Highlights

UNC-G Week

Lori Jenkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jenkins and delegate to Girls State from the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 155, presented highlights of her week at UNC-G as the program for Thursday night's meeting of Unit 155 at the American Legion building.

A covered dish supper was served at 6:30 p. m. The Jenkinses were present as special guests.

Miss Loretta Huskey, also a delegate to Girls State, was unable to attend. A letter from Miss Huskey stating appreciation for sponsorship at Girls State was read by Miss Jenkins.

Mrs. Orangrel Jolly, immediate past Unit president, presented awards which were presented to the Unit at the recent state convention in Charlotte, among them first prize in the National President's Project for school bus safety, second prize for the annual scrapbook, first prize (units over 50 members) in the State President's Project, a plaque; award to the unit for contributing $1 per member to the project, N. C. Schools for the Deaf; and Go-Getter gold pins to members enrolling 10 members or more.

Unit President Elizabeth Stewart, the outgoing state president presented plaques to both the Unit and Post 155 for their support and cooperation during her term of service.

Outgoing Post Commander Rick Moore presented Miss Stewart a handsome engraved plaque "for doing a great job" as state president during 1976-77.

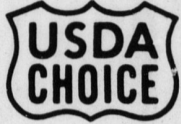

Miss Stewart recognized local members who served during the year with gifts, including Mrs. Stonewall Jackson, scrapbook chairman, Mrs. Jackie D. Barrett, personal page at convention, Mrs. Charles Hampton, who served with Mrs. Jackson as sergeant-at-arms at convention, and Mrs. Orangrel Jolly, memorial chairman.
