Garlands of beaded lace enhanced the hemline. The cathedral length train of imported Brussels lace was worn mantilla style. She carried a cascade of white camellias with a gossamer touch of stephanotis appearing in a cluster and in wafting streamers.

Mrs. Joseph Brown Bowen of Atlanta, Ga., sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Mrs. Willis Jenkins Hidell of Atlanta, Ga., sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. Lucy Bowen, niece of the bride, was flower girl and Bruce Bowen, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

All the attendants wore floor-length gowns of emerald green peau de soie with bateau necklines and empire waistlines adding interest to the A-line silhouettes. They wore matching head-dresses and slippers and carried sprays of white mums with clustered stephanotis and leather leaf.

The bridegroom's father was best man. The list of groomsmen included Herbert Singletary, Willis Jenkins Hidell, Dr. Thomas Ellis, C. J. Jones, Herbert Eugene McTeer, and Barry Edwards.

The pink and white theme of the wedding was beautifully carried out in decorative details at the reception following the ceremony in the church fellowship hall. Hosts were the bride's parents.

Epergnes of pink camellias, carnations and candytuft were placed on satin and organza tablecovers. Candelabra and white tapers encircled the tiered colonial wedding cake which high lighted the bride's table.

After a wedding trip to San Juan, Puerto Rico and St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands the newlyweds will be at home on Whitesides road in Gastonia.

In garlands down each side of the A-line skirt. A detachable mantle train trimmed with matching lace fell from the shoulder to a chapel-length train. Her veil of triple tiers of illusion was attached to a plateau of lace floor-ets trimmed with pearls and crystals. She carried a cascade of red roses centered with a white orchid.

Miss Ann Le Furgey of Raleigh, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Cynthia Wright of Grover, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Janice Ambrose of Cocoa Beach, Fla.; Miss Nancy Brown of Virginia Beach, Va.; Mrs. Don Bumgardner of Columbia, S. C.; Mrs. Doug Clinton of Summerville, S. C., and Mrs. Harold Ellis of Chesnee, S. C. Flower girl was Erin Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carlyle Jackson of Gastonia.

All the attendants wore floor-length gowns of red sculptured velvet and silk chiffon. The empire velvet bodices were styled with scoop necklines and elbow-length sleeves. A fold of red satin underscored the bustlines. Flowing chiffon panels caught to satin bows at the shoulders and fell to the hemlines in cage effect. They wore headdresses which were tulle veils caught to velvet bows and carried cascades of red carnations nestled in holly and tied with green streamers.

The bridegroom's father was best man. Ushers were Chip Crisp of Dallas, brother of the bride; Don Bumgardner of Columbia, S. C.; Richard Gold of Tallahassee, Fla.; Gary Collins and Andy Davis, both of Grover; and Bob Morris of Kings Mountain.

Jeff Barnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Barnes of Gastonia, was ringbearer.

The bride's mother was gowned in pink with pink accessories. She carried an evening bag topped with a white orchid.
