By-Ways Of Safety

A column of news and information on Highway Safety prepared by the North Carolina Governor's Highway Safety Program.
A new motion picture presenting a new perspective on the drunken driver and a new plan for dealing with the problem in North Carolina has been produced by the Department of Transportation and the Governor's Highway Safety Program. The 15-minute film dramatizes the differences between the social drinker and the problem drinker. Medical authorities and safety administrators appear in the film advocating that programs dealing with the drunken driver be directed toward the problem drinker, rather than the social drinker who, statistically, represents only a small part of the alcohol-driving problem.
The problem drinker is identified as an alcoholic or a person "well on the way of becoming an alcoholic."
Among those appearing in the film are Dr. John Ewing, director of the Center for Alcohol Studies at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and Dr. Page Hudson, the State's chief medical examiner.
Both physicians presented medical data showing that the heavy consistent drinker, who drives most often involved in traffic crashes.
The new film is being made available to members of the Safe

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Ed. Note: The writer, a Kings Mountain woman, prefers to be anonymous. She says youth recognize her as "Meme".
YOUTH'S CORNER
Hot rods are passe. Motorcycles are the IN thing. Noise, speed, rush fast, faster. Do you really dig it?
Hi Fi's screaming at loudest volume. Bodies sway or couples laze around, half sitting, half lying. Clothes are unattractive country-poor folks' garb. Forty-five years ago shoes were not worn because they were not owned. Roads were paths through the sand or woods, field or meadows, fresh-plowed fields and mud-holes.
This was not by choice. This was the way it was.
Boys and girls spooned at the church festival, smooched at the riverbank, eyed each other at Ma and Pa's Sunday family gatherings. School was hard, a bore and teachers were fakes.
All this is as it is today, except boys and girls go barefoot by choice, walk over paved, hard asphalt and cement roads. Blue jean pants and old shirts are important to the rich so they can relate to the poor. How deceived can you be? Rich and poor are blind. The rich remain rich and they wear bluejeans that cost $20 to $45, shirts $16 and up, jackets $37 and down. They drive the sportiest cars, brand new. They go to private schools. They go to public schools and are snobs to the really poor. But they go all the way to befriend the blacks, the drug addicts, the longhair.
Parents say: "We have been invited out to dinner. I left a frozen pie in the oven, Cookies, milk and Coke are in refrigerator. Back at 12:30. Don't tear the house down. Be good."
Next Night Parents say: "Can't you go out tonight and get a bite to eat. Dad and I have the so and so's in for a few drinks and supper. Go see a show, Call us and someone will come for you."

By-Ways Of Safety

A spokesman for SAVE said members of the organization are available to present programs on the problem drinker. The programs include a showing of the film and a question and answer session.
Organized community groups who wish to borrow the film or arrange for a program may do so by writing to the Safety Action Volunteer Effort, P. O. Box 0, Raleigh, North Carolina.
