J. Wiley Blanton, 69 on Tuesday, was surprised by the 53 children on School Bus 160 with a bus-decorated orange and brown birthday cake and a handsome gold watch as he arrived at West School to transport his second load of students home for the day.

Mr. Wiley, retired mail carrier, will retire after this school term as a veteran bus driver.

Lynn Gore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Gore, presented the watch to Blanton on behalf of all the pupils.

Parents of students assisted in serving gold and brown cupcakes and soft drinks, as Mr. Blanton admired his gifts and accepted birthday congratulations from Principal Joe Hedden and other birthday greeters.

Mrs. Gore said the youngsters had kept the surprise celebration a "well guarded secret" and had been planning the event for several months.

Mr. Blanton, longtime Kings Mountain citizen, is a popular bus driver at the elementary school, according to the kids, who have become his fan club.

"We sure are gonna miss him next year," said one of the excited youngsters as the bus drew near on the parking lot Tuesday at 3 p. m. amid shouts of "Happy Birthday, Mr. Blanton."
