "Armed Forces Overseas" includes personnel of the Armed Forces, members of their families, and U. S. Civilians employed overseas who receive their mail through an APO or FPO, New York, San Francisco or Seattle.

White Rites Are Conducted

Funeral rites for Mrs. Barbara Annette Bess White, 28, and her infant son were held Friday at 3 p.m. from Shady Grove Baptist church, interment following in the church cemetery.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Ann Regalia Barrett; his son, James R. Barrett, Jr. of the home; three daughters, Crystal Lynn, Leigh Ann and Julie Marie Barrett, all of the home; one brother, Arthur A. Barrett of Kings Mountain; and one sister, Mrs. Clyde J. Bridges of Kings Mountain.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday at 4 p.m. from First Wesleyan Methodist Church with the Rev. Carl B. Sparks officiating. Interment was in Mountain Rest cemetery.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Ann Regalia Barrett; his son, James R. Barrett, Jr. of the home; three daughters, Crystal Lynn, Leigh Ann and Julie Marie Barrett, all of the home; one brother, Arthur A. Barrett of Kings Mountain; and one sister, Mrs. Clyde J. Bridges of Kings Mountain.

Flag Flies Daily At Legion Hall

The American flag flies 24 hours a day now at the American Legion building here. Commander Carl V. Wiesener said permission to fly flag to honor the men in Vietnam was granted by the War Department.

The flag will be flown until the Vietnam conflict is over, said Wiesener. Request to fly the flag daily was asked by District 15 of the American Legion, Department of North Carolina.

St. Andrews Story Will Be Heard By Presbyterians

There will be a St. Andrews campaign dinner meeting for deacons and elders of the Presbyterian Churches in the Kings Mountain area Wednesday, October 23, 7 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church.

Robert F. Davenport will present the story of St. Andrews Presbyterian College, Laurinburg, and show a color film of the campus.

Mr. Davenport is a native of St. Petersburg, Florida, married and has two daughters. He received his B.A. in 1957 from the University of Florida, M.A., 1960, P.S.C.E., and B.D., 1963 from Yale Divinity School. He was assistant Dean of Students and Assistant Professor of Religion, '63-'65 and College Pastor since '65 at St. Andrews Presbyterian College.

Injuries Suffered Saturday Fatal To J. R. Barrett

James Richard Barrett, 37, of 405 Gant Street, Kings Mountain, died Sunday afternoon in Charlotte Memorial Hospital from injuries received late Saturday afternoon when he fell from the back of a truck on Highway 74, half a mile east of Buffalo Creek. He was moving household goods from his former residence when the accident occurred, the accident being witnessed by his wife who was driving a car behind the truck laden with their household furnishings.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday at 4 p.m. from First Wesleyan Methodist Church with the Rev. Carl B. Sparks officiating. Interment was in Mountain Rest cemetery.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Ann Regalia Barrett; his son, James R. Barrett, Jr. of the home; three daughters, Crystal Lynn, Leigh Ann and Julie Marie Barrett, all of the home; one brother, Arthur A. Barrett of Kings Mountain; and one sister, Mrs. Clyde J. Bridges of Kings Mountain.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 4 p.m. from First Wesleyan Methodist Church with the Rev. Carl B. Sparks officiating. Interment was in Mountain Rest cemetery.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Ann Regalia Barrett; his son, James R. Barrett, Jr. of the home; three daughters, Crystal Lynn, Leigh Ann and Julie Marie Barrett, all of the home; one brother, Arthur A. Barrett of Kings Mountain; and one sister, Mrs. Clyde J. Bridges of Kings Mountain.

Rev. Taylor Revival Speaker

Rev. T. D. (Tommy) Taylor of Lenoir will be evangelist for revival services beginning Monday and continuing through Sunday at Cherokee Street Baptist church.

Services will be held nightly at 7 p.m. Rev. Kelly Dixon, pastor of the church, issued an invitation to the public to attend.

Services will be held Tuesday at 4 p.m. from First Wesleyan Methodist Church with the Rev. Carl B. Sparks officiating. Interment was in Mountain Rest cemetery.

ELECTED - B. N. Barnes of Lumberton, former Kings Mountain schools superintendent, was elected Southeastern district president of Retired School Personnel, Division of North Carolina, at the district's 46th annual convention in Wilmington Friday. The district includes 10 counties.

B. F. Bird, 79, Dies Suddenly At Grover Home

Funeral rites for Benjamin F. Bird, 79, of Grover were conducted Saturday at 3 p.m. from First Baptist Church with the Rev. U. A. McManus, Jr., the Rev. Fred Crisp and the Rev. Don Cabiness officiating. Interment followed in Grover cemetery.

Principal at Grover School from 1925 to 1936, he died unexpectedly Thursday afternoon at his home. He served as postmaster at Grover from 1936 to 1959, was a former Sunday School teacher at First Baptist Church, a Mason and a veteran of World War I.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Cora Lee Kleckley Bird; four daughters, Mrs. Alma Ferguson of Lancaster, Calif., Mrs. Robert Troop of Lincoln, R. I., Mrs. Sheldon Plager of Urbana, Ill. and Mrs. Emery Morris of Norfolk, Va.; two brothers, W. W. Bird of Alto Valley, Calif., and J. F. Bird of Greenville, S. C.; four sisters, Mrs. Odessa Herndon of Columbia, S. C., Mrs. Edna Webster of Newberry, S. C., Mrs. Alice Brown of Blytheville, S. C., and Mrs. John R. Love of Kings Creek, S. C.; 11 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Davis Wins Bronze Star

Army Sergeant Donald L. Davis, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy Davis, Bessemer City, N. C., received the Bronze Star Medal Sept. 27 at Ft. Riley, Kan.

Sgt. Davis received the award for heroism in action while engaged in ground operations against a hostile force during his last assignment in Vietnam.

During the same ceremony, he was awarded the Purple Heart for wounds received in action.

The sergeant is a forward observer with Battery E, of the 7th Artillery's 2nd Battalion at the fort. He entered the Army in February 1966, completed basic training at Ft. Gordon, Ga., and served in Vietnam with the 30th Artillery. He holds the Army Commendation Medal.

The sergeant attended Bessemer City High School. Before entering the Army, he was employed by Ellenboro Mills, Ellenboro, N. C. His wife, Patricia, lives in Forest City, N. C.

Huffstickler Dies At 38

Kings Mountain friends have received word of the death of Major Jack Huffstickler, 38, in U. S. Naval Hospital, Charleston, S. C. Major Huffstickler was in command of the U. S. Air Force Radar Station.

He is survived by his wife, Sarah; their five children; his mother, Mrs. C. A. Huffstickler of Fort Myers, Fla.; his sister, Mrs. Harold Earp of Fort Myers, Fla.; his brother, Albert C. Huffstickler of Riviera Beach, Fla.

Funeral rites are scheduled in Enterprise, Alabama.

AT CONFERENCE Gerald Wayne Matheny, son of Mr. James A. Matheny of Route 2, a student at Western Carolina University, recently attended a pre-session conference of student leaders on the University campus. Matheny, a senior majoring in English and professional writing, was a delegate to the conference representing Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Funeral rites are scheduled in Enterprise, Alabama.

Johnson Wins Rank Advancement

CAN THO, VIETNAM (AHT-NC) - Jones O. Johnson, son of Mrs. Oatha Johnson, 441 Hilltop, Kings Mountain, N. C., was promoted to Army staff sergeant Sept. 20 while assigned to the 69th Engineer Battalion near Can Tho, Vietnam, as a motor sergeant.

His wife, Mary, lives at 12 Green Ave., York, S. C. His father, Mazzelle Jackson, lives at 350 Harding Ave., Startford, Conn.

Birth Announcements

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Anthony, 1744 Smith Street, Gastonia, announce the birth of a son, Wednesday, October 9, Kings Mountain hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Keenum 511 West Airline Avenue, Gastonia, announce the birth of a daughter, Friday, October 11, Kings Mountain hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Reid, Kings Mountain, announce the birth of a son, Friday, October 11, Kings Mountain hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. James Putnam, route 2, Bessemer City, announce the birth of a son, Monday, October 14, Kings Mountain hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Madison Hunter, route 2, announce the birth of a son, Monday, October 14, Kings Mountain hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Galloway, 515 Belvedere Circle, announce the birth of a son, Monday, October 14, Kings Mountain hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Ramsey, route 2, Cherryville, announce the birth of a son, Monday, October 14, Kings Mountain hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Miles Camp, 12 Poplar Court, announce the birth of a son, Wednesday, October 16, Kings Mountain hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dixon, 407 Phifer Road, announces the birth of a son, Monday, October 14, Kings Mountain hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. James Putnam, route 2, Bessemer City, announce the birth of a son, Monday, October 14, Kings Mountain hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Madison Hunter, route 2, announce the birth of a son, Monday, October 14, Kings Mountain hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Galloway, 515 Belvedere Circle, announce the birth of a son, Monday, October 14, Kings Mountain hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Ramsey, route 2, Cherryville, announce the birth of a son, Monday, October 14, Kings Mountain hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Miles Camp, 12 Poplar Court, announce the birth of a son, Wednesday, October 16, Kings Mountain hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dixon, 407 Phifer Road, announces the birth of a son, Monday, October 14, Kings Mountain hospital.

Equipment Needs Attention

Valuable pesticide application equipment needs attention for winter storage. John W. Glover, extension biological and agricultural engineering specialist at N. C. State University, says hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of equipment becomes valueless each year because of inattention.

Like most pieces of equipment, the "heart" of the application rig, the pump, is the most costly—and needs more attention. Glover says the pump should be protected by flushing, draining, then filling with permanent anti-freeze—and finally plugged to keep filled. Always follow the directions for storage coming with the pump or specified by the pump manufacturer.

Tanks, lines and nozzles on spray equipment—as well as costly pumps—often require replacement each year because of poor storage. Most of the problems come from water and chemicals left in them.

First, select a ground site where harmful residues will not affect land use, either at cleaning location or by run-off.

Then, flush and drain all parts—tank, pump, lines and nozzles—with solution recommended by manufacturer or county extension agent. Then, flush this solution with sufficient water to remove cleaning or neutralizing solution, followed by "one more" rinse.

Hang hoses until drained dry, then coil and place in cool dark place. Coiled neatly and placed where they will not be affected by extremes of cold or heat, most hoses can give a long life. They should never be hung, but should be placed in neat coils on a flat surface in a darkened area, he says.

Tanks should be drained and left vented until dry, then closed. Temperature changes can cause moisture to condense from the air in tanks. No problems are experienced with glass-lined tanks, but metal tanks can "pit" from standing water.

Nozzles should be closely inspected and stored with regards to sizes. Metal nozzles should be in clean, light oil. Worn nozzles should be discarded never kept for spares, but replaced, with new spares bought before the need arises. Improper application resulting from worn nozzles can be costly—and even disastrous with greater use of higher concentrates in low volume and ultra low volume application control chemicals, Glover points out.

Boiling "Spring" To Be Dedicated 14 pt box FT - BOILING Spring A neighboring Tar Heel town will regain a lost name under a dedicatory rite November 2 at 12:30 at Boiling Springs.

Boiling Springs is once again going to have a basis for its name, says Alex H. Vaughn, director of promotion.

The new $85,000 entrance to Gardner Webb college will incorporate a "boiling spring" as part of its form. The spring will boil up and then cascade down over rock. Although not in the same location as the historic spring, this one will replace the active springs which were dynamited over a decade ago by an individual trying to create a single spring from several which boiled up just south of the college's library building.

He accomplished this by finishing in the top one-third of his graduating company in the overall combined scores of rifle marksmanship, physical training and end-of-training general proficiency test results.

Other new officers of the Association are John C. Thorne, director of Raleigh Civil Defense, Vice-President; Frank Lewis, assistant director; Harnett County Civil Defense Agency; Treasurer; and Mrs. Anne Partin, director, High Point Civil Defense Agency, Secretary.

Other new officers of the Association are John C. Thorne, director of Raleigh Civil Defense, Vice-President; Frank Lewis, assistant director; Harnett County Civil Defense Agency; Treasurer; and Mrs. Anne Partin, director, High Point Civil Defense Agency, Secretary.

Other new officers of the Association are John C. Thorne, director of Raleigh Civil Defense, Vice-President; Frank Lewis, assistant director; Harnett County Civil Defense Agency; Treasurer; and Mrs. Anne Partin, director, High Point Civil Defense Agency, Secretary.

Other new officers of the Association are John C. Thorne, director of Raleigh Civil Defense, Vice-President; Frank Lewis, assistant director; Harnett County Civil Defense Agency; Treasurer; and Mrs. Anne Partin, director, High Point Civil Defense Agency, Secretary.

Other new officers of the Association are John C. Thorne, director of Raleigh Civil Defense, Vice-President; Frank Lewis, assistant director; Harnett County Civil Defense Agency; Treasurer; and Mrs. Anne Partin, director, High Point Civil Defense Agency, Secretary.

Equipment Needs Attention

Valuable pesticide application equipment needs attention for winter storage. John W. Glover, extension biological and agricultural engineering specialist at N. C. State University, says hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of equipment becomes valueless each year because of inattention.

Like most pieces of equipment, the "heart" of the application rig, the pump, is the most costly—and needs more attention. Glover says the pump should be protected by flushing, draining, then filling with permanent anti-freeze—and finally plugged to keep filled. Always follow the directions for storage coming with the pump or specified by the pump manufacturer.

Tanks, lines and nozzles on spray equipment—as well as costly pumps—often require replacement each year because of poor storage. Most of the problems come from water and chemicals left in them.

First, select a ground site where harmful residues will not affect land use, either at cleaning location or by run-off.

Then, flush and drain all parts—tank, pump, lines and nozzles—with solution recommended by manufacturer or county extension agent. Then, flush this solution with sufficient water to remove cleaning or neutralizing solution, followed by "one more" rinse.

Hang hoses until drained dry, then coil and place in cool dark place. Coiled neatly and placed where they will not be affected by extremes of cold or heat, most hoses can give a long life. They should never be hung, but should be placed in neat coils on a flat surface in a darkened area, he says.

Tanks should be drained and left vented until dry, then closed. Temperature changes can cause moisture to condense from the air in tanks. No problems are experienced with glass-lined tanks, but metal tanks can "pit" from standing water.

Nozzles should be closely inspected and stored with regards to sizes. Metal nozzles should be in clean, light oil. Worn nozzles should be discarded never kept for spares, but replaced, with new spares bought before the need arises. Improper application resulting from worn nozzles can be costly—and even disastrous with greater use of higher concentrates in low volume and ultra low volume application control chemicals, Glover points out.

Boiling "Spring" To Be Dedicated 14 pt box FT - BOILING Spring A neighboring Tar Heel town will regain a lost name under a dedicatory rite November 2 at 12:30 at Boiling Springs.

Boiling Springs is once again going to have a basis for its name, says Alex H. Vaughn, director of promotion.

The new $85,000 entrance to Gardner Webb college will incorporate a "boiling spring" as part of its form. The spring will boil up and then cascade down over rock. Although not in the same location as the historic spring, this one will replace the active springs which were dynamited over a decade ago by an individual trying to create a single spring from several which boiled up just south of the college's library building.

He accomplished this by finishing in the top one-third of his graduating company in the overall combined scores of rifle marksmanship, physical training and end-of-training general proficiency test results.

Other new officers of the Association are John C. Thorne, director of Raleigh Civil Defense, Vice-President; Frank Lewis, assistant director; Harnett County Civil Defense Agency; Treasurer; and Mrs. Anne Partin, director, High Point Civil Defense Agency, Secretary.

Other new officers of the Association are John C. Thorne, director of Raleigh Civil Defense, Vice-President; Frank Lewis, assistant director; Harnett County Civil Defense Agency; Treasurer; and Mrs. Anne Partin, director, High Point Civil Defense Agency, Secretary.

Other new officers of the Association are John C. Thorne, director of Raleigh Civil Defense, Vice-President; Frank Lewis, assistant director; Harnett County Civil Defense Agency; Treasurer; and Mrs. Anne Partin, director, High Point Civil Defense Agency, Secretary.

Other new officers of the Association are John C. Thorne, director of Raleigh Civil Defense, Vice-President; Frank Lewis, assistant director; Harnett County Civil Defense Agency; Treasurer; and Mrs. Anne Partin, director, High Point Civil Defense Agency, Secretary.

Other new officers of the Association are John C. Thorne, director of Raleigh Civil Defense, Vice-President; Frank Lewis, assistant director; Harnett County Civil Defense Agency; Treasurer; and Mrs. Anne Partin, director, High Point Civil Defense Agency, Secretary.

(Continued From Page One) courage to fight for his conclusions. Assuring the crowd he was "not going to filibuster tonight," he reminded them that in the "greatest textile county in the country and in a state whose prosperity depends on the textile industry."

"One of every two in the manufacturing industry have jobs and earn money in the textile industry," he said.

Senator Byrd reminded the crowd of Whitener's interest in law and order and that he himself had served as chairman of the appropriations committee for the District of Columbia and had learned first hand of the crime and welfare of that city.

"On the House side the man I think of in connection with law and order is Basil Whitener," he said.

The native North Carolinian roused his audience when he declared that "the Democratic party can give leadership—we don't need to look elsewhere."

Reminding that the Democrats gave the nation Social Security under the FDR administration, he proffered "when you reach three score and 10 you will long bless the Democratic party for giving checks to you . . . and they'll arrive just as regularly as the post-men will run."

"North Carolinians receive $39 million 12 times a year in Social Security checks," he said.

Citing programs that have highlighted the Democratic administration such as education programs, federal insurance for bank deposits, electricity in farm homes, and gainfully employing the unemployed, he said "I don't want to go back to eating fat-back—I want to continue eating high on the hog."

Senator Byrd told the group he voted against Abe Fortas and added, "I'd like to vote for Sam Ervin on the Supreme Court."

The rally was kicked off with a barbecue supper and in attendance were Whitener supporters from the eight counties comprising the 10th district; Caldwell, Cleveland, Catawba, Burke, Alexander, Avery, Watauga and Gaston.

Among the North Carolina officials attending other than those already mentioned were Ed Lanier, commissioner of insurance; Frank Crane, commissioner of state; Edwin Gill, state treasurer; Jimmy Johnson, state party secretary; Jack Hertz, national committeeman; Mrs. Mary Winfield, national committeewoman; Henry Bridges, state auditor; and Graham Bell, national committeeman for the Young Democrats.

Lt. Gov. Bob Scott, candidate for governor, had a conflict and could not attend the gathering while Mrs. Scott, who had been expected, wired that she was "physically exhausted" and felt she would have to rest in order to continue working for her husband.

Debbie Plonk (Continued From Page One) ue, Debbie, a Girl's State nominee and Miss Hi Miss, still finds time for every phase of high school life. She is an officer in the French Club, K Club, F.H.A. and F.T.A., co-editor of the annual, an SPO representative, and a senior class officer. In the sports world, she enjoys basketball and softball.

Miss Plonk, along with all other winners in this district, will be honored November 9 with a program and lunch at Gardner Webb College. She will also be presented the DAR pin and certificate at the regular November meeting of the local DAR chapter.

Garnet Circle Taps McCarter

Neil McCarter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar McCarter of Kings Mountain, earned a place on the 1968-69 Garnet Circle, academic honor society at Erskine college.

The Garnet Circle is composed of the 25 Erskine students compiling the highest academic average for the previous year.

A senior English and French major at Erskine, Mr. McCarter is a 1963 graduate of Kings Mountain high school. At Erskine he has been a member of the S.C.A. Cabinet, Editor of the Erskine Review, and an officer in the Euphemian Literary Society. This is the second year he has earned a place in the Garnet Circle.

Artist - Scientist (Continued From Page One) children is what television is to families now. He went to an arts college but says he always knew that the "artistic" life was not for him.

He is obviously satisfied with his medical work and stimulated by the demands of his profession. "It would be a strain to paint professionally," he said.

McDaniel, who prefers bright colors and few details, likes to create a light and free mood and usually paints the things he likes and the people he cares about.

Besides the portraits, McDaniel does still-life and landscapes. He paints floral or fruit arrangements, usually in an informal composition, and his landscapes are primarily rural scenes. "These paintings are only what I like," he said, "things that are real, things that are simple and casual."

His most recent exhibit was the weekend of September 14 at the festival sponsored by the York-Chester Artists Guild. Pleased to know that people like his work, McDaniel is a scientist-artist who has followed his ambitions and still satisfied personal interests.

His most recent exhibit was the weekend of September 14 at the festival sponsored by the York-Chester Artists Guild. Pleased to know that people like his work, McDaniel is a scientist-artist who has followed his ambitions and still satisfied personal interests.

White Rites Are Conducted

Funeral rites for Mrs. Barbara Annette Bess White, 28, and her infant son were held Friday at 3 p.m. from Shady Grove Baptist church, interment following in the church cemetery.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Ann Regalia Barrett; his son, James R. Barrett, Jr. of the