Appalachian Wins Over Indian Club

BOONE — Appalachian State University's Mountaineers evened their season record at 3-3 with a 42-27 victory over Catawba College's Indians at Salisbury Saturday night.

The Apps took a Catawba kickoff in the final eight minutes of play and marched 71 yards in 17 plays to score a touchdown to put the game out of the Indians' reach. The Mountaineers had built a 35-12 lead with a TD early in the fourth stanza, but Catawba came back strong as quarterback Ray Hardison threw two touchdown passes to close the gap to 35-27 with 7:57 left in the game.

That's when the Mounties began the long drive to ice the victory. Quarterback Hal Queen, fullback Dwight Kerr and fullback Dave McGlamery were the big men in the drive, but a fake punt was the key play of the night for ASU. With a fourth down and 13 yards to go, the Apps went into a punting formation. Punter Buddy Floyd was ready for the snap, but blocker David Neeld took the ball and raced through the right side of the line for 20 yards and a first down to keep the drive alive.

Seven plays later, Queen carried the pigskin over the goal line from the four to clinch the victory. Roger Schock, who booted six-of-six extra points for the night, toed the ball through the uprights for the final 35-27 margin.

The Apps displayed their best offensive attack of the season against the big, strong Indians. Kerr, who carried only six times for 17 yards, in last week's loss to Lenoir Rhyne, gained 99 yards in 20 carries to lead ASU's ground attack. McGlamery rushed 14 times for 76 yards, and Queen netted 71 yards in 16 carries to give the Apps a solid one-two-three running attack.

All total the Mountaineers piled up 295 yards rushing, their highest total of the year. All of ASU's touchdowns were on rushing plays, except a 44-yard return by Kerr. Queen scampered 86 yards for the game's first score early in the first period to make the long test run from scrimmage for the Mounties this season. If he had not been thrown for losses eight times for 58 yards, he would have had a whale of a night rushing. Catawba's Greg Singleton put on the biggest individual performance against Appalachian. He carried the ball 17 times for a new 170 yards rushing to single-handedly lead the Indian attack. Included in his total was a 68-yard TD jaunt.

Kerr, the hard runner from Levittown, Pa., was listed third in the nation in last week's NAIA punt return statistics. He had returned six punts for 157 yards, an average of 26.1 yards per game, to achieve his high ranking.

Despite returning a punt 44 yards for a touchdown against Catawba, Kerr's average suffered a little Saturday night as he returned a second punt for only three yards.

Defensive standouts against the Indians were linebackers David Neeld and Dave Byrd. Neeld was credited with 11 individual tackles while Byrd was right behind with 10. Both boys assisted in stopping three other ball carriers.

At the midseason point, the Mountaineers can look back and say that they were beaten by the best. The three losses which the ASU eleven has sustained have come at the hands of unbeaten football teams.

East Tennessee pushed its record to 6-0 with a 17-14 win over the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga Saturday. The Buccaneers handed the Apps an 18-16 defeat in the season opener for both teams.

Western Carolina's Catamounts, unbeaten through five games, beat Emory & Henry last weekend, 38-24. The WCU club handed Appalachian the worst of its defeats, 35-7.

Lenoir Rhyne, which beat the Mountaineers 24-17, also remained unbeaten Saturday with a 29-6 victory over Guilford. That was LR's fifth win without a loss. East Tennessee is ranked high in the nation among NCAA schools. Lenoir Rhyne is the nation's third ranked NAIA school, and Western Carolina is rated 20th in the country.

Dolbin Poses Problem For Carolina Eleven

WINSTON - SALEM, N. C. — Chapel Hill on Saturday when the Deacs and Tar Heels square off at 1:30 in Kenan Stadium. North Carolina will be keeping a wary eye on that No. 22; remembering all too well his previous exploits against the blue and white charges of Coach Bill Doolittle.

In last Saturday's 28-14 loss at Clemson, Dolbin ran for 52 yards from scrimmage to hike his career total over the 1,000 yard level. He now has 1,009 yards on 197 rushes (a 5.1 average) in 21 games.

Had the Deacs' current-day No. 22 not suffered a rash of injuries throughout his tenure here, he undoubtedly would now be threatening WFU's all-time career rushing high of 1,735 yards gained in 1962-64 by Brian Piccolo.

The Tar Heels will be trying to corral Dolbin and snap a four-game loss string against Wake Forest. UNC last won in 1964.

North Carolina will enter the game with a 1-4 record, having lost its last two. The Demon Deacons have lost three in a row and own a 2-4 season mark.

Dolbin will be returning to

Little Mounties Play For Title

Lincolnton Here Today; Both Clubs Unbeaten

Kings Mountain's junior varsity football team will host Lincolnton at 5:30 this afternoon at John Gamble Memorial Stadium in what amounts to the championship game of the Southwestern Conference.

Both clubs carry undefeated records into the contest.

Lincolnton brings a 4-0 overall record here while Coach Blaine Fronberger's Little Mountaineers are 4-0-1 in conference play and 5-0-1 overall.

It's the season finale for the Little Mountaineers while the Little Wolves still have a game remaining at East Rutherford.

Lincolnton rates as a slight favorite in the game but a victory would nail down the title for Kings Mountain. Should Lincolnton win, it would still have to defeat or tie East Rutherford next week in order to take the championship.

Kings Mountain blanked R-S Central 6-0 last week as Frankie Stokes broke loose on a 70-yard touchdown run. Three other Kings Mountain scores were nullified because of penalties.

Lincolnton was the only conference team to defeat the Mountaineers last year and the Wolves won in easy fashion, 35-0 in the last game of the season.

It's the same setting this year, the clubs playing for the title on the last game of the season. But, this time, the game's on Kings Mountain soil and Coach Fronberger hopes the result is different.

The only blemish on Kings Mountain's record was a 7-7 tie with Crest two weeks ago.

Lincolnton has had two weeks in which to prepare for the Little Mountaineers as they haven't played since Oct. 9 when they defeated Burns.

The same Crest team which tied KM 7-7 was bombed by the Wolves, 34-7.

Statistics Show That Carolina's Most Efficient

WINSTON - SALEM, N. C. — Wake Forest and North Carolina, whose combined records show just three wins in 11 starts this fall, appear vastly different on the individual team statistical charts.

While the Deacons have a 2-4 record and the Tar Heels have a 1-4 mark, the "stats" sheets disclose that UNC has been the most efficient team overall in 1968.

Wake Forest, for instance, has been outgained by over 500 yards in rushing plays against six foes. North Carolina, however, holds a 221 yard advantage over its five opponents in rushing. The Deacons' foes have totaled 128 first downs compared to just 101 by WFU; UNC has numbered 82 first downs; 14 more than its opposition.

In total offense production, Carolina has gained 1,426 yards from scrimmage compared to 1,480 by its foes. Wake Forest, with 1,699 yards gained to date, has allowed 2,352.

In only the category of "turn-over," the Deacons have lost ball possession on fumbles and interceptions just 14 times in six games, while UNC has lost possession 15 times in one less game.

Carolina thus far has been much better in the second halves of its contests. The Tar Heels have been outpointed by 51-33 in first halves but have been bombed by 67-26 in second halves. Wake Forest has been shelled by 89-37 in first halves but only by 73 to 49 in second halves.

Saturday's foes for the 1:30 p.m. Kenan Stadium battle in Chapel Hill have met only one common foe this fall. The Demon Deacs edged N. C. State by 22-21, and the Wolfpack came back on the next weekend to nip UNC by 10-3.

There are 182 colleges and universities in California of which 84 are privately owned.

As a boy Henry Ford repaired

DEFENSIVE STANDOUTS—Linebacker Danny Oliver (left) and Randolph Ross played good games last week against Shelby on defense and are expected to be the Mountaineer ringleaders this week at Crest.

Quarterback Kim Bumgardner led the way offensively, gaining 131 yards rushing in 12 carries and scoring the go-ahead touchdown early in the first period.

Mountaineers Try To Snap Back Friday Against Crest

Kings Mountain's Mountaineers try to break a two-game losing streak Friday night when they travel to Bowling Springs to take on the Crest High Chargers.

The Mountaineers carry a 3-4 overall mark and a 2-4 conference mark in the contest. Crest sports a 1-5 record, its only win coming over county rival Eum.

Kings Mountain will be favored to square its record but the game may be closer than a lot of people might think.

Coached by Max Beam and assisted by former Kings Mountain High footballer, Hubert McGinnis, the Chargers have taken great strides since organizing a football program.

They didn't win a game in their first year of operation, then captured three victories last year, including a 6-0 upset of powerful R-S Central. Although they've won only one game this year, the Chargers have been in most of the games they've played, with the exception of a 47-0 loss to Shelby.

Even against Chase, a club which mauled Kings Mountain 35-6, the Chargers were behind only 6-0 at halftime. Chase went on to capture a 20-0 victory. "Crest is sort of like R-S Central," says KM Coach Bill Bates. "They run their fullback a lot. He's about 50 percent of their offense."

"So far this year," added Bates, "they haven't thrown too much. But they might come out throwing against us after seeing what Shelby did to us last week."

"I've heard people say we played a good game against Shelby," continued Bates, "but I don't see how you can play a good game and get beat 48-13."

Although the Mountaineers were humiliated by their county rivals, Bates did have praise for sophomore linebacker Danny Oliver, who caused a Shelby fumble which set up a KM touchdown and made several unassisted tackles.

"He twice made an individual tackle and knocked the man backwards," said Bates. "Anytime you can do that, you're doing a good job."

Oliver pulled a groin muscle but Bates said he'll be ready by Friday. Charles Barnes and Randolph Ross also suffered slight injuries but they're also expected to be ready.

Friday's game is the last road test for the Mountaineers, who still have hopes of a winning season. But in order to have a winner, the Mountaineers must finish undefeated from this point on.

After Crest, the Mountaineers host Burns on Oct. 31 (homecoming) and Lincolnton on Nov. 7.

Lincolnton, though not supposed to have its usual tough team, pulled the upset of the year last week when it defeated Chase, 20-12.

Jimmy Pitts scored on a three-yard run late in the third period and Leach ran for a two-point conversion, making it 22-6 and Bumgardner closed out the scoring in the fourth period on an 11-yard run.

The Patriots piled up 19 first downs and 261 yards rushing to five first downs and 58 yards to the losers.

Coach Porter Griggs cited Jon Springer, Pitts and Roy Putnam for their offensive blocking and Davi Lee Bell and John Schenk for their defensive play.

The Patriots' travel to Shelby for their season finale next Wednesday.

More mail is moved between Washington and New York than between any other two cities, according to postal officials. Each week 169 railroad cars containing 750 bags of mail go from New York to Washington and 102 cars are required to move mail from Washington to New York.

The Mountaineers, who will play an attractive 25-game schedule, will open their season on December 1 at Voorhees College.

Kim Bumgardner Leads Patriots Over Marion

Central Junior High romped to its third straight victory Wednesday, defeating Marion Junior High by a 28-6 margin.

Quarterback Kim Bumgardner led the way offensively, gaining 131 yards rushing in 12 carries and scoring the go-ahead touchdown early in the first period.

Bumgardner scored on a 10-yard run around end and then ran for a two-point conversion to give the Patriots an 8-0 lead and halfback Wayne Leach scored on a 43-yard run in the second period to make it 14-0 at halftime.

Marion scored on a 70-yard run on the first play of the second half to cut the difference to 14-6, but the Patriots later made it a runplay.

Jimmy Pitts scored on a three-yard run late in the third period and Leach ran for a two-point conversion, making it 22-6 and Bumgardner closed out the scoring in the fourth period on an 11-yard run.

Loss Leaves Mountaineers With 3-4 Mark

Roaring their loudest in years Shelby's Golden Lions posted one of the most lopsided victories in history over Kings Mountain's Mountaineers Friday night at John Gamble Stadium.

The Lions, playing probably their best game of the season, rolled up 260 yards rushing and 245 passing, completely tearing the Mountaineer defense to threads, and capturing a 48-13 victory.

The 48 points are the most against a Kings Mountain eleven since the beginning of the Southwestern Conference in 1954 and the point spread (35) was also the largest in the modern history of the two schools.

Shelby broke on top 14-0 in the first period, but a Shelby fumble and Charles Barnes' immediate 12-yard touchdown run made it 14-7 and a KM upset at the time appeared a possibility.

The Lions struck quickly for their first quarter scores, both coming through the air. Quarterback Robbie Reynolds hit David Heffner on a nine-yard TD pass for a 7-0 Shelby lead then halfback Marcus Mauney took a pitchout from Reynolds and passed 70 yards to Heffner, making it 14-0.

After Kings Mountain's second period score, the Lions gradually pulled away and by halftime the score read, 26-7. The Lions added another score for a 34-7 lead early in the third period before KM's Mike Blanton recovered a Shelby fumble and raced 50 yards for the Mountaineers' last score.

Mauney scored Shelby's second period touchdowns on runs of 11 and five yards and Jasper Wilson raced 74 yards for the third quarter score which made it 34-7.

Shelby's two fourth period touchdowns came on a 41-yard pass interception by reserve Carl Hamrick and a three-yard run by reserve quarterback Tom Hamrick.

In fact, Wilson, who scored on the 74 yard run in the third quarter, is also a reserve.

Barnes, a senior, proved to be KM's only offensive weapon. He continuously broke through for good gains.

Quarterback Geepie Howard of the Mountaineers had his best passing night of the season, hitting on eight of 19 tosses for 125 yards.

Shelby attempted 22 passes and hit 11 for 245 yards. Each team had one pass interception.

On three different occasions, the Lions went for two-point conversions and made them. Reynolds passed to Heffner and Jim Smith for a pair of two-point plays and Mauney added another on a sweep around right end.

The victory was the sixth straight for Shelby and kept the Lions in a tie for the SWC Division Two lead with East Rutherford, which blanked winless Burns, 35-0.

The Lions are 6-1 overall, their only loss being to 4-A Gastonia Huss, 14-6.

It was the second straight loss for the Mountaineers and fourth overall in seven games. It was also the second straight loss to the hands of the Lions.

Coach Porter Griggs cited Jon Springer, Pitts and Roy Putnam for their offensive blocking and Davi Lee Bell and John Schenk for their defensive play.

The Patriots' travel to Shelby for their season finale next Wednesday.

Head coach Bob Light reported that 22 players reported for the first drills. Included in that group were three starters from last year's club which compiled a 12-15 record. John Thomas, a 6-0 guard who averaged 11.0 points per game last year, is the leading scorer returning this season.
