Still Struggling, Mountaineers Play Host To Burns, Cherryville

Improved Burns Is Here Friday, Ironmen Tuesday

Kings Mountain High School's baseball team enters the second half of its season Friday at home when it plays host to a muchimproved Burns team.

The Mountaineers remain at home Tuesday afternoon for a game with Cherryville. Coach Bob Hussey's charges carried a 3-6 overall record into a makeup game at home Wednesday afternoon against Crest. The Mounties were 2.5 in Southwestern Conference action. Chuck Carpenter, who was the losing pitcher in a 5-2 defeat Tuesday at Chase, will probably pitch for the Mountaineers against Burns Friday. Kings Mountain edged the Bulldogs 5-4 in their season opener but the Burns club has come on strong since then and is now 4-4 in conference play. Kings Mountain has dropped its last four conference contests, falling to East Rutherford, South Point, Lincolnton and Chase in that order.

Burns has one of the better hitting teams in the conference, sparked by big outfielder Scott Hamrick. Hamrick pounded a home run and double in the Bulldogs' loss to the Mountaineers in the season opener. The Mountainers haven't been

As has been the case in most every game this year, poor de-fensive play cost KM pitchers Chuck Carpenter and Ricky Hord. The Mountainers committed no less than four fielding errors, and as Coach Bob Hussey put it "several more mental mistakes.'

Kings Mountain spotted Chase a 1-0 lead in the first inning, then came back for a 2-1 edge after three frames before allowing the Trojans to score three in the

As this week's program goes into the preparation stages, Ded-mon said the same top drivers will be returning for competition. Leading dirt driver Chuck Niazza from Spartanburg, S. C. will be returning to make his bid for a fourth dirt win of the season, having won one two weeks ago, and taking the Shelby and Rutherford County wins last weekend. At Harris, Sundy, C. G. Ogle of Swannanoa, who claimed his first win of the season last Sunday, will return for another try, along with top drivers such Asheville's Bob Pressley, Shelby's Preston Humphries, Greenville's (S. C.) Harold Painter, Rutherfordton's E. G. Adkins, and countlity racing programs. The quality was manifested in the action that took place this past weekend as fans saw three of the finest rac-, ing programs possible in all three

Clyde Dedmon, HRA president and promoter of six tracks in the area, noted with some pride that this year's racing has already witnessed some of the most modern competitive machines to ever appear on his circuit, some of the area's most experienced top drivers, and the largest fields of cars ever consistently appear on the HRA scene.

Following last week's racing on the dirt tracks, Dedmon noted that he and his crews found sev-eral problems with the surfaces a great deal of dust at the Rutherford County track where the surface had failed to settle just right, and several holes that beat out at the Shelby track for the same reason. "These will be con-rected this week," Dedmon said. "Our boys are out there getting all the bugs worked out. We'll be ready when the next race comes newly engineered '57 Chevy. The 1969 season was frustrating before Setzer worked out the bugs and won the last three feature races of the year. Waddell, a Wilkesboro farmer, won the track title in 1967, the last year races were run on dirt, has begun to find the right combination on after a long draught. He finished second in the opening race and would like nothing better than to end the Ford-Chevy domination.

Area Sportsman drivers will be voting Fr'day and Saturday nights at Hickory and New Asheville raceways whether to continue a dual track end-of-season point fund or increase the purses by some $200.

The Saturday racing program includes seven events in three divisions - Sportsman, Limited Sportsman (formerly Hobby) and Rookies.

Time trials are set for 7:45 and the first heat at 8:30.

Dean Smith, Head Basketball Coach at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, will make the address at the Kings Mountain Kiwanis club Basket ball banquet honoring KMHS athletes Thursday night, April 23, at the high school cafeteria.

Tickets are on sale at $2 for open to the interested public. Tickets are available at the (5), Thornb high school, at Kings Mountain Brewer (6). Drug Company and from any Kiwanian.
