Church Weddings Unite Yarbroughs, Hamricks; Three Couples Plan Summer Nuptials

Penley's Chapel Methodist church was the setting Friday, Feb. 23 at 7 p. m. for the wedding of Miss Linda Diana Sellers and Benny Dwain Yarbrough. The couple pledged vows of the double-ring ceremony before the Rev. Eugene Land, pastor of Second Baptist church.

The altar of the church was banked with fern and arranged with cathedral candles in wrought-iron candelabra. The setting was enhanced by baskets of white carnations and white gladioli.

Miss Andrea Huffatler was organist for the program of nuptial music and vocal numbers were by Miss Deborah Burns. Miss Burns sang "Wither Thou Goest" before the ceremony, "O Promise Me" and "Wedding Prayer" as the couple knelt at the altar for the benediction.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown created of silk organza and imported Peau d'Ange lace posed over taffeta. Styled in empire silhouette, the lace bodice was fashioned with sheer yoke outlined in lace threaded with velvet ribbon and finished with a high neckline outlined with an Edwardian collar of lace. The front bodice and full, bishop sleeves ended in deep lace cuffs at the wrist. The column skirt was appliqued with garlands of lace motifs and a wide lace-trimmed flounce finished the hemline and framed the Chapel length train. Her cathedral length veil of English tulle and imported Venise lace was caught to a lace camelot cap and she carried a white Bible topped with an orchid and showered with pink rosebuds, baby's breath and carnations. The setting was enhanced by baskets of white carnations and white gladioli. The bride, Miss Cynthia Hayes and Mrs. Tom Melton, all of Kings Mountain, Michelle Belt of Dallas was flower girl.

All the attendants wore formal-length gowns of lime green and white polyester crepe featuring V necklines and long, puffed sleeves with green buttons, trimming the front of the empire waist. The honor attendants carried two white mums with pink streamers attached and the bridesmaids carried single mums. The flower girl carried a white basket of pink tinted mum petals.

Drayton Queen of Gaffney, S. C. was best man for the bridegroom. Ushers were Steve Colvard of Georgia, Phillip Baker, Darrell Whetstone, Jimmy Amos, all of Kings Mountain, and Billy Craig of Raleigh.

Micael Sellers of Kings Mountain carried the rings. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Sellers chose a navy and white polyester dress with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a turquoise polyester crepe dress and coat with matching accessories. After the ceremony the bridal party formed a receiving line to greet wedding guests in the church vestibule.

Selective Service System in Eden, North Carolina.

The prospective bridegroom is a 1961 graduate of Morehead high school of Eden and is employed as coach operator of Carolina Trailways Company in Greensboro. The wedding will be an event of April 14th in Grover's First Baptist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Patrick announce the engagement of their daughter, Linda Jean, to Conley Eugene Brackett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Summie Brackett of Grover.

The bride-elect attended Kings Mountain high school and is employed by Mr. Sweet Division of Sweetree Mills in Kings Mountain.

Miss Carolyn Fay Hatfield of Sumter, S. C. became the bride of William Lawrence Hamrick of Kings Mountain Saturday in a 4 p.m. wedding in Sumter's Northside Memorial Baptist church.

The couple pledged vows of the double-ring ceremony before the Rev. Robert Craig, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. Richard Plyler, pastor of Kings Mountain's Patterson Grove Baptist church.

Mrs. Carl J. Brunson was organist for the program of nuptial music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a formal gown of candlelight Satin de Chine designed with an Empire silhouette with hi-rise bodice fashioned of Mexican Mosaic lace and featuring a high ruffled neckline with a band of ivory satin ribbon entwined with lace. The lace lantern puffed sleeves were finished with a ruffle accented with an ivory satin bow. The Empire waistline, accented with lace scalloped entwined with ivory satin ribbon, topped the soft A-line skirt which featured a slight Chapel train. A camelot cap of matching Mexican Mosaic lace held her cathedral veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses showered with pearls and bridal streamers of candlelight ribbon.

The vows were exchanged against a background of arched lighted tapers and spiral candelabra with arrangements of white glads, pompons, and mixed spring flowers flanked by palms.

Mrs. Frederick W. Faircloth of Rock Hill, S. C. attended her sister as matron of honor and Miss Cynthia Hatfield of Sumter, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. The honor attendants chose formal gowns of Paris blue crepe designed along Empire lines with hi-rise bodice featuring Mandarin collar and long, full sleeves with self cuffs. Matching braided belts defined the Empire waistlines and four back streamers accented the softly gathered skirts. They carried colonial bouquets of mixed spring flowers in yellow, pink and white enhanced with blue Dutch Iris. Best man for the bridegroom was his father, Keith Hamrick, brother of the bridegroom, of Morganton, ushered with Glenn Lovelace, cousin of the bridegroom, of Raleigh, and Harold Wright of Concord.

The bride's mother chose a semi-formal gown of Peacock blue chiffon featuring jeweled neckline and long sheer sleeves. The bodice was highlighted by petite self covered buttons. The natural waistline was accented with a veiled sequined belt and the cuffs featured the same trim. She wore white orchids at her shoulder.

The bridegroom's mother chose a dress of snow petal pink knit featuring a jeweled neckline with high rise bodice enhanced by a belted back. She wore a corsage of white orchids.

The bride's parents entertained after the ceremony at a beautifully-appointed wedding reception.

For a trip to Gatlinburg, Tennessee, the bride wore a jacket dress of blue and white herringbone with navy and white accessories. She lifted the corsage of white roses from her bouquet.
