

Beginner Typing Is Scheduled

A course in beginner typing is still being offered by Cleveland Tech at the Compact School Education Center in Kings Mountain. At least five more students are needed for the class, scheduled Mondays and Wednesdays from 8 - 9 p. m., to continue. The course is being taught by Mrs. Carl Finger and a $5 fee is charged for the entire course. Interested persons are asked to contact Mrs. Finger or Cleveland Tech.

SERVICE ANNIVERSARIES — Shown above at a recent dinner at North Lake Country Club are Mr. and Mrs. John Woods, Mr. H. E. LeGrand, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Holmes. Woods received a 30 year service award at the dinner and Holmes was the recipient of a 25 year award.

Ray Holmes With Fiber 25 Years

Two employees of the Shelby Plant of Fiber Industries, Inc., have celebrated 25 and 30 year service anniversaries even though the Shelby Plant and Fiber Industries still are several years shy of their 20th birthdays. Ray Holmes of 1222 Wales Rd. in Kings Mountain and John S. Woods of 342 Circleview Dr. in Shelby qualified for their long-term service awards on the strength of previous service with Imperial Chemical Industries, Ltd. (ICI) and 62.5 percent by Celanese Corp., a United States petrochemical company. Woods, who joined ICI in 1946, and Holmes, who joined the British firm in 1961 received their service awards Tuesday evening at a North Lake Club dinner hosted by Shelby Plant Manager Gene LeGrand. LeGrand cites Woods work in the areas of polymer blending, polymer drying and handling as having made "major technical contributions" to the attainment of improved filament yarn dye uptake uniformity and the development of new and improved blending facilities at the Shelby Plant and other FII manufacturing locations. Holmes is a past president of the FII Employee Recreation Club. He and his wife have two sons, Ian and Paul. Holmes, a graduate member of the United Kingdom's Institute of Mechanical Engineers, transferred from ICI into a research and development capacity at the Shelby Plant in 1961. Since 1969, he has served in quality assurance and process improvement positions in the quality control department. Holmes and his wife, Sylvia, became United States citizens earlier in this bicentennial year. Both are active in Kings Mountain-area civic activities, including the little

Mayor To Speak

Mayor John H. Moss is scheduled to deliver an address on financial assistance for municipalities at the N. C. American Water Works Association convention in Asheville Tues., Nov. 16. The meeting will be held at the Great Smokies Hilton Inn. Last Monday the mayor spoke on management and technical assistance programs at the 67th annual N. C. League of Municipalities convention at the Civic Center in Charlotte. Attending the meeting were municipal officials and state agency employees from all over North Carolina. On October 20 the mayor and his wife, Elaine, will be special guests at the Charlotte - Mecklenburg Bicentennial Grand Ball. Charlotte Mayor John Belk is the host. "John plans to wear your Revolutionary ear fashions," Mayor Moss said. "No, I don't plan to wear knee britches and a powdered wig. You have to have thick skin and great legs to dress that way."
