Hayes Has Spent Life On Golf Course

By GARY STEWART Sports Editor

Rudy Hayes was born into golf and 27 years later he's still in it.

The new head pro at Kings Mountain Country Club is the son of Albert Hayes, the caddy master and starter at Blowing Rock Country Club and his uncle, Ernest Hayes of Blowing Rock, now manager of Land Harbors Golf Club and Properties, once was one of North Carolina's finest amateurs.

HAYES working in pro shop at KM Country Club...

Rudy started caddying at Blowing Rock at the age of eight, started playing at the age of nine and when offered an assistant pro's job in 1972 he knew of no better way to spend the rest of his adult life.

"I grew up as a caddy and had playing privileges at Blowing Rock Country Club because I worked there," he said recently while taking a break from a busy day in the KMCC pro shop, "so I guess you could say I was born into golf."

"I guess I'm unique in that I was asked by Bruce Suddreth (now head pro at nearby Gaston Country Club) if I would like an assistant's job. I was 21 years old at the time.

"I had been giving a lot of thought about making golf my profession," he went on. "I grew up in a small town where there was not a whole lot of opportunity and I was looking for something I could do and get away."

Hayes won several high school and college championships, sweeping the Northwestern 3-A Conference prep crown in '68 and the North Carolina Community Colleges championship in '69. He played high school golf at Watauga High near Boone and college golf at Wilkes Community College.

Neisco Industries Leads Little Loop With 6-1 Mark

Neisco Industries defeated Nationwide Insurance Thursday night to run its little league-leading record to 6-1.

Walter Cooper and Jeff Smith combined for a three-hitter, Cooper giving up three hits and fanning two and Smith striking out all three men he faced.

Sisk Hurls 14-4 Victory

Darrell Sisk struck out 10 batters and went 2-for-3 at the plate Tuesday to lead the Red Sox to a 14-4 victory over Macedonia.

Cooper also led the hitting with a home run, two triples and a single. Tommy Batchler added a home run, triple and double, Todd Cloninger had a double and single, Johnny Yarbro two singles, Randy Whitaker a triple, Mike Homesley a double and Tom Rogers and Randy Deaver a single apiece.

David Parker was the losing pitcher. Henderson and Champion led the Macedonia batting attack with 1-for-2 each.

Neisco plays the Lions Club at 6 p. m. tonight at Deal Street Park and plays C & C Metal Friday at 6 p. m.

Riddle Finishes Third In Tennis Tournament

Kings Mountain's Tim Riddle finished in third place in the North Carolina High Schools Athletic Association tennis tournament Wednesday and Thursday at Chapel Hill.

TIM RIDDLE

The talented KMHS senior won straight set matches over Vic Taylor, 6-3 and 6-2, and Ken Whitaker, 6-3, and 6-4, before losing to Chapel Hill's Phil Rayford 4-6, 7-5 and 6-3 in the semi-finals.

Still, Riddle, last year's Western N. C. High Schools Activities Association champion, had the best finish of any 3-A player in the tournament and single-handedly scored more points (8) than any 3-A school in the tournament.

Riddle was seeded number three and Rayford number two. Rayford is the top-ranked 18 year old in North Carolina while Riddle is the number two ranked 18 year old.

Riddle, needless to say, was disappointed that he didn't win the championship which would have made him the only person in the history of North Carolina prep sports to win two state titles in two different associations. But he wasn't disappointed in the way he played.

"Tim really wanted it," noted Coach Ed Guy of the Mountaineers, "but he can still be proud of his accomplishments. He lost out to an outstanding player. Tim certainly made as good a showing as anyone and with a little more luck and endurance could have won it."

Hayes says he is "very fond of teaching golf and I take a very active interest in the junior golfers." He already has scheduled junior and women's clinics in June and he is available at all times for private lessons.

"As far as tournaments," he added, "I hope to promote the present tournaments as much as I can and we're working on an annual pro-am. I'd like for pros from the other area courses to come in and see what good facilities we have."

Hayes plans to play in several tournaments himself, including the North Carolina Open, Carolinas Open and several others. "I don't play as much tournament golf as I'd like," he said, "but I'd like to compete in about six a year."

"Anytime you go that far and play as close a match as he did against Rayford," Guy added, "anyone can win. The best tennis player in the world never went undefeated."

"Tim showed a lot of maturity," continued Guy. "I've seen a lot of players leave the court putting and shouting after losing a close match like that but Tim showed a lot of class. He's one of the most enjoyable people I've ever had the opportunity to work with."

"I wish we could have won it," he went on, "but Tim gave it everything he had. He did the best anybody from Kings Mountain has ever done and I'm real proud of him."
