

3 Area Water

Systems Suspect

The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) sent notification Wednesday that two Kings Mountain and one Bessemer City water systems are not up to par.

The EPA statement, quoting John C. White, EPA regional administrator of Atlanta, named Stinnett Acres of Bessemer City, Armtext, Inc. and Bethlehem Development of Kings Mountain.

White said, "When Congress passed the Safe Drinking Water Act, it underscored its belief that the public has a right to know the quality of the water it drinks by requiring public notification whenever safe limits are not met."

White said the three local systems failed the bacteriological limit in December and "have not advised EPA or the North Carolina Department of Human Resources that proper public notice was given."

Stinnett Acres, Armtext and the Bethlehem Development communities supply residents water from deep wells. Of the three, only Stinnett Acres, a mobile home park adjacent to Northwoods Subdivision, is in the Kings Mountain one-mile perimeter. Armtext is located on Sparrow Springs Rd. near Crowders Mountain. Bethlehem Development, a residential community, is located on the Bethlehem Rd. west of Buffalo Creek.

None of the three areas have any connection with the City of Kings Mountain water system.

Jack Hunt Is Named To

Tax Laws Committee

Representative Jack Hunt of Lattimore has been appointed to a special legislative group to consider changes in the State inheritance tax laws.

Hunt's appointment to the House Finance Committee's Subcommittee on the Inheritance Tax was announced by Finance Committee Chairman John R. Gamble, Jr., of Lincoln County.

Hunt pledged to work for the removal of any unfair or punitive provisions in the inheritance tax laws.

Commenting on his appointment to the select subcommittee, he said:

"For some months my people in the 40th House District have talked to me about inheritance tax laws in North Carolina. Surprisingly enough, these are people of average and modest means — small farmers, small businessmen and homeowners — who have led industrious and prudent lives, only to discover, upon the death of their spouse, that the inheritance tax laws are a serious factor to be reckoned with," he said.

"These laws appear to me to be outmoded. Several bills have been introduced relating to inheritance taxes and some of them appear to be good bills with considerable merit," Hunt continued. "It is my hope that the subcommittee can take the best, or a combination of the best, of these bills and bring to the Finance Committee a favorable report that will be in the best interests of all concerned."

Revels To Speak

Larry Revels, of the Cleveland County Civil Defense Department, will be guest speaker at Thursday night's meeting of Unit 155 of the American Legion Auxiliary at 7:30 p. m. at the American Legion Building.

Mr. Revels will speak on program on "National Security" which is arranged by Mrs. Furman Wilson.

Co-hostesses will be Mrs.

J. E. Mauney, Mrs. Nola Morrow, Mrs. Margaret Thomas and Mrs. O. O. Walker.

Reports from team captains in the recent Mother's March on Birth Defects project, the annual March of Dimes campaign, will be presented.

ROTARY PROGRAM

Stanley E. Green, author and lecturer, retired and living in Boiling Springs, will speak to the Kings Mountain Rotary Club today on his "Kinnakeet Adventure." Charles Alexander arranged the program. The club meets at noon at the country club.

SUNDAY PROGRAM

4-Her Will Show Films On Tuesday

Kevin Bridges, a leader in Dixon Community 4-H Club, will show a film "Moon Landing, Apollo 11," to feature the program at Tuesday night's meeting of Dixon 4-H Club Tuesday night at 7:30 p. m. at Dixon Presbyterian Church.

The meeting is being rescheduled for Tuesday, instead of Monday, to show the special program, said Mrs. Frances Greene.

Mrs. Greene said the program should be especially meaningful to young people born in 1969 and older young people who remember the date of the moon landing. Last of the Apollo space ship program was to be launched the latter part of January with the year 1979 beginning a new era in space with the space shuttle which can be used over and over again and targeted for launching in September.

Mrs. Greene said that visitors are welcome to attend the program.

Robbie Wells is 4-H club president.
