

Kings Mountain Hospital Employees Honored For Service

25-YEAR SERVICE AWARD — Lewis Curry, maintenance chief at Kings Mountain Hospital, is congratulated by Mrs. Carl Childers, assistant director of nursing, after Curry received the hospital's top and first-time 25 year award for service. Hospital employees with long-time service were honored by the hospital staff Tuesday at a tea and pin presentation.

Photo By Lib Stewart

EMPLOYEES HONORED — The Kings Mountain Hospital employees pictured were honored for 15 year service to the hospital at a drop-in tea Tuesday afternoon at the hospital. Administrator Grady Howard, right, presents service pins to Marion M. Hunt and Barbara M. Moses. Not pictured is Ruth W. Yarbrough.

TEN YEAR SERVICE AWARDS — Jerry Ledford, right, presents ten year service awards to Rebecca Curry, left to right, Ruth Warlick, Ethel E. Wiggins, and Willie Morris for ten year service to the Kings Mountain Hospital in special ceremonies Tuesday in the hospital conference room. Absent for picture taking were Melba Hendricks, Maybelle C. Dover and Mae Houser.

HONORED — Kings Mountain Hospital Administrator Grady K. Howard, left, presents five year service awards to Sylvia Bridges, Rebecca Pearson and Roland Crosby. Absent for picture taking was Edna P. Ford.

KM Receives Its Fourth Snowfall

Photos by Gary Stewart....

SNOWY KM STREET — Kings Mountain's fourth snowfall of the winter came unexpectedly Monday morning, dumping a white blanket on the streets and lawns, closing schools and dropping business and activities into low gear. In this photo, two city maintenance employees, using shovels, throw sand on West Mountain Street to help motorists get some traction at stop lights. Most of the streets were cleared by Monday afternoon and the white stuff was melting quickly when the temperature rose above freezing Tuesday.

SLIPPERY HILL — One of the toughest hills to climb in Kings Mountain Monday was this one near Bennett Brick and Tile, where several cars slipped into ditches. In this photo, two cars (at left) are already off the road while others try to climb the slippery hill. King winter dumped about three inches of snow in the city and area, giving us our fourth measured snowfall of the winter.