

Eighty-Five Mauney Family Members Gather For Annual Christmas Dinner

Eighty-five family members of the J. S. Mauney family attended the annual Christmas-season gathering December 27th at the Woman's club.

Highlight of the party was fellowship and reminiscing of the group as they looked at pictures made of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Mauney on their 50th wedding anniversary November 11, 1923. Guests at the reception that day were also shown on the photograph made into placecards for the luncheon and copies given to each family represented.

Mrs. W. L. Mauney read the annual history, which reflected births, deaths, marriages among the various families represented during the year. Miles Mauney of Oberlin, Ohio, accompanied at the piano for carol singing following the meal.

Members assembled for a fellowship hour in the lounge of the Woman's club which was festively decorated for Christmas. Tomato juice appetizers were served.

Hurricane lamps of red satin balls and greenery decorated the tables in the dining room. Place mats were family pictures of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Mauney on their golden wedding day November 11, 1923. Holly placecards marked the places of guests.

Rev. Charles Easley, pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran church, offered the invocation. Rev. Edgar Cooper of Pottstown, Pa., was master of ceremonies.

The family gathering closed as members sang "Blest Be The Tie."

Members of the family of Mrs. E. C. Cooper and the late Dr. Cooper headed the committee on arrangements.

BEAUTY'S COST COMES HIGH

New York (WMNS) — The experts are finding out what every woman already knows: The cost of beauty runs high. How high?

According to Drug Trade News, Americans (men as well as women) spent a whopping $5 billion for such beauty aids as lipstick ($217 million); face powder ($35 million); cleansing creams, powder puffs, eye makeup and face lotions ($830 million); hair products ($1.3 billion); hand products ($186 million); and toiletries such as perfumes, bath salts, and deodorants ($1.7 billion). Orally hygiene products and shaving products came to almost $1.5 billion.

For just how much sums like $5 billion can buy: In fiscal 1966 such federal agencies as the Office of Economic Opportunity spent less than $1.5 billion; the Housing and Urban Development Department about $772 million. The Health, Education and Welfare Department spent about $7 billion for its many vital programs. AVOIDING UNWED

TEEN PREGNANCY

Philadelphia, Pa. (WMNS) — Teenagers as well as older people sometimes need help in dealing with their sexual problems, and it is the doctor's job to provide this help in a nonjudgmental way. This is what Dr. Harold I. Lief, a psychiatrist, told an interviewer recently.

Noting that the physician must be guided by the life situation of the youngster who comes to him seeking contraceptive-counseling, Dr. Lief said, "I feel that if a girl wants the pill, the chances are that she's already embarked on sexual relations or, at least, that she's contemplating them."

"I don't think the pill is going to make much difference in the decision-making process — other factors account for the decision to engage in coitus or not."

Dr. Lief said that if a youngster is "highly irresponsible" she should be protected against an unwanted pregnancy. "In my hierarchy of values," he said, "I feel that bringing another unwanted child into the world is far worse an individual and social sin than premarital intercourse."

Dr. Lief is director, Division of Family Study, University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine.

DENTAL SPECIALTIES A JAW BREAKER

Chicago, Ill. (WMNS)—Man's ills may or may not be multiplying, but the specialties required to treat them certainly are. Here's a list of dental specialties you may one day become involved in:

pedodontics — children's dentistry.

periodontics — diagnosis and treatment of disease affecting the gums and other structures surrounding and supporting the teeth.

orthodontics — prevention and correction of irregularities in tooth position, jaw relationship and facial deformities caused by these disorders.

Resolved—That 1969 Will Be Healthier For Family Members During New Year

By LOUISE CHASE Women's Medical News Service

New York (WMNS) — Resolved, that 1969 will be a healthier year than all the others because I will try to prevent illness as well as seek treatment for it when it strikes. Here are my health resolutions for the New Year:

"I will obtain for myself and my family all the immunizations available to prevent diseases such as measles, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, smallpox, and poliomyelitis. And I will keep track of the booster situation for all of us.

"I will serve my family attractive, wholesome, balanced meals so that proper diet will be as natural to them as breathing. I will zealously avoid overfeeding. I will discourage fad and crash diets.

"I will try to keep myself trim by regular, steady exercise throughout the year. Since exercise that is fun is more likely to be adhered to than drudge exercise, I will help each member of my family find the exercise that pleases him. Walking at a brisk pace several miles a day, dancing under a teacher's guidance, swimming, yoga, cycling, skating, golf, tennis, skiing, team sports — the list is endless — and there is something for all taste, age, and frailty.

"I will not smoke and I will urge members of my family to avoid starting or to break the habit. The evidence mounts that smoking is the culprit in many diseases of the respiratory system and may be implicated in circulatory problems. Its association with lung cancer is, of course, well known.

"I will try to eliminate tension, anxiety, and fear from our lives to help us keep mentally healthy. I will educate myself and my family in the area of sex so that all of us will recognize it as a healthy, desirable aspect of human nature, as open for discussion as any other area of our lives.

"I will plan our family so that our children enter our lives when we want them and when we will be able to give each a full measure of our love and care. I will seek expert planning guidance.

When I become pregnant I will have regular prenatal care. I will do my best to follow my physician's instructions on diet, exercise, and related matters and will call to his attention any questions, apprehensions, or problems.

"I will have regular medical checkups and will arrange for my family to have them.

"I will try, in sum, to make a reality in my own life of the World Health Organization's definition of health: Health is a state of complete physical, mental, and social well-being and not merely the absence of disease or infirmity.
