Water Bond Money

"Is there enough money left to finish the project?" a citizen asked recently concerning the Buffalo Creek water project.

"There certainly should be," City Clerk Joe McDaniel, Jr., replied when the question was put to him.

Mr. McDaniel then went to his ledger sheet, which showed the water bond account at a little over $426,600, only $122 on checking account and the remainder earning money on bank certificates of deposit. Coleman Goforth has been paid the $65,000 jury award, and Buford Cline and W. K. Mauney, Jr., their awards. Two properties, those of Ambrose

Cline and John D. Cline, remain to be acquired.

Other principal expense, which shouldn't be great, Mr. McDaniel continued, will be final grubbing and clearing before the hole is plugged and the lake begins coming a fact.

Bulk of the engineering fees have already been paid.

Actually, Mr. McDaniel thinks, cash will be left in the till and will be available to apply against the bonds outstanding from the $3 million citizens initially approved, some of which have already been redeemed.

Blue vs. Finley

Most baseball fans usually side with the player and against the owner in a salary argument.

Those old enough rejoiced when the late, great George Herman (Babe) Ruth threatened to stay home unless Colonel Jacob Ruppert, Yankee and beer magnate, came across with $80,000 per year. The Colonel did.

The fans may not be as sympathetic with Vida Blue, holding out for $92,000, a rather healthy distance from Owner Charles O. Finley's $50,000 offer.

There is a difference between the Ruth of the $80,000 days and Blue.

Ruth had been an established super star for many seasons before collecting the really big money. He went to the majors as a pitcher, hit so well they made him an outfielder to have his big bat in the line-up every day instead of every fourth day.

Blue has had one big season and the records show that many players have a tough sophomore summer. Some fade all the way out of the majors.

Blue very well may become a super star and all hope he will but it requires more than one good season, and the $50,000 represents a $37,000 raise.

More folks can withstand adversity much better than prosperity, and tibe success need not be monetary, though in the Blue instance it is.

Not Too Significant

The forces of Senator Edmund Muskie are naturally pleased to have won the Illinois but the Herald believes more meaning is being put into the result than is actually there.

While Mr. Muskie gathered 58 delegate votes to Senator George McGovern's 15, a bulky 87 remain uncommit-

Nor are delegates from Illinois bound, more than normally, to vote for those they said they would, even on the first ballot. And there is speculation that many who voted as they did voted that way because others were obsent from the printed ballot. The next big test for Mr. Muskie and the rest comes April 4 in Wisconsin where the primary is expected to separate Democratic men from Democratic state and perhaps Mr. McGovern, too. Mr. Muskie's remarks post-morteming the New Hampshire won criticism from many as too full of excuses when all he needed to say was, 'We won! On to Illinois, Wisconsin and California!"

Senator Hubert Humphrey is expected to get strong support in the dairy

·The recently formed county organization dedicated to fighting drug abuse are dedicated to a noble cause.

Drugs

The Herald agrees with President Nixon who didn't cotton to the special report on drugs which is recommending laws be changed to make use of marijuana no crime and limit maximum fine on "pushers" to $100.

The report contends that marijuana is harmless and non-habit forming, which may be correct, but as mothers tell their daughters "petting may lead to other things", it would appear use of marijuana might be the first stop on the road to heroin and other drugs which are habit-forming.

Happily, drug abuse here and in Cleveland county is not near the proportions it is in New York or even in Char-

Superintendent of Schools Don Jones, a member of the anti-drug group says that not more than a dozen of the more than 1200 high school students are on drug kicks.

Even a dozen is considered too many, of course, but this report by Mr. Jones is welcome news.

"I don't know for sure," he comments, "but I don't think the incidence of drug abuse is any worse in other high schools in the county."

Nixon Politicking

Every pronouncement and action from the White House seems to wax more political in the directic ing the re-election of Preside M. Nixon.

The China trip was certainly so, taking the spotlight off domestic problems. Then there was the decision to send some Sabre jet planes to Israel, which should not hurt the President with the United States Jewish vote. And the Nixon pronouncements on school busing, with its "anti" tone is designed to please not only the South but other areas like Pontiac, Michigan, and others.

It is axiomatic that incumbent presidents seeking re-election run, if indirectly, out of the public treasury. President Harry Truman specific actions, which with Governor Tom Dewey's gaffe alienating virtually all of the railroad unions, combined to reassure the Truman victory. Mr. Truman dusted off the 1919 Balfour resolution and supported the setting up of the Israeli state to gain the vast majority of Jewish votes, not to mention campaign contributions, and supported upping the parity price of corn, pleasing the nominally Republican voting midwestern farmers. Many switched.

All's fair, 'tis said, in love, war and politics.

And, in Andy Griffith's words, what this is is politics.

Recent report state revenue Commissioner G. A. Jones, Jr., reveals that 1971 sales and use tax collections rose to $307,326,342 or 11.23 percent.

Cleveland county collections were up $412,961, 12.03 percent to $3,846,639. Commissioner Jones cautioned on analyzing the report, but it is a reasonable guess that a portion of both state and county increases derived from imposition of the additional one percent which is rebated to counties and cities.

Wallace Vote Healthy

Acknowledging he borders on heresy, Joseph C. Harsh, of the Christian Science Monitor, contends it was healthy for the nation that all those people in Florida voted for Governor George Wallace.

"It was healthy," he writes, "because it must inevitably force the two major political parties. .. to look around and realize that they have been spending too much time and effort working for the interests of two few Americans and neglecting, in the process, far too many.
