Halloween - Holiday Or Horror? Driver Caution Is Again Urged

What will it be this Halloween... North Carolina, trick-or-treat... tragedy?
If you're driving your car Oct. 31, the answer can be large-ly in your hands, says the Insurance Information Institute.

Halloween is a popular holiday in the Tar Heel state. Nearly all of the states a, approximately 853,000 elementary school children will become trick-or-treaters for a few hours, romping through their neighborhood with little on their minds but the next treat.

The Institute reminds that while it can be a joyous time for kids, it is also potentially dangerous for them.

"At no one time in the year are more children wandering through the streets at night garbed in vision-impairing masks and dark, difficult-to-see costumes," said the Institute.

"We urge all motorists to think fast and drive slowly—and carefully on All Hallows Eve. The kids are bent on fun. Don't put a morgue in their merry-making."

The Institute offered the following safety tips to motorists and parents of trick-or-treaters:

1. Motorists—Drive slowly and warily. Watch for children darting out between parked cars. Tap your horn occasionally on dimly-lit residential streets. Be extremely cautious while backing out of driveways.

2. Parents—Escort your littlest ones. If your children are going as a group, give the oldest a flashlight. Dress the kids in bright clothing or stick reflective tape on their costumes or trick-or-treat bags. Use a scissors to widen the eye holes in their masks. Urge them to look up and down before crossing.

Adults who do their own merrymaking at Halloween parties are reminded that drinking

Superior Stone Taps Yates

RALEIGH — Joseph W. Yates, vice president for marketing, has been promoted to executive vice president of Superior Stone Company, it was announced today by President Trent Ragland, Jr.

He also announced that William W. Minton, assistant sales manager, has been named general manager of sales, a new position, and will report directly to the president.

Yates joined Superior in 1945 as a salesman. A native of Wilmington, he attended the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Minton, a native of Goldsboro, joined Superior in 1959 in the sales department. He was graduated from Wake Forest and did graduate work at UNC-Chapel Hill.

Superior Stone Company is a division of Martin Marietta Corporation and operates plants in Virginia, the Carolinas and Georgia. It is headquartered here.

Wool Contest Set Nov. 20

RALEIGH — Final arrangements are being made for the state "Make-It-Yourself-With-Wool" contest to be held in Raleigh, Nov. 20.

The contest, to be held at Nelson Auditorium, North Carolina State University, has proven to be a popular fall activity for Tar Heel girls.

Any girl between the ages of 10 and 21 may enter this fashion contest.

Participants may make a garment of any style, but the fabric must be 100 per cent American-made wool. All construction must be done by the participant.

As in the past, there will be a sub-deb contest for girls 10-13. A Junior (age 14-16) and a Senior (age 17-21) winner will be chosen to represent North Carolina at the Southern Council Contest in Greenville, S. C., Dec. 17 and 18.

Junior and Senior winners of the Council Contest will compete at the national finals in Phoenix, Ariz.

Pam Cable, last year's state senior winner, topped top honors at the regional event and placed fifth in the national contest.

Interested girls can get complete details and entry blanks by writing to Harriet Tutterow, extension clothing specialist, Box 5582, State College Station, Raleigh, N. C. 27607.

Deadline for entries is Oct. 30.

PLANT SCULPTURE

An old horticultural practice now enjoying a revival in interest is the art of espalier. By close pruning to control growth, the trunk and branches of a plant are trained to lie flat in one place. Espaliered plants are used to introduce a decorative accent or conversation piece. They become living sculptures. If you would like details on how to... extension agent's office and pick up a copy of "Space Sculpturing With Tree and Shrubs," Folder No. 291, prepared by N. C. ### THE VETERANS' CORNER

Editor's Note: Below are authoritative answers by the Veterans Administration to some of the many current questions from former servicemen and their families. Further information on veterans benefits may be obtained at any VA office or your local veterans service organization representative.

Q—What is the maximum VA loan available for a mobile home?

A—For the purchase of a mobile home only, it is $10,000 payable over 12 years and 32 days.

Q—I withdrew from school under the G. I. Bill at the end of the semester two years ago, and plan to return to the same school to pursue the same program. How do I start my benefits again?

A—You should notify the school to submit a re-enrollment certification to VA. This would start your benefits again, provided you have not exhausted your enlistment and the school and program are currently approved.

Q—My deceased father was a VA pensioner. Because of a childhood accident, my sister is unable to work, and will never be able to do so. Is she eligible for a pension?

A—The VA considers a help- less child as one who became permanently incapable of self support before age 18. If this is the case with your sister, you should submit a claim, with supporting medical evidence, to VA.
