

Randolph Vows Exchanged

Shelby's Aldersgate United Methodist Church was the setting Saturday for an 8 p. m. candlelight wedding uniting Miss Carolyn Virginia Cothran of Shelby and Gary Livingston Randolph of Concord. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas

White Cothran of Shelby and granddaughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Hord of Kings Mountain. She was graduated in 1972 from Shelby High School and was presented in the Shelby Debutante Ball in June that year. In March 1976 she graduated from Western Carolina University with B. S. in Home Economics, with concentration in fashion merchandising and retailing management, and is employed as assistant buyer at Ivey's of Charlotte.

ching headresses designed identically to that of the bride. Each carried a cascade bouquet of wheat, rust asters, gold daisies, yellow pompons and baby's breath.

AKERS CENTER OPEN THURS. - FRI TIL 9:00 P. M.

Son of Mrs. Clyde Jenkins Clemmer of Concord and Clarence Livingston Randolph of Ridgeland, Miss., the bridegroom is a 1970 graduate of Concord High School and a 1974 graduate of WCU with B. S. in Industrial Technology. He is associated with Freeman and White Architects and Engineers of Charlotte.

The Rev. B. A. Haire heard the exchange of vows in the double-ring ceremony. Palms and candelabra holding lighted tapers decorated the sanctuary and centering the setting was an arrangement of eucalyptus, wheat, rust colored asters, gold mums and baby's breath.

Mrs. John E. Gamble of Kings Mountain was organist for the program of nuptial music and vocal selections were by Lavon Laye of Shelby.

Thomas White Cothran gave his daughter in marriage. The bride designed her wedding gown of white quiana jersey. The wrap skirt cascaded down the front of the dress and extended into a full train. The fitted bodice was accented with a handmade flower of matching material attached at the waistline and featured sheer, raglan sleeves. Her cathedral veil, also covered in quiana jersey, was draped from a camelot cap accented with matching handmade flowers. She carried a nosegay of white gladioli and baby's breath.

Miss Crystal Riviere of Raleigh attended the bride as maid of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Jim Cothran of Goldsboro, sister-in-law of the bride; the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Frank Lewis of Concord; Miss Linda Jones and Miss Meg Plaster of Shelby, Miss Jane Lysko, Mrs. Winford Deaton, Jr. of Charlotte, Mrs. Robert Trexler of Candler, and Mrs. Ron Rusnak of Chester, Va. All the attendants wore formal gowns of rust quiana jersey with matter and assisting in receiving and entertaining were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Brown, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. David White, Mr. and Mrs. John L. McGill of Kings Mountain, Mrs. Walter Hiatt, Miss Nancy Anthony, Miss Sally Lynch, Miss Tricia Lynch, Mrs. John E. Gamble of Kings Mountain, Mr. and Mrs. Carlyle Isley of Burlington, Mrs. Furman Thomasson, Mrs. Jack Riviere, Mrs. Tom Jones, Miss Leslie Lynch, Miss Patricia Anthony, Mrs. Peter Baines, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Crawley, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Craft and Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Lyako. Jim Sansing presented music during reception hours with his "one man band."

The bride's table on the sunporch held the three-tier wedding cake topped with white orchids as central decoration. Punch was served in the dining room and on the terrace from silver appointments. Silver trays held an assortment of swedish meat balls, sandwiches, nuts, green and white mints, melon balls, chicken salad in pastry cups and country ham biscuits.

Deborah Homesley Named Who's Who

Deborah Homesley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Homesley and a 1976 graduate of Kings Mountain Senior High School, was listed in the tenth annual edition of "Who's Who Among American High School Students, 1976-77."

In commending Miss Homesley, Publisher Paul C. Krouse said that fewer than four percent of all upperclassmen from our nation's 24,000 public, private and parochial high schools are featured in "Who's Who" each year.

Miss Homesley is employed at Cato's Department Store and plans to pursue a career as an airlines stewardess.
