IN HONORS BAND — Elizabeth McGill, left, and Mark Sanders are two of 75 high school band students from North Carolina selected to the N. C. High School Honors Band. They will take part in a concert April 30 in Greensboro.

Students In Honors Band

Kings Mountain High School students Mark Sanders and Elizabeth McGill have been selected for the North Carolina High School Honors Band on the basis of individual auditions.

Auditions were held April 1 at High Point Central High. Mark plays the trumpet and Elizabeth the French horn.

The Honors Band is sponsored by the North Carolina Bandmasters Association, a division of the N. C. Music Educator's Association. Only 75 students from the state were selected.

Those selected will rehearse at UNC-G in Greensboro on April 28 and 29 and present a public concert on April 30. The Honors Band will be under the direction of Francis McBeth, who is nationally-recognized for his composing, arranging and conducting skills.

Rabies Clinics Are Scheduled

Dr. Jerry Eskridge, owner and operator of Kings Mountain Animal Hospital, will offer rabies clinics Sat., Apr. 15 in conjunction with the Cleveland County Health Department.

Dr. Eskridge will handle clinics at Bethware School from 3-3:30 p. m.; Grover School, 3:45-4:15 p. m.; and West Elementary, 4:30-5 p. m.

The county health department's annual rabies clinics began yesterday and continue through Apr. 22. During the first week the clinics are held in every township and for the second week in the participating veterinarians' offices.

State law requires that all dogs four months of age and over be vaccinated against rabies. Cats are not required to have the shots, but health officials suggest it is a good idea to have them vaccinated since rabies in a bat was diagnosed last year. Dogs not vaccinated are subject to be picked up and taken to the animal shelter. Owners of non-vaccinated dogs face possible fines or imprisonment.

During the first week injections will cost $4. During the in-clinic visits the injections are $5.

Warrant Charges Conner

Don Conner, Jr., 23, of Waco Rd., has been charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill resulting in serious bodily injury to J. V. Sessoms of 106 N. Candler St.

Conner was served with the warrant last week and was released from jail under a $500 bond.

Sessoms accuses Conner of repeatedly stomping and kicking him in a recent incident, stating that he received head injuries and wounds requiring 29 stitches to close.

The warrant does not specify where or when the alleged attack occurred.
