France." Valentine likes to travel, the only daughter of dentist parents who was reared in the country by her grandmother. She has traveled in Spain, Italy, Yugoslavia, Ireland, England, and the United Kingdom.

She is not wild about American food but praises June Lee's cooking.

Mrs. Quintin was amazed to learn the cost of higher education in this country as compared to free courses of study at the University she attends in France.

Horseback riding is quite different American-style. French riding is "more precise." Valentine has performed in numerous shows in her country and is a versatile horsewoman who has instructed in riding.

She had never seen so much snow before arriving in New York City Jan. 14th on her first trip to the United States.

Valentine is impressed by the landscape, wide open spaces, and is interested in architecture.

She brings to her classroom the habits of her country, particularly the songs and dances and the rich folk life of Brittany while enthusiastic about new activities, American style.
