

Cost Is High For Driving While Drunk

By MIKE SANDERS
Crime Prevention Officer
The Cost is High When Driving Under the Influence.

As the 4th of July Holiday approaches, people will be taking long weekend trips and along with the pleasure comes the not-so-pleasant drunken drivers, which can cause suffering, embarrassment and worry along with hardships.

Thousands of people — not limited to drivers — but including children, pedestrians, non-drinking drivers and innocent passengers are injured (maybe permanently) or killed because of the inconsiderate drunk driver. The problem drinker and driver cause much embarrassment not only to themselves but to their families, friends and employers. Consequently, much valuable time is used by the police and courts. Thanks to the drunk driver, insurance rates rise for everyone.

Then comes the loss of the driving privilege. This can cause extreme difficulty and a hardship as far as the financial end is concerned and also limits the ability to hold down certain jobs.

"So What" you say. If you know you are going to be the "man behind the wheel," Think — Don't Drink.

However, if you intend to drink — here are a few pointers that may help to save your life or some innocent person's life.

Have something on your stomach to slow down the rate of absorption.

Sip your drink — don't gulp — give your body time to handle it.

Know what you are drinking and how strong it is — how soon can you expect the alcohol to hit?

Set your limit and stick to it.

Stop in time so your body will have a chance to reduce alcohol to a safe level before you drive.

Be honest with yourself! If you know you have drunk to much — Be Smart — Don't Drive! If you are really going to be honest with yourself and you know that you plan to drink, take along a driver or better still — Stay at Home! The life you kill or save may be a member of your own immediate family.

PARAMENTS ARE DEDICATED — Rev. Robert Boggan dedicated four sets of paraments which enhance the pulpit area of Central United Methodist Church during Sunday worship services. The gifts were from four church families in honor of loved ones.

Paraments Dedicated

Four sets of Paraments, including Bible markers and pulpit antependia, were dedicated Sunday during the worship hour at Central United Methodist Church and formally presented to the congregation.

The gifts also included a clerical stole for the minister to wear which matched the white, purple, green and red sets which are changed each liturgical season and enhance the pulpit area of the sanctuary.

Rev. Robert Boggan accepted the gifts for the congregation and dedicated them during the morning service.

The white set was gift of Betty and Jim Potter in memory of their fathers, J. P. Potter and F. M.

Kenney.

The green set was gift of the Young Adult Sunday School Class in honor of Pastor and Mrs. Robert Boggan.

The purple set was gift of Jake and Dot Dixon in honor of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bun E. Goforth and Rev. and Mrs. Kelly Dixon.

Jim Bumgardner Earns Award

Jim Earl Bumgardner of Route 4, a Scout in Troop 91 of Kings Mountain, chartered by St. Matthews Lutheran Church has earned the World Conservation Award announced Michael Wright, District Executive of the Battleground District of the Piedmont Council.

The award is made by the World Wildlife Fund of Washington, D. C. through the Boy Scouts of America and recognizes achievement in environmental improvement, natural resource conservation, and an understanding of world conservation problems.

The purpose of the award is to point out to young people that countries of the world are closely interrelated through natural resources and that we in this country are interdependent with our world environment.

To win this award, Scout Bumgardner earned Conservation and Environmental skill awards, merit badges in Environmental Science, Soil and Water Conservation, Fish and Wildlife Management, and Citizenship in the World.

Shelby Art League Sponsors Photo Show

The Shelby Art League will sponsor its First Annual Regional Juried Photography Show, July 3-14 at the Shelby Gallery in the Daily Star building, 315 East Graham Shelby. A total of $1,200 in awards will be given.

Robert Doty, Director of the Currier Gallery of Art in Manchester, New Hampshire, will be juror of the show. He is the author of Photography in America: 1850-1965 and is a former staff member of the Whitney Museum of American Art in New York and the Victoria and Albert Museum in London, as well as a number of other galleries and museums in this country.

The gallery will be open on June 29 from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. for hand delivered entries. Entries have been invited from throughout North and South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee and Virginia. The show will be limited to 400 entries, no more than three from one person. Further information on entries is available from Buddy Guffey, 501 N. Morgan St., Shelby.

Specific awards are: First prize: $400; Second prize: $300; Third prize: $200; two Honorable Mentions: $50 each; Single best color: $100; Single Best black and white, $100.

The Shelby Art League receives support from North Carolina Grass roots Art Fund, a state agency.

On Mon., July 3 from 8 to 10 p. m., a preview reception will be held for members of the Art League. The exhibit will be open to the public from July 4 through 14 from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. and 2 to 5 p. m. on Sunday.

Suggestions Are Wanted By Group

Citizens of Kings Mountain with ideas and suggestions on improving North Carolina's system of juvenile justice are encouraged to attend one of the ten public hearings to be sponsored by the North Carolina Juvenile Code Revision Committee during the month of July.

Hearings have been scheduled in Charlotte, Asheville, Raleigh, Hickory, Winston-Salem, Fayetteville, Wilmington, Elizabeth City and Kinston. Each public hearing will begin at 2:00 p. m. and recess at 5:00 p. m., then resume at 7:00 p. m. and conclude at 9:00 p. m. The hearings have been scheduled for both the afternoon and evening to give all citizens an opportunity to voice their opinions.

The Juvenile Code Revision Committee, a group of fifteen persons, was appointed by Governor Jim Hunt in April 1977, to review the state's juvenile justice system and to make recommendations for improving it.

Chaired by Judge George F. Bason of Raleigh, the committee has come up with some tentative recommendations but is hoping to get some ideas and suggestions from citizens who have had experiences with the present system.

Topics expected to be discussed include such concepts as agency organization, services for the undisciplined child, law enforcement procedures, child abuse and neglect, authority of the court over parents, and the training of juvenile justice professionals.

Persons wishing to speak at one of the hearings should write Ms. Sarah F. Patterson at the Department of Crime Control and Public Safety, Post Office Box 27887, in Raleigh or call her at area code (919) 733-5013.

Events Scheduled

Independence Day events are scheduled all day Tuesday at Kings Mountain Country Club beginning with a Family Scotch Foursome at 9 a. m. on the golf course. The Women's Golf Association is hosting the event.

A Couple's Foursome will tee off at 4:30 p. m.

Events for all the family will be featured, including horseshoe pitching, tennis, swimming, and picnicking, the latter which will round out the day of festivities with supper around the pool.

Rev. Gary Bryant and David Smith are co-chairman of the program events of the day.

Both lunch at noon and dinner at 7 p. m. will be served on Tuesday and reservations should be made by calling the clubhouse.

Special events are slated on Sunday with a swimming competition beginning at 2 p. m. for pre-schoolers through ninth grade. A water show by youth of the community will follow the competition.

A tennis match between parents and children will get underway at 7 p. m. on Sunday.
