MORE ABOUT Morton

Carolina now is "faced with second class status in the region it once led," told those attending the announcement ceremony that "I am becoming a candidate today so that we can get North Carolina back on the road of progress as we move into the future."

"It is time that we all pull up our sleeves and work to bring new ideas, new programs and new hope to North Carolina," Morton said. "If the people of North Carolina elect me Governor, I promise you that together we will restore North Carolina to its rightful place of leadership in the South and the nation."

He said that the solution of North Carolina's decline from its position of leadership lies not in factional or partisan politics, "but in restoring our faith in ourselves and in our potential."

Morton, who will be making his first run for public office, described North Carolina as being the most highly industrialized state in the South... and yet it "competes with Mississippi for the lowest wages in the Nation."

"Of the eight states of the Southeast," Morton continued, "only North Carolina failed to show a gain in industrial employment last year. We are faced with second-class status in the region we once led. We are faced with second-class status when we have all the natural resources and the human resources needed for prosperity. We are faced with second-class status because we need new leadership to develop fully the potentials of our state and our people."

Morton said that North Carolinians need to elect to the public offices "a new breed of politicians who bring solutions to our problems, and who are bold enough to act with imagination and confidence."

Morton was a member of the N. C. Board of Conservation and Development from 1951 to 1961. He served as Chairman of the USS Battleship Commission which established the Battleship Memorial at Wilmington. He was named "the North Carolinian of 1961" by State Magazine.

Morton also served as Chairman of the J. F. Kennedy Library Fund Drive in 1964. He was State Campaign Publicity Director for Luther H. Hodges for Governor in 1953.

Servicemen's families are invited to telephone the mayor's office, 739-2563, and give him the addresses.

The mayor said the city wants especially to send greetings to area servicemen in Vietnam and overseas, as well as all from this area serving in the armed forces.

Police Charge Mrs. Stroupe

An 8 a.m. wreck Wednesday resulted in over $1,100 worth of damages and a failure to yield right of way charge against a Route 1, Kings Mountain woman.

Mrs. Myrtle Wilson Stroupe, 49, of Route 1 was charged by Lt. Bob Hayes after her 1961 Comet struck a 1966 Chevrolet driven by Mary Lynn Blanton, 16, of 207 West Ridge. The accident occurred at the intersection of Candler and Walker streets.

Miss Blanton was taken to Kings Mountain Hospital for treatment of injuries. According to Lt. Hayes' report, Mrs. Stroupe's car ran a stop sign and struck Blanton's Chevrolet.

Hayes listed damages at $520 to the Comet and $635 to Miss Blanton's Chevrolet.

Police investigated several other accidents during the past week.

Tuesday at 3:15 a.m., officer Robert Dodge investigated a two-car accident at the intersection of Cleveland Avenue and King Street.

Janie Hullender Willard, 19, of 520 Cleveland Avenue, told Dodge her 1966 Volkswagen struck the rear of a '65 Ford driven by Elaine McNeely Williams, 22, of 221 Morris Street. Brake failure was listed as the cause of the accident. Mrs. Willard's VW was damaged $160 and the other vehicle was not damaged. No charges were filed.

A Route 1, Grover man, Vance Dale Head, 24, apparently went to sleep at the wheel of his 1965 Chevrolet and struck a city utility pole at 6:20 a.m. Tuesday. Investigating officer Richard Reynolds listed damages as $350 to the car and $150 to the utility pole. No charges were made.

A seven-year-old Kings Mountain boy, James Roberts, was treated for injuries at Kings Mountain Hospital Tuesday night after the car in which he was riding wrecked after hitting a stump on Margrace Road.

The driver of the car, Elizabeth Waters, 24, of 805 Southwood Drive, said as she turned from Fulton Road onto Margrace Road, there was a huge stump lying in the road and cars traveling the road prevented her from missing it. Investigating officer Robert Dodge said the 1966 Ford which she was driving was damaged $500.

An accident Monday morning at the intersection of Battleground and West Gold streets resulted in minor damages to two cars.

Officer Tommy King said a 1967 Ford driven by Lena Peterson, 40, of 305 North Gaston Street, crossed the railroad tracks and struck a 1963 Ford driven by John Ray, 36, of Route 4, Lincoln. Ray's car was stopped at the intersection. King estimated damages at $300 to Mrs. Peterson's car and $50 to Ray's auto.

A Sunday afternoon accident on Gantt Street resulted in minor injuries to two Gastonians.

Ronnie Stallings, 24, and Shirley Stallings, 24, both of Witten Lane, sustained injuries when a car driven by Thomas Ellis, 28, of Bessemer City struck a vehicle driven by Keith Hullender, 22, of 811 North Gantt Street.

Officer Bob Hayes said Ellis's car topped the crest of a hill and struck Hullender's car. Ellis, according to the report, was driving left of the center of the road.

Hayes listed damages as $300 to Ellis's car and $625 to Hullender's.

Taylor Taps Campaign Leader

Former State Senator Lindsay C. Warren, Jr., will serve as campaign manager in Lieutenant Governor Pat Taylor's campaign for governor of North Carolina.

Taylor, who announced his candidacy in his hometown of Wadesboro on October 11, introduced Warren as his campaign manager at a noon news conference Tuesday at the Sir Walter Hotel in Raleigh.

Warren, a Goldsboro attorney, served in the North Carolina senate from 1962 through 1970. He headed the study commission which recommended reforms in the structure of higher education implemented during the special session of the general assembly last month.

In accepting the job of campaign manager, Warren said he considered Taylor "one of the best qualified persons by experience, knowledge, and understanding to ever seek the office of governor."

Warren said he had contacted friends throughout the state and found that Taylor had "strong support among all kinds of voters, and in all parts of the state."

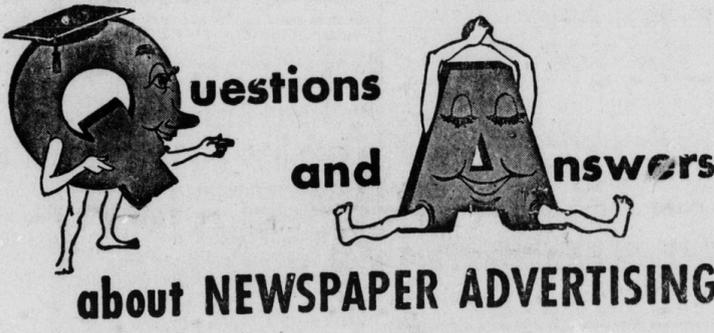

He promised a campaign based on "positive programs and proposals."

MEMO TO ADVERTISERS

- Q. What are the 3 most important rules for profitable newspaper advertising?
- A. 1. Your advertising message should be new, friendly, informative, easy to read. Give facts and news about your merchandise and service.
- 2. Advertise regularly. Make your advertising do what successful salesmen do—call on customers and prospects consistently.
- 3. Insist on audited circulation reports that give you the FACTS about the audience that your sales messages will have when you buy newspaper advertising.
- Q. Is there a measure for the value of newspaper circulation to an advertiser such as the standards a merchant uses in buying merchandise—for example, like STERLING on silver?
- A. Yes—in the well known circulation standards of the AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS.
- Q. What does A.B.C. do for me?
- A. At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors makes a thorough audit of the circulation records of each publisher member. The results of each audit are published in an easy-to-read A.B.C. report for your use and protection when you buy newspaper advertising.
- Q. What are the FACTS in A.B.C. reports?
- A. A.B.C. reports tell you how much circulation, where it goes, how obtained and other FACTS that help you buy advertising as you would make any sound business investment—on the basis of known values and audited information.
- Q. Are all publications eligible for A.B.C. membership?
- A. No. Only those with paid circulation. This is important to advertisers because it is evidence that the paper is wanted and read.

- Q. What is the A.B.C.?
- A. The A.B.C. is a cooperative, non-profit association of 3,450 advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers in the United States and Canada. Organized in 1914. Brought order out of advertising chaos by establishing a definition for paid circulation, rules and standards for measuring, auditing and reporting the circulations of newspapers and periodicals.
- Q. Is this newspaper a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations?
- A. Yes. We are proud of our circulation. We want you to know the FACTS about the audience your selling messages will have when they appear in these pages. Ask for a copy of our latest A.B.C. report.

A.B.C. REPORTS — FACTS AS A BASIC MEASURE OF ADVERTISING VALUE

What if you lost your job tomorrow?

Things may be going pretty good now. But you never know what tomorrow will bring. Suppose it's unemployment. How will you live? What will you use to tide the family over while you look? Excuses? Let's hope you never have to find out. But just in case, why not start saving now, while you have a "job." Join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work and buy U.S. Savings Bonds. It's an easy way to build a nest egg. And now there's a bonus interest rate on all U.S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds, 5 1/2% when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). That extra 1/2%, payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970... with a comparable improvement for all older Bonds. With any luck at all your emergency fund may become a vacation, a college education, or a happy retirement.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a good way to save.

Take stock in America. Now Bonds pay a bonus at maturity.
