

K. C. RAYFIELD

Rayfield Selected

Kenneth C. Rayfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rayfield of Kings Mountain, has been selected as 1977 Man of the Year for Bowman Distribution Company of Cleveland, Ohio.

This award was presented to Rayfield at the yearly sales meeting in Raleigh.

He has been employed with the company for four years and is Sales Trainee Manager for District 35 which includes North and South Carolina. His work also takes him to other states from Maine to Florida.

Rayfield is a graduate of Gardner Webb College, Bowling Springs, and lives in Matthews, N. C. with his wife, the former Patricia Ann Burton of Kings Mountain, and their 15-year-old son, Jeffrey. They are members of Mount Harmony Baptist Church in Matthews.

ESC To Comply

Citing a proclamation issued today by President Carter, Franklin L. Ware, Jr., manager of the Employment Security Commission's Shelby Job Service Office, announced his office's participation in National Employ the Older Worker Week, March 12-18.

"As much as race, sex, national origin or physical handicap, age is a significant source of employment discrimination today," declared Ware. "Our society sometimes over-emphasizes youth," he added, "and the ESC's participation in this observance seeks to remind area employers that age has very little to do with either employability or job performance."

In addition, Ware cited the Federal Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967 which prohibits any form of job or hiring bias by an employer on account of age. This law particularly applies to persons between the ages of 40-65.

"Our intention, however, is not to intimidate employers with the law," said Ware. "Instead," he explained, "we want employers to consider older workers because they've proven themselves reliable and experienced employees."

In fiscal year 1977, the Employment Security Commission placed nearly 13,000 persons 45 and older in jobs. This figure represented some 12 percent of all job placements made by the agency that year. In Shelby, the local Job Service office placed 287 older workers in FY 1977, about 12 percent of the office's 2,442 total placements.

Ware stated that each ESC office offers a trained Older Worker Specialist to aid persons 40 and older in their job search. In Kings Mountain, the local Older Worker Specialist is Ms. Violet Dixon.
