Some Tips For Frustrating A Burglar

Raleigh—Some 25,646 burglaries were reported to law enforcement agencies in North Carolina last year, although a few common sense rules by citizens would have frustrated the efforts of the foot-pad and second story man, advises the Insurance Information Institute.

Countrywide, reports of the Federal Bureau of Investigation show a total of 1.8 million burglaries during 1968, averaging $298 per burglary, or a total loss of $545 million. Burglaries of residential property amounted to 54 per cent of the total of $311 million, while burglaries of nonresidential property accounted for 46 per cent of the total or $234 million.

NOTICE OF ADMINISTRATRIX TO CREDITORS

Having qualified as Administratrix CTA of the Estate of James T. Gibson, Deceased, late of Cleveland County, North Carolina, this is to notify all persons having claims against the estate of said decedent to present them to the undersigned on or before the 2nd day of April, 1970, or this notice will be pleaded in bar of their recovery. All persons indebted to said estate will please make immediate payment to the undersigned.

This 2nd day of October, 1969. Mrs. Virginia M. Gibson 700 Jackson Street Kings Mountain, North Carolina. 10:2-23

Since 1960, residential burglaries in the nighttime have increased 91 per cent, while daytime residential burglaries increased 247 per cent. Nonresidential burglaries in the night increased 57 per cent and daytime burglaries jumped 124 per cent during the same eight-year period.

The Institute recommends that when you're in town, keep all doors and windows, including the attic and basement, locked. When you go out in the evening, leave a few lights on. Don't leave ladders lying around the property for easy use by burglars.

When you go away don't broadcast the fact that you're leaving on a vacation or on a week-end trip. Suspend in advance deliveries of milk, newspapers and mail.

Before you leave for vacation, ask immediate neighbors and local police to keep an eye on the house. Arrange with someone to mow the lawn if you plan to be gone long.

A house that's dark night after night is inviting to the burglar. Perhaps a neighbor would be willing to turn your lights on and off, at appropriate times each evening. Or, install a timing device which can be set to do the job automatically.

Never take chances on a burglar's having a key to your home. Change the locks whenever you move or lose a key. Don't make forced entry easy. Use heavy chains on windows and double locks on doors. Don't employ domestic servants without checking references carefully. Don't give your exact address when advertising expensive articles for sale. Thieves read the want ads, too.

Don't keep large amounts of cash and expensive valuables such as jewelry in dresser drawers or other easy-to-spot places. Put them in a safe or a safe deposit box for safe keeping.

The Insurance Information Institute cautions that although insurance against theft is included in all homeowners insurance policies, consider purchasing separate coverage for items of high value such as furs, jewelry, cameras and antiques.

Above all, keep an inventory of personal belongings, as well as a list of serial numbers on such items as color television sets, typewriters and sewing machines. Detailed descriptions of stolen items will be helpful to the police in case a burglar DOES strike.
