Turkey Log Is Recipe You'll Enjoy

Hi girls! Pour yourself a cup of coffee — you deserve it — relax in your favorite chair, and let's talk turkey. Did you know that the turkey is a true blue-blooded American and was an important source of food for the American Indian long before Columbus discovered America? And just as these United States have grown and progressed, so has the turkey. The turkey was once a special season food but now is used in a variety of attractive ways. Today, we suggest you buy one of the new boned turkey logs in either white meat, dark meat, or a combination of both, depending upon the tastes of your family. You will find this turkey log can be used just as you would any large meat item — have a main meal from it and then sandwiches, etc. during the week. And now let's make a sandwich. No ordinary sandwich, girls, but one you'll be proud to serve to guests. This recipe is called Suz Wong's Delight and comes to us from H. Ewe Hin Lim, Assistant Food and Beverage Manager of the Statler Hilton in New York.

SUZ WONG'S DELIGHT
1 loaf day-old enriched sandwich bread, unsliced
12 ounces breast of turkey, thinly sliced
12 ounces boiled ham, thinly sliced
4 eggs, beaten
1/2 cup milk
Fat for deep frying

Remove all crusts from bread. Cut loaf lengthwise into even slices. Wrap slices in clean, moist cloth and refrigerate only until moist and pliable. Roll slices lengthwise with rolling pin to flatten. Place ham lengthwise on half of slice and turkey on other half. Gently roll up bread like a jelly roll, beginning with turkey-covered half. Secure with wooden picks. Wrap rolls in clean, moist cloth and refrigerate 2 to 3 hours, or freeze until ready for use. Heat fat to 375 deg. F. Combine eggs and milk. Dip rolls into egg mixture. Fry in deep hot fat until golden brown. Remove picks and serve hot. Garnish with lettuce, tomato and water cress. Makes 8 sandwiches.

This recipe from the North Carolina Poultry Federation is one of those nice extras to have tucked in your card file when the occasion calls for something special.

If you haven't the time to roll the bread out an dthen roll it up like a jelly roll, just make a double-decker sandwich — it works just as well. Another idea would be to add a slice of swiss cheese in place of the ham — delicious. And don't forget, if you don't need to buy a turkey log this week, just pick up a package of turkey sandwich meat.

To complete the meal, add a fresh fruit salad. Have you tried

Head Start Opens Here On June 20

Kings Mountain Project Headstart has been approved for summer of 1969 by the Office of Economic Opportunity in Washington, D. C.

Classes will begin June 20 and continue for six weeks through August 1. Friday, July 4 will be a holiday for the 138 children who will attend at North school. Nine teachers, nine paid aides, and eleven volunteer aides will work with groups of 15 children each day from 8:30 a.m. until 1:00 p.m.

The total cost of the program will be $37,036 with $8,106 being provided locally, chiefly by volunteer workers and building rental.

The director, Howard Bryant, is accepting applications for children, non-professional workers and professional workers. Professional appointments are expected to be made by May 23.

Mr. Bryant also plans to hold the first parents meeting at North school on Tuesday night at 7:30 May 27 after he returns from a conference in Winston-Salem on May 20, 21, and 22.

Mr. Bryant said, "We expect our project to be a child development center with quality programs of social services, health services, nutrition, psychological services, parent education and daily activities for each child. Furthermore, Mr. Bryant continued, We will meet the O.E.O. requirements of parent involvement in planning and operation, Civil Rights in enrollment and employment, and that 90% of our children meet the O.E.O. requirements no income eligibility."

The project Headstart is one which invites community visitation and participation. The Kings Mountain project must certify 1650 volunteer hours of work this summer.

Five busses are expected to be used this summer. Routing is as follows: One bus will pick up Grover, and Grover road children. A second bus will pick up children in the Compact area. A third bus will travel through the Oak Grove and Ebenezer sections. A fourth bus will pick up on Bethware road, at West school, and at Special Education center. A fifth bus will pick up York Road area and at East school.

fresh strawberries and frozen peaches — just partially thawed? This makes an ice cold salad which is elegant and tasty. Or, you might try fresh pineapple chunks and fresh strawberries. Add a beverage, and you have an extra special meal with little work. Just what we're always after — right!

THANK YOU

Friends and citizens of Kings Mountain, I wish to thank you for the support you afforded me in the May 27 Ward 5 City Commissioner run - off election. My entry into the political game has proven most educational in many ways. I believe this experience will make me more aware of the important issues in our city government.

I only wish for the elected Ward 5 Commissioner, Mrs. O. O. Walker, the very best of success. Congratulations to her and her supporters.
