Church Weddings Unite Browns, Ingles, Stewarts, Thorntons, Wedding Date Set

Miss Dianne Katherine Hauser became the bride of Stanley Robert Brown Saturday in a 4 p. m. wedding in Saint Matthew's Lutheran church.

The Rev. Robert Allen heard the couple pledge vows of the double-ring ceremony.

Mrs. Ellen B. Watson was organist for the program of traditional wedding music. Organ prelude included "My Heart Ever Faithful" and "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach; "Panis Angelicus" by Franck; Bach's "Sheep May Safely Graze"; Handel's "Arioso"; Schubert's "Ave Maria"; "Liebestraum" by Liszt; "Andante" by Rubinstein; Barnby's "O Perfect Love" and "Malotte's 'The Lord's Prayer.' For the professional of the bridal party she played "Trumpet Voluntary" by Purcell and for the entrance of the bride, on the arm of her father, she played "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" by Wagner. The recessional music was "Wedding March" from "Midsummer Night's Dream" by Mendelssohn.

Spiral candelabra at the front of the sanctuary were interspersed with English ivy and white tapers. White and white chrysanthemums filled altar vases. Acolyte was Otis C. Fall; III.

Jacob Peter Hauser escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage. The bride's wedding gown was a formal design of white Satapeau and Chantilly lace featuring a high neckline and fitted sleeves of Chantilly lace with two ruffles of Satapeau at the wrist. Scattered seed pearls enhanced the neck and lace bodice and a deep hem of lace encircled the skirt and attached Chapel train. She wore a Camelot headpiece of Chantilly lace and seed pearls attached to an elbow-length veil of silk illusion. She carried a nosegay of white roses, stephanotis and ivy with streamers of white ribbon.

Miss Sheila Marcella Carnes of Raeford, college roommate of the bride, was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Peter Hauser of Raleigh, sister-in-law of the bride; Miss Cynthia Hauss of Lenoir and Mrs. Randy Hawkins of Boone, former college classmates of the bride.

All the attendants wore formal gowns of lime matte jersey designed along empire lines with fitted sleeves, panels of white Venise lace trimmed the waist, sleeve wrists and necklines of the dresses threaded with ribbon of dark green velvet. Tiny tucks from the necks to the empire waists enhanced the bodices and two bands of Venise lace threaded with velvet ribbon from the shoulders to the waist highlighted the bodice. They wore matching headresses of velvet bows drooped with illusion veils and carried cascades of pink Garza mums, pink miniature mums and Baker fern.

Golden Wedding Day For Gambles

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde D. Gamble were honored on their Golden Wedding Day November 28th at an anniversary party hosted by their children at Waxhaw Woman's club in Waxhaw.

Entertaining together were Mrs. Bud Sloan of Waxhaw, John Gamble of Hartsville, S. C., Joe Gamble of Florence, S. C., Mrs. J. E. Sweeney of Charleston, S. C. and Mrs. K. W. Madsen of Claremont, California, all of whom received with their parents. The 10 grandchildren of the honored pair also assisted in receiving and entertaining.

More than 100 friends and relatives called between 2 and 4 p. m.

Mrs. Gamble wore a gold brocade dress with matching slippers and a white orchid. Mr. Gamble pinned a white carnation boutonniere to his coat lapel.

Angea Sloan, a granddaughter, served punch, assisted by Mr. Gamble's sisters, Mrs. Paul Roberts and Mrs. Spurgeon Daddmen, both of Shelby. Mrs. Gamble's sister, Mrs. Paul Roberts, cut and served the anniversary cake.

The couple's 50th wedding anniversary colors of gold and white were beautifully featured in decorative details. The refreshment table was overlaid with embroidered linen and lace with nosegays of yellow mums at each corner of the floor length cloths. Gold candles were used in golden candelabra with yellow mums and snapdragons at the center. The gold and white cake was cut and served from one end of the table and golden punch was served from a silver bowl at the opposite end of the table.

Miss Studie Smith, daughter of the late J. North and Maggie Huffstetler Smith of Kings Mountain, became the bride of Clyde Gamble, son of the late J. Frank and Jennie Watterson Gamble of Kings Mountain, in a ceremony performed in Gaffney, S. C. on December 2, 1972. The Gambles moved from Cleveland county to Waxhaw in 1937 where Mr. Gamble was associated with Duke Power company 38 years before his retirement in 1957.

East Gold Street Provided Setting For Wheeler-Ingles Double-Ring Rites

East Gold Street Wesleyan church provided the setting November 28th at 3 p. m. for the wedding of Miss Betty Jo Wheeler and Stephen Reid Ingles.

The couple pledged vows of the double-ring ceremony before the Rev. Edwin A. Chriscoe. Mrs. Pete Johnson was organist for the program of nuptial music and Miss Debie Burns was vocal soloist. Miss Burns sang "Wither Thou Goest" before the ceremony and "Wedding Prayer" as the benediction.

The altar of the church was arranged with white tapers in tree candelabra on each side and two potted palms. In the center of the altar was a wrought-iron candelabra with cathedral candles. Two altar vases held white gladioli, Garza mums and large mums. On the altar were two small tapers that were lighted before the service and one larger taper that was lighted by the bride and bridegroom after they said their vows.

Joseph B. Wheeler escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage. The bride's formal wedding gown was designed and made by her mother of bridal satin overlaid with Venise lace featuring a lace standup collar and bishop sleeves with satin cuffs and bow in the back of the full, floor length skirt with Chapel train. Her veil of silk illusion was also designed and made by her mother and Mrs. Carl Wilson, aunt of the groom. A satin bow overlaid with Venise lace topped the floor length illusion veil that was edged with lace and applied with lace medallions. She carried a cascade of red roses centered with a white orchid atop a lace-covered Bible.

Mrs. Larry Dean Slycock Sr. of Kings Mountain, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and Miss Deborah Ingles, of Bessemer City, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. They wore floor length gowns designed along empire lines with mint green polyester crepe bodice featuring bishop sleeves and stand-up collars and emerald green velvet skirts. They wore bow head-dresses of polyester and velvet attached to green illusion veils and carried cascades of pink and red carnations with streamers.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Ronnie Joe Wheeler of Gastonia, sister-in-law of the bride; Mrs. Randy Dill, of Stanley, cousin of the groom; Mrs. Michael Bookout of Gastonia; and Mrs. J. H. Sistrare.

All of the attendants wore gowns of pink polyester and ruby red velvet styled similarly to the bride's. They carried cascades of pink and red carnations.

Carl Wilson, uncle of the bridegroom, was best man.

Ushers were Ronnie Joe Wheeler of Gastonia, William Roy Wheeler of Kings Mountain, both brothers of the bride; Larry Dean Slycock Sr., brother-in-law of the bride; Charles Troy Carpenter, III, and Hershel Davis Jr., stepbrothers of the bridegroom, all of Kings Mountain.

Joy Kirby of Bessemer City was flower girl and Eric Gibson of Shelby was ringbearer.

The bride's mother was gown-ed in a red street-length dress of polyester lace featuring long sleeves and matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

The bridegroom's mother chose a blue polyester dress with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Essie Stapp of Kings Mountain, wore a blue polyester dress with matching accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Mrs. James David Eiddix kept a guest register in the vestibule of the church where the bridal party formed a receiving line to greet wedding guests after the ceremony.

For a wedding trio the new Mrs. Ingles chose an orange dress with coat length vest of navy and orange with navy accessories and the orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet.
