Bethware Addition Dedicated To 'Children'

Bethware School's new $714,000 addition was dedicated to "our students, present, past and future" Sunday in special ceremonies followed by open house of the new facility.

Making the presentation was KM District Board Chairman Philip Francis. Principal Ronald Nanney, Bethware P-TA President Bob Webster, and fifth grader, Gary Osborne, accepting for parents, faculty and students. Supt. Donald D. Jones introduced special guests and Eugene Bumgardner, baritone, sang "Bless This House" as a song of dedication, accompanied by Mrs. Darrell Austin at the piano.

In his devotional which opened the 2 p. m. program, Rev. Russell Hinton, pastor of Oak Grove

Baptist Church, called attention to Paul's writing to the Corinthian church and compared the building of a life with construction of a new building, noting that the home, church and school are interlocked and that every child has three classrooms and it is difficult to separate them as the child grows in the "bundle of life." Just as a building must have a purpose, design, foundation and materials so does a child, declaring that Jesus is the foundation on which we build a life.

Rev. J. Russell Fitts, pastor of Bethlehem Baptist Church, pronounced the benediction.

Student guides conducting a tour of the new classrooms and cafeteria were Jerry McDaniel, Angel Allen, Mark Herndon, Dana Blalock, Donna Blackburn, and Johnnie Yarboro.

Mrs. Margaret McCarter and Mrs. Virginia Kirby invited visitors to register as they entered the building and Mrs. Martha H. Wright, KM Schools Food Service Supervisor, assisted by Mrs. M. Kathleen Goforth, Bethware Cafeteria Manager, invited them to enjoy punch and party refreshments from a festive table decorated in the Fall motif. All faculty members were recognized with mum corsages. Each classroom teacher received parents in the classrooms after the program as guided tours were made of the building.

Principal Nanney, who recently became the new principal at Bethware, said the new facility was both adaptable and flexible and Bob Webster, P-TA President and Bethware alumni, said he wished he could turn back the pages of history and go back to school. Fifth grader Osborne, in accepting for students, said the students were pleased to be a part of the new building and thanked everyone for making it possible.

Presenting the new addition for formal dedication, Francis said "our purpose for being here is our children and this new facility represents the kind of interest you at Bethware have in quality education for our children."

Heavy Vote Goes Carter

At Bethware there are 946 voters registered and 725 of them cast ballots Tuesday. However, the split between Carter and Ford was a little more even with Carter leading 398 to 310.

Grover voters registered total 620 and 451 of them went to the polls Tuesday to give Carter 290 votes to President Ford's 134.

The official canvas of votes will be held today at the Elections Board offices in Shelby.

Working In Juvenile Court

Reid Strickland, Kings Mountain student at East Carolina University in Greenville, correctional services major, is working in Third District Juvenile Court in Beaufort as part of requirements for his degree which involves four days each week in actual work in human service settings, with one day on campus during which students attend seminars relevant to their field experiences and consult with faculty members. Strickland is among 18 students from ECU participating in field education placements in 17 eastern N. C. social work and correctional agencies.

Revival Services Planned

Revival services are scheduled at Second Baptist Church beginning Mon., Nov. 8.

The Rev. Leroy Smith will be the visiting evangelist for these special nightly services. The public is invited to attend.
