

Hunt, Riley Invited To Meeting

Mayor John H. Moss has invited the governors of North and South Carolina to attend a Bicentennial planning meeting here Friday morning.

In his letter, Mayor Moss said this is "a very important meeting to begin formulating plans for" the 200th celebration of The Battle of Kings Mountain on Oct. 7, 1880. Among those invited are Rep. James Broyhill of North Carolina and Rep. Ken Holland of South Carolina, representatives from both Bicentennial commissions from both states, The National Park Service, the N.C. and S.C. Departments of Parks, Recreation and Tourism and the Overmountain Victory Trail associates. The mayor said he did not know whether Gov.

Jim Hunt or Gov. Richard Riley will attend in person or will send representatives to the 10:30 a.m. meeting at city hall.

Grover Prayer Day Friday

World Day of Prayer service will be held at Shiloh Presbyterian Church in Grover at 12 noon with Dr. Olin Whitener, Jr., pastor, to lead the service.

TREASURER IS HONORED—The Rev. Bob Boggan and Rev. Kelly Dixon flank Ben F. Beam, who was honored for his years as treasurer of Central United Methodist Church last Sunday. Rev. Dixon, leader of the Davis Bible Class, said the class initiated the honor ceremony.

Ben Beam: Dedicated, Dependable

Central United Methodist Church honored its treasurer in a special ceremony last Sunday morning.

Ben F. Beam has served as treasurer of the church for twenty-three years, and has seen the church budget grow from approximately $33,000 when he took the job in 1956 to its present level of $128,000.

Rev. Bob Boggan, pastor of the church, commented that "Ben Beam is one of the most dedicated, conscientious, efficient, and dependable church treasurers in all of Methodism." In these days of tight money, a treasurer like Ben Beam "takes the worry out of being close."

He has seen the church through two major building programs, and just one month ago he paid off two bank notes, thereby freeing all of the church buildings of all that "Ben Beam is one of

Members of the Davis Bible Class under the leadership of their teacher, the Rev. Kelly Dixon, initiated the plan to honor Mr. Beam. The class provided a beautiful bronze plaque for the honor, and the presentation was made by Kelly Dixon during the morning worship service. The plague is to be permanently displayed in the narthex of the church.

The congregation responded to the presentation with a thunderous applause, a genuine affirmation of the honor bestowed on this quiet Christian gentleman and unselfish servant of the Lord.

Central Students Plan Two One-Act Plays

Central School Sixth and Seventh Graders are busy rehearsing two one-act plays they will present April 6th at 8 p.m. in Central Auditorium.

The plays are "The Dear Departed" and "The King Who Hated Birthdays." Cary Osborn and Carol Parker are directing the productions and advance tickets are on sale from students at 50 cents each. Admission at the door will be $1.

Drama presentations are another step in the school's efforts to achieve Southern Association accreditation.

Members of the cast of "The King Who Hated Birthdays" are King Hector, Jimmy Moretz, with Dale Putnam as alternate; Todd Gossett as the Prime Minister with David Stillier as alternate; April Hoyle as Flora with Kim Garris as alternate; Paige Mauney as Baker with Mandi Byers as alternate; Kevin Weaver as Jack with Tony Horn as alternate; and David Parker as the palace guard.

Members of the cast of "Dear Departed" are Julie Yarborough as Mrs. Slater with Lynn Putnam as alternate; Jennifer Stewart as Victoria with Liza Blanton as alternate; Audrey Bell as Mrs. Jordan with Melissa Lovett as alternate; David Dingus as Mr. Slater with Allen Welch as alternate; and Mark Davis as Abel with Guy Sipes as alternate.

Students were assigned roles in the two plays via try-outs.
