

Gardner-Webb Receives Bequest From Lewis Estate

BOILING SPRINGS — Gardner-Webb College has received a bequest from the estate of Dr. J. Thurman Lewis to be used in establishing a chair of Biblical Languages and Semitic studies.

The gift was willed to the college with Dr. Lewis' wish that "perhaps in death I will be able to establish what I could not in life."

Gardner-Webb is the only Baptist college in the nation offering an undergraduate major in Biblical languages and literature, and is the only church-related college in the South offering an undergraduate major in both Hebrew and Koine or (New Testament Greek, according to Dr. Vann Murrell, chairman of the Department of Religious Studies and Philosophy.

President Craven Williams in announcing the bequest referred to it as a signal honor for Gardner-Webb. "This will enable the college to build upon a program established originally by Dr. Lewis. Its distinctiveness among church-related colleges provides Gardner-Webb with another opportunity to offer a course of study available at few other institutions.

Dr. Lewis committed a considerable portion of his career to these disciplines, and now, in his will, has made provisions for his professional objectives to live on and expand. For his life, his service, and for the means to realize his dreams, we are indeed grateful."
