Distaff DEEDS

(News items this week from Carteret, Alamance and Warren counties)

Getting a Carteret County family to move their dogs from the house to the yard was an important accomplishment for Ann Marie Taylor, a program aide with the Expanded Nutrition Education Program.

The dogs lived more or less like the rest of the family, the aide says. But, they would get on the table when they wanted something to eat. And the smaller dog, which wasn't housebroken, was always making a mess.

"I talked to the family about this problem each time I visited them," the aide added, "but I proceeded slowly so I wouldn't offend them."

Gradually they began to understand the unsanitary conditions the dogs were causing, especially during meal preparation.

"During my next two visits," she said "the family kept the dogs chained in the living room. The following week when I arrived, I found they had built a pen and moved the dogs outdoors."

They all said that now they could see how much cleaner the house stayed with the dogs outdoors, the aide concluded.

HANDMADE RUG
If you want a washable rug for the children's play area, make it yourself from fabric scraps. Mrs. Jane Worrell, an Alamance County homemaker, suggests. To keep peace in the family, the homemaker made half the quilt from fabric her daughter had collected; the other half from fabric collected by her son.

She also put the girl's initial in one corner; the boy's initial in another, Amelia Watts, home economics extension agent, relates.

Members of Extension Homemakers Club are planning to teach rug-making skills to residents of a low-rent project, the agent adds.

Graham Seeks GOP Post

Bill Graham, Winston-Salem attorney and Republican leader, today announced that he is a candidate for the position of chairman of the North Carolina Republican Party.

Graham, 37, is best known in North Carolina GOP circles for transforming the Democratic bastion of Forsyth County into the strongest Republican county in the state in just 2 years.

He also put the girl's initial in one corner; the boy's initial in another, Amelia Watts, home economics extension agent, relates.

Usually the person has a few small items to clean. But when Mrs. Martin Hayes asked the question she was planning to clean two brass beds that had been stored in an outbuilding on the farm for about 40 years.

Mrs. Hayes tried several different methods and the result was beautiful. Before she cleaned the beds, nobody wanted them. Now everyone would like to have them, the agent says.

In making his announcement Graham said that he is firmly of the opinion that "Republicanism from the Courthouse to the Statehouse to the White House is the way of the future in North Carolina," in Graham's words, "from Avery to Brunswick and from Currituck to Cherokee and all points in between."

Graham said that his priorities as state chairman would include able and attractive GOP candidates for all offices, an adequate financed state organization and a greater use of new campaign techniques. With a strengthened organization, Graham said, "the Republican candidates will be better able to get across to the voters the positive programs and platform of the Republican Party."

"1972," Graham concluded his announcement, "is the year the Republicans can take it all."

As Forsyth County GOP chairman Graham received wide acclaim for the record of electing 28 Republicans to local offices in the 1966 and 1968 elections in a county that had only elected 7 Republicans in the previous 40 years. After the 1968 elections Graham was appointed Assistant General Counsel of HUD but returned to North Carolina early last year to run for Mayor of Winston-Salem. He is a graduate of Duke and took his law degree at the University of Virginia.

A long time GOP worker Graham received the Young Republican award as the outstanding member of the Republican Party at their 1971 convention.

Graham is married to the former Kent Hill of Winston-Salem. The Grahams have a son, age 12, and a daughter, age 7.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Harmon spent several days last week in Tallulah Falls, Ga., visiting Mr. Harmon's mother, Mrs. Dwight Gaines and Mr. Gaines. While there they visited many places of interest in North Georgia.
